Vance's Tariff Speech.

The Wilmington Star says a "well known Baltimore gentleman writes us that he happens to know that Senator Vance has received many hundreds of letters from all parts of the countrynorth, west, south-west, and south, approving heartily his recent great speech on the tariff, and pronouncing it the best speech ever made on the subject." All of which means that the effort of our townsman is regarded by the public as above the average Senatorial

An Unprecedented Increase.

Since the first number of "At Home and Abroad" was published in Charlotte, in December, the circulation of this excellent magazine has increased about nine hundred copies, a fact which must be exceedingly gratifying to the editors, as well as to all who feel the necessity for a Southern literature of superior merit, which is Southern in fact as well as in name. "At Home and Abroad" has perhaps been the most successful enterprise of its kind that has been undertaken in the South in the past twenty years, and its prospects for the future are bright indeed. Much care, expense and labor is expended on the work, and it is gratifying that the efforts put forth are meeting with such signal success. The very fact that its prosperity is constantly increasing is a strong testimonial as to the ability with which it is conducted.

The Late Dr. Brantly.

In Tuesday's OBSERVER appeared a brief announcement of the death of Rev. W. T. Brantly, of Baltimore. As the deceased was well-known throughout the country, and especially in this city, where he had relatives, we give the following particulars of the sad

Dr. Brantly preached as usual Sunday night, his sermon being one of a series upon the life of Paul. After returning to his home, No. 251 North Eutaw street, Dr. Brantly retired, givfrom bed and went up stairs into his study; returned to his bed-chamber, remained a short time and again went back to his study. Mrs. Brantly, aroused by the movements of her husband, met him as he was descending the stairs the second time, and, alarmed at his apparent illness, called their son, Mr. W. Theo Brantly, who at once summoned Dr. P. C. Williams, the family physician, living near by. In the meantime Dr. Brantly complained of pain in the region of the heart, resumed his bed, and expired in a few minutes, before the arrival of Dr. Williams. Death is said to have resulted from angina syphilitic persons now in the poor pectoris. Pastors of the various Baptist churches in the city and ministers of other denominations called at the residence Monday. The funeral took place at one o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Seventh Baptist church to Greenmount Cemetery. Dr. Cuthbert, assisted by Baptist ministers of the city, officiated. United States Senator Joseph E. Brown, of Georgia, who is a member of the Baptist church in Atlanta, Ga,, of which Dr. Brantly was a former pastor, was also present.

Ata meeting of members of the Seventh Baptist church Monday night a preamble and resolutions were adopted ness of the summons which took Dr. exceeding $12 per cell. referring in fitting terms to the sudden-Brantly from his pulpit to his place in Heaven. His life was an illustration of Christian meekness and boldness, of the building, two on the other side so love and charity, and all godliness and arranged that the two in the wall next continued readiness to die; therefore to the well (or east side) will be lower resolved, "that in the sudden death of than those on the west side; by so doour beloved pastor we recognize the summons of a loving Lord to his faithful servant, calling him almost from the very act of labor to the enjoyment of very act of labor to the enjoyment of the impure air which has heretofore been so detrimental to the health his heavenly reward; that we will endeaver to cherish the teachings so lovngly and impressively conveyed by our departed brother, and to follow the example which he afforded during the ten years of his connection with this church; that our warmest sympathies are hereby tendered to the members of his bereaved family, with our prayers that strength and peace and comfort may be given them from the throne of heavenly grace; that these proceedings be entered upon the record of the

The board of county commissioners concluded their monthly session yesterday and adjourned after the transac-Mrs. B. L. Dewey's to-night at 8 o'clock tion of a considerable amount of business, the greater portion being of an unimportant character.

The following official opinion was exthe minutes:

WHEREAS, The board are of the opinion that the office of county superintendent of health is a salaried office. It is therefore ordered by the board that the compensation allowed him for C, has accepted the call tendered him services rendered shall not exceed the unfortunates in the county that should GREAT

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the board to visit the jail and the poor house for the purpose of ascertaining and reporting what improvements were needed at these institutions, submitted the following re-

To the Honorable, the Board of County Commissioners:

The undersigned, a committee appointed by your board to examine the county poor house buildings, and the county jail under your order made at February session 1882, beg leave to report as follows: "Your committee first examined the log building heretofore used for the safe keeping of the lunatics, and found it totally insufficient for such purpose. as there has been no arrangement made whereby the inmates could have access to fire, and severe suffering could only be guarded against by considerable bedding, blankets, &c. At times this was totally insufficient for the reason that the unfortunate lunatic would not remain covered during the night, or any upon and admitted at the discretion of | considerable part thereof however viglant and watchful the superintendent might be.

We therefore recommend that this building be discontinued for the purpose heretofore used, and that it be converted into a place for the occupation of that class of paupers requiring less watching; that this building may be comfortable, a good, substantial brick chimney is necessary, which will cost about thirty dollars; two windows, which will cost about ten dollars.

