FRIDAY, JAN. 27, 1882.

STATE NEWS.

Greensboro Bugle: Mr. S. G. Dodson has left High Point and secured a permanent situation with the railroad at this point.

T. C. Callum left this morning for Washington, D. C., where he has a position with the Union Telegraph Company.

Mr. R. G. Callum is manager of this company.

Houston & Bros., grocers, are cultivating the guessing talent of the denizens of Greensboro by offering rewards to the one who will guess the number of peas in a jar, or come the nearest to it.

Wilmington Star: We learn that as the gate to the residence, a few nights since, she was suddenly seized by the throat by a burly individual, who had approached her unawares, and choked with one hand while he held the other with the other, with the view of taking whatever money she might have about her. Fortunately, the lady had left her valuables at home, and the disappointed miserer finally released her and went on his way.

There are a number of strange characters here, both white and colored, who, we hope, will sharply be looked after by the police.

Winston Sentinel: Three story brick buildings will be erected on the burnt block as soon as material can be obtained and necessary arrangements completed.

C. A. Reynolds, of Rockingham county, has resigned his position as collector, and in connection with W. Reynolds, of Guilford county, in the manufacture of tobacco.

We are informed that a case of small pox has made its appearance in the Box Mountain settlement, near the Stokes and Forsyth line.

Chicken pox is reported on a boom among both old and young in the lower portion of the county.

Hog cholera is thinning out porkers to some extent in Farmington and Smith Grove neighborhoods.

One C. G. Page, citizen John C. Wood, stole a horse from a citizen of this county, and is now in the Witleville (Va.) jail, awaiting a requisition from the Governor of this State.

Contractors are at work on many orders on file for new buildings and when gently spring opens fully, the wings of our little city will spread and the interior improve in a very rapid manner.

Greensboro Patriot: A negro was killed at Beidley the other day by the accidental discharge of a pistol in the hands of James Dilworth.

Mr. Victor Barringer left last night for Richmond and New York, where he goes to form business connections.

There were 28 cases of small pox in Greensboro in the year 1851-'52. Out of this number only 4 proved fatal. Dr. Porter attended all the cases, and thinks the result was due to vaccination.

Lumberton Robesonian: "A man with a gun upon his shoulder," created a good deal of surprise upon our streets last Sunday week. It was Mr. Luke Cartwright in search of his daughter.

We regret to learn that Mr. Breckenridge Comely, son of Maj. J. A. A. Comely, of Lumberton, was killed in a fight with a young horse last Friday morning with almost fatal results.

Raleigh News and Observer: Dr. Robert E. Walker has been appointed by Judge McCoy to be clerk of the superior court of Carteret county, in place of James Ramsey, deceased.

The following sheriffs yesterday settled with the State Treasurer the taxes due by their respective counties: Jno. K. Hughes, Orange, $5,339.29; M. E. Alexander, Mecklenburg, $21,188.82; Sheriff W. F. Shaw, Yadkin county, yesterday placed in the penitentiary M. H. Howell, white, under sentence of one year, for larceny.

The hurricane or cyclone of April, 1877, blew down more than twenty trees in the capitol square. Since that time about six others have yielded to the force of storms. Yesterday one of the largest trees in the square, standing near the north gate, was blown about one o'clock, with a crash, destroying as it fell a beautiful magnolia and some shrubbery. The tree was dead and its roots much decayed.

Julius A. Gray, Esq., president of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad, is in the city, on business connected with that road. To-day the Governor's council will meet to consider the arrangements which have been signed by Dr. Caneel and returned to the Governor by Mr. Gray will call a meeting of the stockholders as soon as the council acts, and such meeting will probably be held at Fayetteville in ten or fifteen days.

A Virginia Bride Rescues her Husband.

A letter from Culpeper dated the 14th instant says: One day last week Mrs. Douglass Vass, a bride of two weeks, by her coolness and courage saved the life probably of her husband, and herself, as well as their team. The rains and snows of the last few days have made many of the rivers and creek fords very dangerous crossings. Mr. Vass and his wife, who was a Miss Brandt, daughter of Culpeper, were attempting to cross the Rappahannock, at Beverley's ford, in a two-horse wagon, and when near the middle of the river they were overtaken by a current from the ford and down the dangerous stream. The couple became unfastened, they were in a perilous situation, and the gentleman, losing his presence of mind, endeavored to leap into the river. As he had on his overcoat he would have in all probability been drowned, but the lady caught him with one hand and with the other guided the horse to a point near the shore, where the wagon hung up. Then, insisting on his remaining and looking after the horses, she leaped into the stream, swam ashore, and went a mile to Mr. Cunningham's, the nearest house, for assistance, which in an hour or two was procured, and the half-drowned and frozen man, with his team, were rescued.

