Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unknown rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these benefits. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething stage, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

SAFE
CURE

Disease is an effect, not a cause. Its origin is within; its manifestations without. Hence, to cure the disease the cause must be removed, and in no other way can a cure ever be effected. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just this principle. It realizes that 95 PER CENT.

of all diseases arise from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty. The elements of which it is composed act directly upon these great organs, both as a pur-gative and restorative, and, by placing them in a healthy condition, drive disease and pain from the system.

For the innumerable troubles caused by unhealthy Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs; for the distressing Disorders of Women; for Malaria, and for physical derangements generally, this great remedy has no equal. Beware of impostors, imitations and concoctions sold to be just as good.
For Diabetes, ask for WARNER'S SAFE DIA-BETES CURE. For sale by all dealers.

A meeting of the Charlotte

Twenty-six persons are now confined in the Mecklenburg jail, twenty of whom are colored citizens, of Africandescend. We wonder if any of these are clamoring for a seat in the jury box?

There are fifty-two inmates of the county poor house. Mecklenburg has a population of nearly thirty-five thousand, and the fact that she has only fifty-two paupers speaks well for the county.

The introduction of the resolutions passed by the board of aldermen at their meeting Monday evening, to support and sustain the graded school commissioners, was done by John Schenck, colored—a member of the board. A number of his friends think he should have all the credit due for it and THE OBSERVER cheerfully accords it.

"Red Buck" is in Tennessee. He writes the following to "Boss Strong":
"Seven cities contended for the birth place of the immortal Greek poet

Senator Bayard to Speak in Charlotte.
A telegram was received late yesterday evening by the committee on invitation announcing the fact that Senator Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware, would deliver the oration in Charlotte on the occasion of the celebration of the 20th of May. This fact of itself will lend an additional interest to the occasion.

It is Said —that a dog killed on Church street, day before yesterday, by Mr. Walter Mullen, was certainly mad—had hydrophobia.

—That the new "Star" bicycle, which Mr. Prather, on Trade street, was exhibiting to admiring crowds yesterday, is the bicycle of the future.

—That the bicyclists will form quite an interesting feature at the 20th of May celebration.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church.
—we are requested to announce that evening prayer this evening will be at half-past five o'clock instead of six.

—The rector desires to organize an association or "guild" of young men for parish work, and a meeting for that purpose was to have been held this evening. Circumstances, however, compel a postponement for a few days.
Due notice will be given of the meeting in these columns, and also personally to those especially interested.

Another Ticket for the Salisbury Voters.
FOR MAYOR:
Theo. F. Klutz.
FOR COMMISSIONERS:
North ward—Dr. J. T. Griffith, D. R.
Julian.
South ward—L. H. Clement, J. D.
Gaskill.
East ward—Alex. Parker, P. A.
Frercks.

The above candidates make an excellent ticket, and if elected would give Salisbury a live board, headed by a most excellent and worthy man for Mayor.

About a Mule.
An inhabitant of Clear Creek locality had a mule; but he happened to be short of money, so he raised a sum that lasted him a short time by giving a mortgage on his lively quadruped. His cash again gave out, however, and he sold the mule to a neighbor. The firm who held the mortgage, however, put in their claim for the mule and two of our vigilant constables went out and seized the animal one day last week, to the dismay of the unfortunate purchaser, who straightway sought an interview with the man who had sold him the mule and "sold" him at the same time. After a little sweet argument the original proprietor was brought to see that it would be wise for him to fix matters up; so by some means he raised cash enough to pay off the mortgage and the mule is now at rest, and all parties better satisfied.

Teachers for the University Normal School.
We learn that the following teachers have been employed in addition to those already mentioned for the University Normal School. The full list of the Faculty is being made up as rapidly as possible:

Miss Jane F. Long, to teach a model primary school of boys and girls, from Chapel Hill. Miss L. is now teaching in Peace Institute, at Raleigh. Her model school has always been one of the valuable attractions at the Normal.

Capt. U. C. S. Noble, to teach algebra.
Capt. Noble has for several years been assistant in the Bingham School. He was a born teacher, and is still far from the meridian of his fame.

Eugene L. Harris, to teach drawing and penmanship. Prof. Harris spent the winter at Cooper Institute, New York city, where his artistic talent secured him much distinction.

Prof. N. Y. Guley, at present principal of the Franklin graded school, will bring to the next Normal a larger and brilliant experience together with his accustomed energy and pedagogic ability.

