bery, ten years. A series of revival meetings are now in progress at Person Street Methodist church, Rev. L. L. Nash, of the Rolesville circuit, assisting the pastor, Rev. R. F. Bumpas. Services are held at 3:30 and 7:30 p. m. daily. The public are invited to attend.

We had the pleasure of a visit on yesterday from Mr. E. M. Mans, of Middleton, Hyde county, and were glad to learn from him that Hyde county is in an excellent condition financially, the crop of last year being good, and a good price realized for their corn, cotton and rice. The culture of highland rice is assuming very extensive proportions in that section of the State, and it is an excellent money crop. The rich lands of Hyde are admirably suited to it.

Greensboro Patriot: For the first time in many months eggs sold this week at 12½ cents per dozen. The body of the unfortunate suicide, John Bivins, Alamance county, has been found near Cedar Cliffs. Jamestown is soon to have a shuttle and spoke factory. The proprietors are advertising for timber of all kinds. There will be an increased acreage of cotton in this section this year. We have got good cotton lands, and, when properly managed, the crop pays. Dr. Smith was called suddenly away Sunday morning to preach the funeral of Mr. John Walker, who died at the home of his uncle. Turner Morehead, in Leaksville, last Friday.

The Great Dairy Garden of the Future. The area of territory included within the northern third of Illinois and the southern quarter of Wisconsin and the whole State of Iowa, making about ninety thousand square miles, says the Chicago Tribune, is destined within a comparatively brief term, to become the greatest garden for dairy products in the world. The central points in this great district of dairy production are Cedar Rapids, in Iowa, and Elgin, in Il-linois. So great has the production in Iowa become that a board of trade for dairy products has been established at Cedar Rapids, to which the butter and cheese of that State are sent, and where purchasers from all parts of Iowa go as to a central market. Ten years ago the worse represented in the Senate, as the | principal butter sold in that market was brought from New York and Ohio. But little butter was made west of Illinois, and a single cow was the limit of a farmer's dairy. Now Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin have the command of the market, and butter and cheese have not only become articles of export to the Eastern States, but they have done much to build up the foreign exports of the country. Henceforth the leading agricultural interest, the one overshadowing all others, in Northern Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and all Iowa will be dairy products. The products of this immense dairy garden will be of great value to the owners, and contribute largely to the wealth of the country. Nor is there any dread of the exhaustion of the land. Self-interest will inspire the preservation of the soil in all its productiveness. As time progresses the herds of the dairy farm will the formal re-occupation by the State authorities of the citadel which, since the war, has served as barracks for will be increased by higher cultivation Federal troops.
