CONFEDERATE SURVIVORS' ASSOCIATION OF NORTH CAROLINA.

At a meeting of the executive committee held in the city of Raleigh, on the 15th inst., the following code of by-laws was adopted for the government of the Association:

BY-LAWS. To aid in collecting and preserving the material for a truthful history of the late war between the Confederate States and the United States of America...

1. The name of this organization shall be the "Confederate Survivors' Association of North Carolina." 2. The officers of this association shall be a president, one vice-president, one secretary, one treasurer, and two for the State at large...

3. Persons who served honorably in the army or navy of the Confederate States, or who were honorably discharged therefrom, shall be eligible to membership in this association. 4. Application for membership may be made to the secretary in accordance with a printed form to be prepared by him...

5. The annual meeting shall be held on Thursday of the State Agricultural Fair, in the city of Raleigh, or at such other time and place as may be selected in general meeting. 6. Persons eligible to membership in this association, resident in any county of the State, may organize themselves into a county society...

7. A form of badge to be worn by members of the association, and the use of the same by individual members shall be entirely optional. 8. No change of these by-laws shall be made except upon a two-thirds vote of the members present in general meeting.

The following address was issued: RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 7, 1881. To the Confederate Soldiers and Sailors of North Carolina: COMRADES:—At the late reunion of old Confederate soldiers, held in Raleigh on the 13th of October last, the following resolutions, amongst others, were adopted:

Resolved, That a permanent organization of the ex-Confederate soldiers and sailors of North Carolina be made under the name and style of "The Society of ex-Confederate Soldiers and Sailors of North Carolina." Resolved, That the officers of the society consist of a president, ten vice-presidents (one from each Congressional district and two from the State at large) and a secretary, who shall be treasurer.

Resolved, That the president appoint an executive committee of five to manage the affairs of the society during the first year, of which he shall be chairman. Resolved, That the society meet at least once in each year, and that said meeting be held during Thursday of the week selected for holding the State fair, and at such other times as the president may select.

Resolved, That the first duty of the executive committee be to adopt suitable by-laws for the society, and have printed for distribution to applicants an explanatory address setting forth the objects of the organization. The following officers were then elected for the ensuing year: For president, J. Green, Fayetteville; vice-presidents, W. F. Roberts; 2nd district, J. E. Porter; 3rd district, C. J. Harris; 4th district, Joseph J. Davis; 5th district, C. B. Watson; 6th district, R. T. Bennett; 7th district, Wm. Overman; 8th district, Theodor F. Davidson. Secretary, W. F. Beasley and Sherwood Badger; L. L. Polk, Raleigh, secretary and treasurer.

In discharge of the first duty imposed, the undersigned executive committee submit the following remarks in explanation of the aims and objects of the society: Free from secret or mystic rites, it is nevertheless designed as a bond of brotherhood in peace between those who, actuated by high impulse and godly aim in war, were banded together as brothers. The bond of a common danger in a common cause is the strongest artificial tie which can bind men together in peace. The object of the resolution upon is intended to perpetuate the ties then established, so long as a handful of old veterans remain.

It is a tacit proclamation to friend and foe that the cause, though lost, was not dishonored; nor will the memory of it, even in opprobrious epithet, ever mantle with shame the cheeks of those who espoused it trustfully and upheld it faithfully. It is an earnest, too, that our children and ours will not blush at the memory of "rebellion." Were nothing more to be accomplished, this last year sufficient to commend it to your enthusiastic support.

It has in its scope the compiling and preserving of the war record of a State which, if properly written, would place her foremost in the front rank of her battle-scarred sisters. Does modesty forbid its being known? Modesty has ever been the besetting sin of North Carolina. For will the memory of her make history to defraud their posterity of an ancestral glory to which they are justly entitled for the want of a proper self-assertion or the omission to claim. It further contemplates the collection and preservation among its archives and records of individual, regimental, brigade and division instances of devotion, self-abnegation and daring. It is, in a word, designed to be the "Hall of Honor" of the State, as the humble head-stones of battle-fled graves constitute that of the dead.