Prof. Eugene H. Wilson has no superior as a vocalist. He will be welcomed again by his pupils and admirers.

Married.

Dr. H. P. Gatchell, Jr., a young physician of Charlotte, was married to Miss Susie C. Taylor, at the residence of the bride's parents at Elberton, Ga., Wednesday morning, April 12th. THE OBS-ERVER extends its congratulations and good wishes.

Concert by the First Presbyterian Choir.

The parlors of Mrs. B. L. Dewey's residence were thronged to overflowing last night, the occasion being a concert given by the choir of the First Presbyterian church. The programme was well selected and served admirably to bring out to the best advantage the varied talent of this fine choir.

A recitation, "Lighthouse May," by Miss Mary Mattoon, was complimented on all sides.

The choir are indebted to Dr. Bidez and Mrs. Atkinson for valuable assistance.

At half past ten o'clock the supper room was thrown open, and those present enjoyed a rich repast.

New Tractor Engine.
Mr. R. P. Bryson, from Rutherford county, has in course of erection at the Mecklenburg Iron works a new tractor engine, which he has recently invented and patented. AN OBSERVER representative on Monday had the pleasure of viewing a fine little model of the new engine. In appearance it is much like an ordinary locomotive. The inventor names it the "Highland Engine," and claims for it several advantages over any other engine designed for similar work.

The weight of a six-horse engine is only 2,200 lbs. A "dead center" is avoided by the manner of its construction, and the engine will start at any point without trouble. It is unlike the conventional lazy horse who would not carry over his own corn for it carries its own water and fuel. A peculiar feature is that it has only three wheels, two behind and a pilot wheel in front, which runs in the middle of the road. It is guided easily by a very simple lever arrangement, dispensing with chain-gearing for that purpose. The speed at which Mr. Bryson says it can safely run is five to nine miles per hour, and he claims that it is especially adapted to our country roads, for transporting mail wagons, drawing heavy loads of timber, &c., and for working ginning and threshing machines, &c., after conveying them to the spot where the work is required to be done. The specimen engine now building is expected to be completed in about two months, and if the inventor's expectations with regard to its capabilities are fulfilled, no doubt the "Highland Engine" will be in great demand. We wish the inventor all success.

The North American Review.
Without time to give it more than a cursory examination we must say we are charmed with the May number of the North American Review. Its introductory article is "Party Schisms and Future Problems," discussed from an "independent" standpoint, by Carl Schurz, now leading editor of the New York Evening Post. Mr. Schurz has "whooped up the boys" for many years in the interest of machine-Republican politics, but as he grows older he finds out the weak spots in his own lines, as well as those of his old political enemy —the Democratic party. He presents many well-considered observations which cannot fail to interest in the highest degree that large and growing class of citizens who refuse to be influenced by obsolete party cries. "Days with Longfellow," by Samuel Ward, contains personal reminiscences of the beloved poet just deceased, extending over a period of forty-five years. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, in an article entitled "What does Revelation Reveal?" seeks to prove that the objections brought against the Bible by modern unbelievers are based upon a misconception of the true intent and scope of the sacred volume. Lieutenant-Commander Goring writes of "The Navy," with abundant knowledge of its needs, and with a degree of frankness almost unfrequently met in the naval service.
The well-known English essayist, in the first of a series of "Conversations with a Solitary," very ingeniously contrives to put the advocates of democracy and modern progress on the defensive.
Finally, Gail Hamilton contributes a paper, "The Spent Bullets," in which science, the pulp and the law are with exquisite wit taken to task for the part they respectively played in the Gultean-Garfield tragedy.

Hogish.

To the Editor of the Observer.
Can you or any of your readers inform me why the keeping of hogs is prohibited within the radius of two squares from the public square, and also what the fire limits have to do with the matter?

"Are many tendered?"
"I take in from a hundred and fifty to two hundred a day."
"Does it pay you?"
"Of course it does. I pay my gas bill in that way."

"What induced you to commence taking pennies?"
"I was trained to do that when I was growing up in business. I was always taught that a cent was money, and that the 'who' conduct business was to take the smallest as well as the largest coin.
I was surprised when I came South and found such an utter dislike for pennies.
They are absolutely necessary in business, and I was with a business house in New York a few years ago that had a business of two millions a year. One year the books lacked four cents of balancing. That store was actually closed, and stayed closed until that difference was accounted for. Now, suppose I go

Annual Report of the Experiment Station.