The Prosperity of Manufacturers of Machinery.

The American Machinist published letters from fifty-five of the leading machinery establishments throughout the country, which indicate the present condition of business, and the progress made in 1881, and the prospects for 1882. The letters are all cheerful. There is scarcely an exception to the claim that manufactures of machinery are everywhere in a flourishing business, and the outlook for the coming year is considered promising. Most of the firms report orders for months in advance, compelling an increase of equipment. The machine-tool builders are apprehensive that they will be unable to fill within a reasonable time the many requisitions already on file. "Engine-builders are pressed to deliver their motors and steam-pump manufacturers are enlarging their facilities to meet the increasing demand." Not the least gratifying feature of the situation is seen in the advancing of mechanical engineering, the largest establishments reporting an average increase during the past year of fifteen per cent. "Taken altogether," says the Machinist, "the outlook for the machinery business this year is about as good as could be wished."

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful improvidence, suffering from the effects of a venereal disease, having failed in vain to cure himself, discovered a simple and sure remedy, which he has since given to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

Items of Interest.

More than 100 saloons of Omaha have been closed.

Pensacola, Fla., has voted against repudiating her ante-bellum debt, and recently paid $30,000 of it.

Six hundred and one convicts in the Arkansas penitentiary. Over 100 of the number are ailing.

Capitalists have made a proposition to build a new canal between Ringgold, Tenn., if the citizens take a portion of the stock.

Mr. James Williamson, aged seventy-six, was married at Hawkinsville, Ga., a few days ago, to Mrs. Polly Burnham, aged sixty-six. The groom's son, who is fifty years old, performed the ceremony.

Germany has 3,250 co-operative associations, of which 1,895 are loan or credit societies, people's banks, etc. 674 industrial societies, 645 stores for the sale of goods, and 36 building societies. As far as can be learned these banks are managed by the co-operative stores. The industrial associations are not very prosperous.

Black, the novelist, is thus satirized by the London World: "Hech, mon, but I'm wee Willie Black, frae Aberdeen, inventor of the grand art of filling three words with no story, only a great hashin' to gather of scenic descriptions and Gaelic names. Ye ken hoo it's done? Eh, but it's braw work and makes the siller!"

Mr. Strickland Kneass, the retiring president of the Engineers' Club of Philadelphia, at a meeting Saturday evening, presented a proposition of engineering works in this country, Mexico, Europe and Asia, showing that Mexico is rapidly rising in the scale of nations by introducing internal improvements in the shape of extensive railroads and telegraph lines. He predicted a prosperous future for that country.

Of the whole population of New York city of 1,206,272, the native-born are shown to number 727,629, of whom 708,677 are white and 18,952 colored. The foreign non-residents number 378,670, of whom 27,797 are English, 15,849 Scotch, 12,223 Italian, and the rest scattered.

Dressed as women usually are, the less exercise they take the better for their health. In fact, they are seldom fit to stand erect or walk a block, but should be trained from childhood to carry the palatine. Not one woman in ten thousand has room inside her clothes for the rise and fall of the ribs in breathing; not one in ten thousand whose vital organs are not cramped by external pressure, and while this is so the less exercise the better.—Jane Swissheim.

The South's Advantage.

Wilmington Star.

More and more it is being realized in the North that in the matter of cotton milling the South has all the advantage over that great manufacturing section. The Rochester (N. Y.) Herald says: "It is stated that the cost of placing a year's cotton crop in the New England market is $108,000,000, of which over $30,000,000 is paid for freight and insurance. Is it any wonder that Southern cotton factories are prosperous, when by working up the product of their fields at less cost than it can be done in Massachusetts or Rhode Island, and selling their cloth at their doors, they can save more than one-half of the total expense mentioned above, or say $15,000,000."

A Southern mill has the advantage in raw material alone of more than one cent a pound. It is in fact nearly two cents. In a bale of 500 pounds a Southern mill starts with at least $8 the advantage. Labor is cheaper than in the North. Why then shall not Southern cotton manufacturing flourish? It does flourish, and every few weeks a new mill begins operations. The Southern cotton mill campaign has just begun.

Fire in Mississippi.

HAZLEBURST, Miss., Jan. 19.—Fire Tuesday night burned five buildings; loss $21,000 partially insured. Print Matthews' loss $12,000 on store and goods, insured $6,000. P. H. Hogg's store and stock $4,000, insurance $3,000. Other losses $5,000, insurance unknown.

H. T. LUPTON, Prof. Chemistry.

Darby's Prophylactic Fluid purifies a foul atmosphere, destroying the infectious germs, gives relief and comfort to the sick and protection from contagion to those nursing. In all cases of small pox, scarlet fever, etc., its use will stop the spread of infection.