On examination of the brick house we found the roof in a decaying condition, some parts of it so far gone that it is in a leaky condition, and much of the sheeting and inner part of the house liable to be materially affected thereby. if such is not already the case, and are of the opinion that economy and proper care of the building requires an entire new roof. Such shingles as are not worthless of the old roof can be used on the out-buildings on the property, and put on by the superintendent as occasion may require. A new floor, new doors, casings, &c., new shutters and some glass are required for the win-

On examination of the log house ocby reason of shrinkage the floors are too open and should be closed up. Some trifling repairs are necessary for the chimneys; the present windows need repairs, and a necessity for at least three more new windows, sash and shutters, to make this building comfortable. In consequence of the increase of pauperism in our county, your committee are of opinion that as an absolute necessity further provisions in the way of quarters should be provided for the colored race, and we would recommend that some time during the present summer or fall, at least before the next winter months, you cause to be erected near the present quarters of the colored race, a log house 20 by 40 feet, with a good stack chimney, so as to afford sufficient warmth for the inmates, Your committee are informed that material for the building can be obtained near by on reasonable terms, and the entire structure would not cost the county more than , and would add | mother. very materially to the comfort and health of the inmates. In view of the disappointment which has so long existed, and continues to exist, to-wit, the failure of the State to provide (as all of us hoped it would) for that most unfortunate class of our people, to-wit, the indigent lunatics, we specially recommend that the board of being able to locate him. He is percommissioners take the matter in hand and commence at once to provide a suitable building for curing and properly providing for the safety and comfort ing no indication of feeling indisposed, as far as may be for this class. We are but shortly after midnight he arose of opinion this can be done without this case, as that gentleman has been in any very great outlay, and common humanity, as well as duty, appeals to you for prompt action. A good, substantial framed house, 26 by 36 feet, ceiled throughout, with two doors, hall way through the centre, ten feet in width, with eight apartments, 6 by 7 feet, made of 2 by 3 scantling, set perpendicular, running from floor to ceiling with an aperture of about 2 inches between each scantling and a small window to each apartment, and warmed by a coal stove in the centre of hallway, which we think will give sufficient room, warmth, security and comfort to he inmates. Your committee beg leave to call your attention to the suggestion of the superintendent of health relating to house or that may hereafter be admitted, and in this connection are of opinion that the comfort and health of the inmates would materially and properly be guarded, and in many instances improved by classifying and assigning quarters under the direction of that officer. Persons having contagious or infectious diseases should not be allowed to occupy the quarters of those who are free from them. Your committee gave the county jail such examination as to satisfy them that the Nicholson pavement, as well as the plank on which it is laid, is in a state of decay, in fact some of itentirely so, and would recommend that it be taken up and the space between the cells and the outer walls be laid with granite slabs. The Nicholson pavement within the cells should be removed and the cells provided with a good substantial pitch-

JOSIAH ASBURY, H. M. WILDER. Mr. A. F. Yandle was appointed on the poor house and jail committee in place of Capt. Vail, who requested to be excused from further service. The committee were empowered to have erected a building for the colored paupers, 20 by 40 feet, as early as possible, and to have such necessary repairs made on the buildings already in use as may be found necessary. The committee was also authorized to receive proposals for the erection of a suitable building for the pauper lunatics, of brick or wood, as per specifications furnished by the committee, and also to receive proposals for the improvement of the county jail as recommended in the committee's report, and report to the next meeting of the acted the following business: J. H. Carmer vs. North Carolina Railroad Company, compromised; judgment against defendant for $50, each party to pay their own costs.

John Morris vs. P. A. Hodges, administrator-appeal-judgment affirmed. McD. Arledge vs. Alexander Johnston, verdict for plaintiff.

The grand jury failed to find a true bill against Sam Crawford, a little negro about as long as a mah's arm, and said to be nine years old, who will be remembered as having been arrested cupied by colored paupers, we find that and imprisoned for shooting and killing one Harvey Phillips, also a small boy. Crawford was discharged with a nice little lecture from his honor, which could be repeated with propriety to all small boys who have big ambitions to handle guns. The shooting by which the Phillips boy lost a portion of his head and his life at the same time was accidental. John Erwin, or Bogus, the negro boy arrested on suspicion of being the murderer of Walter Pemberton, was also discharged, no bill having been found against him. The little negro Pemberton, it will be remembered, was horribly murdered last Summer near the Air Line depot, in broad day light, for the purpose, oit is supposed, of securing $1.50 which he had collected for his

A true bill was, however, found against Nathan Williams for the killing of the Pemberton boy. Nathan is nine years old, and when brought forward the court found it necessary to adjust its spectacles several times before haps the smallest chap that has ever been required to answer to a charge of murder in the State. It is not known Concord since the latter part of last week, but is expected to return to fine h up some criminal business still remaining on the docket.

The grand jury yesterday submitted a report and was discharged.