We have been favored with a copy of the annual report of the North Carolina Experiment Station, for 1881 with the request from Dr. Dabney that we will aid the agricultural department in bringing it before the people, as quite a large edition has been printed, and it is for free distribution among farmers.

In the preface Dr. Dabney says:
The subject which most interests our people is that of fertilizing the soil.
This is appropriately, therefore, the theme of this report, as it was the chief subject of our work the past year.
Since farm economy in fertilizing materials is a matter of growing interest among farmers, the largest chapter is taken up by the discussion of the materials within their reach, from which home-made manures can be produced, and the proper method of combining them.

One hundred and seventy-one samples of commercial fertilizers have been analyzed for the commissioner of agriculture and farmers of the State, requiring altogether five hundred and thirteen separate determinations of phosphoric acid, not counting the nitrogen or potash determinations or the numerous duplicate analysis. All of these analyses were made by the most thorough, accurate, and therefore, most tedious methods. No rough, short-cut, methods or uncertain volumetric determinations are used in our laboratory.
No work is undertaken which cannot be completed in the most thorough, workmanlike manner. Phosphoric acid is determined by fusing, precipitating with molybdate and weighing as pyrophosphate of magnesia. "Reverted" phosphoric acid is separated from the insoluble by the use of ammonium nitrate solution of Sp. gr. 1.09 and neutral. Twenty-three detailed analyses of soils have been made and fifty analyses of agricultural chemicals and other materials used in making manures on the farm.

A careful examination of its pages convincing us that it is the most valuable book to the average farmer, that has ever been given to the public, and no man interested in the cultivation of the soil can afford to be without it. We suppose it can be obtained gratuitously by addressing the commissioner Hon.
M. McGehee, Raleigh, N. C.

The Cent vs. the "Nickel."

We give, for the benefit of the tradem-en and public of Charlotte, a cutting from the Atlanta Constitution on the subject of the despised cent. This ignoring of the cent in retail dealing is one serious hindrance to the cultivation of habits of thrift and economy among our people. It seems strange that it should be necessary to point out the evil effects of such a system—whether looked at from the standpoint of the buyer or the seller, but it is necessary, and no less so here in Charlotte than in the case elsewhere. The existence of this utter contempt for sums below five cents has a most demoralizing effect, encouraging wasteful habits that often lead to deplorable results among the portion of our population whose incomes are very limited, and who buy from day to day small quantities of necessaries. Why, many people here, who find it sufficiently hard to make both ends meet, pay for a large proportion of the little things of daily use fully one-third more than they would have to pay were it not for this despise of the cent. Why cannot they learn that 100 cents make quite as respectable a sum as 4 "quarters"? Says the Constitution reporter:

"Pennies taken" was a conspicuous sign in front of Burke's second-hand book store on Whitehall street yesterday.

"Yes, I take pennies," was what the proprietor said to a Constitution reporter.

"Are many tendered?"
"I take in from a hundred and fifty to
two hundred a day."

taking pennies?"
the smallest as well as the largest coin.
found such an utter dislike for pennies.
They are absolutely necessary in business, and I was with a business house in
ancing. That store was actually closed,

to the bank with a check for a certain amount in which there is an odd cent or two cents, and I am given a cent or two more or less than the check calls for—how can any books be balanced?
This is one argument in favor of the cent. Here is another: Ordinary soap can be sold at four cents a bar, and a profit of a hundred per cent. and a profit of a hundred per cent. will be made. Suppose pennies were in general use and a washerwoman could save a cent on every bar of soap, it would amount to several dollars in a year—enough to buy a cord of wood or half a ton of coal. The purchaser always has to pay the odd cents when the pennies are not in use, and it counts up. A man who don't care for a cent won't squabble over a quarter very long at a time and thus he is not thrifty.

"Do you sell things at the odd prices?"

"Yes, I sell things at eight cents or twenty-four cents. In other words I make the money fit the prices and not the prices fit the money, otherwise I will rob the man who patronizes me.
Then there is the question of car fare—a man has to pay five cents no matter where he goes. In Baltimore they support Druid Hill Park with pennies.
The cars to the park charge six cents.
The park gets the odd cent and it pays the expenses of keeping it up. I think it would be a good idea for Atlanta to try a scheme of that sort."

"Then you like the pennies?"

"Yes, I would not quit them under any circumstances."
