HOME CHIPLETS.

Not a little like March yesterday. To-day is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. Postal cards that have been spoiled while in the hands of private parties cannot be redeemed at the postoffice.

To-day is the anniversary of the birth-day of the father of his country. It is observed as a legal holiday by the banks everywhere else except in Charlotte.

To-night the formal opening of the new skating rink will take place. A band of music will be on hand, and the management intend to have a regular high time generally.

Burglars entered McArledge's wholesale liquor house on College street Saturday night or Sunday morning and stole what money was in the till - a small amount. They gained an entrance through the back door by means of a pick axe.

Rev. N. M. Woods, the new pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, has made a splendid impression upon his new congregation and others who have attended his sermons.

At the prize skating at Hargraves & Wilhelm's rink night before last the skates were won by Miss Minnie Asbury and Mr. Walter Taylor.

A passer-by the deserted floral hall at the fair grounds heard an extraordinary racket inside and had some faint idea that it was haunted until on investigation he found a number of small boys using it for a skating rink.

Married Men's Masquerade. The married men's masquerade ball at the Central last night was the biggest success and the most enjoyable affair of the season.

Case of Accidental Shooting. Further particulars concerning the report of the accidental shooting and killing of a colored boy at Caldwell station by a companion.

Humpty Dumpty. The Humpty Dumpty Comicalities as presented at the opera house last night, for a combination of rollicking, mirth provoking scenes would be hard to beat.

Inferior Court. The following cases have been disposed of in the Inferior Court: Wm. Balock, assault and battery, submitted; judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

James J. Williams, same as above. Jas. Ludmun, forcible trespass, submitted; judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

James B. Peepman, same as above. E. C. Williams, same. J. Walter Kirkpatrick, assault and battery, guilty; penny and costs.

Leander Grier, colored, assault, submitted; judgment suspended upon payment of costs. David Norment, retailing spirituous liquors within corporate limits of Caldwell church; not guilty.

James Burris, colored, carrying concealed weapons; judgment not pronounced. Robert Bowers, larceny, guilty; five years in the penitentiary.

Signal Service Classification.

The signal service weather reports have come to be looked after with much interest by a good many who they have proved to be almost invariably good indications of the condition of the weather for 24 hours ahead.

Postal cards that have been spoiled while in the hands of private parties cannot be redeemed at the postoffice. Mr. Sandy Childs, of well remembered C. M. I. reminiscences, is in the city, accompanied by his lovely bride.

Since the resignation of Mr. S. L. Sherrill, Mr. J. H. Thompson has been appointed postmaster at Mt. Mourne, N. C. Rev. O. F. Gregory will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening.

Sugar Creek is stirred up on the subject of mad dogs. Some of the inhabitants say it is almost epidemic in the neighborhood. Mr. Charley Taylor, a Cabarrus county man, turned $5 into the city treasury yesterday morning at the mayor's court. Drunk and disorderly.