We trust, comrades, that the objects set forth and which are but partial, will be sufficient to enlist your active cooperation in the movement. The initial move on the 13th of October was a grand success, both as to numbers and enthusiasm; but it is hoped that at the next reunion on Thursday of the next State fair, there will be thousands where there were hundreds at the last. The roster should by next October include the name of every Confederate soldier and sailor in the States of honorably discharged and present company. These will be inscribed under proper headings, in a register to be provided for the purpose. Company officers are requested to lend their assistance in aid of the raising of their respective commands. Field, staff and general officers of course will not require it. As a matter of public interest, papers throughout the State friendly to the project will please copy a copy of by-laws of the association. It will be furnished at an early day upon application. Badge of regiment will be supplied to members calling for them at our next reunion. Fraternally, Wm. J. Green, President.

Under the resolution adopted, as above, the following gentlemen are appointed an executive committee: R. H. Battle, Jr., R. A. Showell, E. R. Stamps, Thos. S. Kenan, L. L. Polk, Secretary, President. State papers please copy.

Deformed Humanity. A curious specimen of humanity greeted our eyes Monday morning at the Hotel, there waiting the Exchange Hotel, there waiting the Exchange Hotel, there waiting the Exchange Hotel...

Gen. Steedman, of Toledo, Ohio, was asked by an interviewer: "Do you think Arthur is working to be his own successor in the Presidential chair?" "I most certainly do, and I hope he will be the man put by the Republicans."

"Because he is the only man whom the Democrats can beat." "I reason this way, and I earnestly believe it right. In this country there are several hundred thousand good Republicans who loved Garfield, and they believe in their hearts that Garfield was murdered to place Arthur where he now is, and none of these will vote for a man who holds that office by reason of such an awful calamity. I honestly believe this to be true and am not afraid to say so. Understand me, I do not say that the stalwarts had anything to do with the murder, but I do say that down deep in the hearts of thousands of Republicans that thought and feeling exists. Will such men vote for Arthur? Never! I repeat it, Arthur will be beaten if he is nominated, and he is the only man that the Democratic party can beat."

A Daring Leap. Mr. Harseberg is a young German who lately came to Milton from New York and took charge of Salzman's dairy shop. He is a tall, dark, young man, but active and bold, and is a great hunter. He hunts altogether at night, with a bulleye lantern he pins to his breast and goes out with his dog. But the other day he was in Danville where he had gone horseback for medicine for his wife, and returning about midnight he was caught this side of the river at Milton, the night as dark as pitch, and the swollen river raging and rolling in front. The Dan river there is about two hundred yards wide. He called and called to the ferryman, but the river was too bold and the night too dark to go to him, so he deliberately dismounted, took off his overcoat and fixed it to the saddle, put his spectacles in his pocket, and mounting his horse leaped recklessly into the river. For some time he knew how to swim the horse by keeping his head turned upstream, and remarkable to say, made the trip, striking the bank on the other side all right. He seems to think nothing of it; says he has swam seven miles at one time in his life. But it was a most daring and dangerous venture.

Death Under Peculiar Circumstances. Monroe Express. Mr. Joseph Terrell, the son of Mr. J. M. Terrell, of James Creek township, met his death, on Thursday, the 23d of December, under the following peculiar circumstances: A little child had been buried in the graveyard at Philadelphia church, and Mr. Terrell, with a number of other persons, was engaged in enclosing the grave to protect it. It seems that he was carrying a couple of poles, one on each shoulder, when he was tripped by some brush, and fell, his head or neck striking upon one of the poles and the other pole striking him upon the head, dislocating his neck. He was dead before the persons who were working around him got to him. Mr. Terrell was about 25 years of age. He had been married about two years, and leaves a wife and one child, besides many friends and relatives to mourn his loss.

A Resurrection. Jacksonville, January 8.—An application was made last night to the United States Circuit court on behalf of Francis Frank, of New York, for an injunction restraining the sale to Elmer of the Florida Central Railroad under a decree of the Supreme Court of the United States. The motion was resisted by Wayne MacVeach and C. D. Willard for the bondholders, who hold the decree. Judge Settle denied the motion without leaving the bench and the sale will probably take place as advertised.
