Baldwin, the defaulting cashier of the Newark bank has gone to prison for fifteen years. As shrewd a chap as he is will probably be running the penitentiary before he is there long.

Rev. Dr. Henry Bellows, who died recently in New Yoak, was the pastor of All-Soul's church since 1839, and one of the most distinguished Unitarian divines in this country.

A recent investigation showed that the Pennsylvania Railroad carried from fifty to sixty dead-heads on every train to the capital. The consequence has rectified, and those guilty of the abuses removed from the positions which they occupy. If false then it is due to the officers in question that the falsity te shown and theseo fficers vindicated. For the sake of both the government and the accused it is right and proper The House hears Stephens' Coinage that an investigation be had and the truth established. This can hurt no guilty, and they upon whom the charges either directly or indirectly lie should be among the first to invite investigation, at least they or their political friends should not oppose it. Opposition bears upon its face the suspicion that investigation is dreaded, whether it is or not. We cannot see, as Mr. Hoar asserts, that the proposed investigation is any reflection on the Secretary Wilmington consoles herself for the of the Treasury, nor can we see any one who advocates it. Guiteau's petition for funds to enable him to carry his case on in the courts has been supplemented by a similar appeal from his counsel and brother-inlaw, Scoville. Scoville has had a hard time of it, an unenviable and a thankless task, defending a poor, miserable wretch who is looked upon with abhorrence by all, doing it, too, from the love he bears his wife, the sister of the convicted criminal, who still clings to him, though bloodstained, loathed and exe-

The South Carolina flouse has defeated a proposition for a constitutional convention, and passed a constitutional amendment extending the terms of State and county officers and members of the Legislature to four years.

It's all very nice to be an emperor, but when a fellow has to get some one to chew his food for him to avoid being poisoned, and remain shut up in the house afraid somebody will knock him on the head when he goes out, it ain't near as funny as one might suppose.

Peter Ray who died last Saturday in New York was for eighty-three years an employe in Lorillard's tobacco factory. At the time of his death he was superintendent of the snuff department. By industry and economy he had amassed a fortune of $100,000.

There were 1,756 races run during the season of 1881 and the gross amount of money that changed hands was $987,-284, of which $811,935 was won in the United States. These figures give some idea of the growing magnitude and importance of the Turf Exchange.

A curious suit for damages is to be brought against a St. Louis doctor. It seems that after a post mortem examination recently made on the body of a deceased woman, and when preparations were about to be made for her interment, the heart was missing. It was traced to the doctor who made the autopsy, and he is now to be sued for having stolen it.

Atlanta Constitution: From a census tulletin just issued it is seen that Atlanta is credited with a population of 37,409, a gain of 15.620 over the census of 1870. DECLINES THE OFFER.

Mr. John Dillon, member of Parliament, confined in prison as one of the Irish "suspects," was offered his freedom by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland on condition that he would leave the country and sent back the following manly reply: "I have received your message that if I desire to go to the conlinent the gates of Kilmainham prison are open to me. I do not know why the message was sent to me, as I have at any postal money order office, lawful no credit to those who participate in it. The men who out of levity or malice send him bogus checks, photographs of the gallows, hangman's noose, and other offensive testimonials are in truth but little better than savages. These taunt, gibe, humiliate, ridicule, torture their manacled captive and dance a war-dance around him before they fire the fagots which are to consume the victim, but civilized people do not act that way. The savage knows no better, the man raised in a land where civilization, intelligence and christianizing influences prevail, should know better. Guiteau is, and has been, in the hands of the law, subject to its demands, has been tried in accordance with its commands and provisions, and by the verdict of twelve of his impartial fellow-citizens, found guilty of murder, the penalty of which is death, should there be no intervention. This should satisfy even those who demand more than justice-vengeance-and should suppress the spirit that would inflict unmanly insult and torture on one, who, though base criminal he be, is prostrate and powerless to resent. He may be insane, and if so this trifling is even worse, but, sane or insane, this conduct towards him, coming from grown men supposed to be in the possession of their senses, is contemptible and shameful. He has earned the gallows as the penalty of his horrible crime, and if he be hanged let him go to eternity without any further unbecoming and barbarous exhibitions of eagle.
