EDITORIAL SHORT STOPS.

THE GREENSBORO NORTH STATE SAYS

That Judge Bynum will probably be nominated by the Republicans for Supreme Court Judge.

Col. Dockery is looming up as the Republican candidate for Congressman at large.

Venor has the rheumatism. Glad of it. A man that keeps shoving as much mean weather at us as he does ought to have the rheumatism or something of that kind to entertain him.

The Arizona Indians have gone upon the war path again.

The Senate committee on education and labor reported favorably yesterday on an appropriation to aid common schools, to be apportioned among the States on the basis of illiteracy.

Augusta Chronicle: Page, of California, wants Bibles to be admitted free of duty. Some years ago, nearly every railway car had a free Bible. Nothing of the sort remains, because some honest Christian always stole the good books as fast as the railway company supplied them.

The mad-dog excitement still continues in Lancaster county, S. C.

A colored preacher is said to be the only spiritual comforter that Gaithean has. This speaks well for the colored minister, at all events.

Attorney General Brewster's letter to Mr. Sanders, on the South Carolina political prosecutions, has been supplemented by two more, explanatory in their nature. Mr. Brewster is getting somewhat mixed in this thing, and the more letters he writes the more mixed he will become.

President pro tem, Davis, created a sensation, and no little mirth amongst Senators of lighter weight, last Wednesday, by sitting down in Senator Brown's chair, smashing it all to pieces and spreading himself among the ruins on the floor. He picked himself up as best he could and scowled indignantly at the light weight gentlemen who could sit on ordinary chairs without making a ruin.

The following from the Concord Sun would indicate that Wade Harris is not in favor of pairing just now: "An Ohio exchange suggest that as the Democrats have shouldered prohibition in North Carolina and the Republicans ditto in Ohio, that these two States pair off and not vote at the presidential election. A bright idea, and it is needless to explain that the paper that suggested it, is Republican. The Democrats are not anxious to throw away two States. No sir, we will not pair. We will vote. Ohio is going Democratic and so is North Carolina. Go away with your yankee tricks."

Solar Phenomena and the Aurora Borealis.

Prof. Keeler, of the Allegheny Observatory writes to the Baltimore Sun as follows:

It may be well at the present time to direct the attention of your readers to a sun spot, the largest which has appeared for many years, now visible upon the face of the sun, and which, apart from its enormous size, possesses a peculiar interest from the coincidence of its appearance with the brilliant auroral display of last Sunday evening with which it is perhaps connected.

This spot, which has just reached the center of the sun's disc, may be seen with the naked eye at sunrise or sunset when the light is sufficiently diminished by its passage through a great depth of atmosphere, or at any time of day through a dark glass. It may also be seen in the image of the sun formed through a pinhole and fall upon a sheet of paper at a considerable distance, and has in fact been frequently noticed here in the images formed by accidental apertures in the window curtains, &c. Its appearance as projected from the eyepiece of the great equatorial upon a screen, is that of a gigantic whirlpool in the center of the sun. Long filaments of light project into it, curving with a spiral motion towards a central vortex, which appears black in contrast with the dazzling brightness of the surrounding surface. Numerous smaller spots surround the principal one, and several smaller groups appear on other parts of the disc. The area of the large spot, determined from measurement of the image in a telescope, numbers a thousand million square miles.

Although the connection between the sun spots and the various phenomena of the aurora is one of the most occult and mysterious in nature, that such a connection does exist has been confirmed by too many observations to justify us in considering the tremendous disturbance in the activities of the sun indicated by the appearance of this spot and the magnetic storm of the morning of the 17th as merely chance coincidences.

Nearly every exceptionally brilliant aurora which has appeared in our hemisphere since the outbreak of solar energy. Both have probably their origin in the same hidden cause, which remain one of nature's deepest mysteries.

The aurora began here with the formation of an arch of bright greenish light in the north, which disappeared about 11 o'clock, when the most striking characteristic was the great streamers and flashes of light, converging with singular fixity to a point some twelve degrees south of the zenith, the bright star Arcturus passing directly through it at twenty minutes past twelve.

I examined the spectrum of the greenish streamers with a two-prism spectroscopic of the form used by Huggins in his star observations, and found it to consist of a brilliant yellowish green line, which seems to be characteristic of all auroras, several fainter bands in the blue, which appear in the plates of the Edinburgh observations, and a very faint band in the violet, which I have not yet been able to identify in any previous observations.

The red-colored light accompanying the earlier part of the display, did not appear with sufficient brightness to afford a visible spectrum.

Respectfully,
J. H. KESSELER,
Assistant, Allegheny Observatory.

SENATOR HILL.

The Surgical Operations that He Has Had to Undergo.

The Washington correspondent of the Atlanta Constitution writes as follows of Senator Hill:

The announcement in to-day's papers that Senator Hill is insured a permanent cure suggests the suffering he has undergone. The extent of the cutting to which he has been subjected is not realized by the public. Four times has he been under the knife. One of the ends of his tongue has been taken out; the entire left floor of his mouth; the glands in the last side of his neck. He said that if he had to choose between death and enduring the operation, he would unhesitatingly take death, were it not his duty to live and endure. The last operation was the most severe, and probably successful. When he was under the knife for it, it was only intended to take out a small lump that had hardened on the gland in his neck. After he was insensible, it was decided to adopt the heroic treatment, and take out the entire gland. He was kept under the knife two hours, the gland cut out, and the knife sent in clear to the new flesh that had filled the place of the first operation. When he awoke, he was terribly exhausted and shocked at the hole cut in his neck. The pushes had been nearly sewed up. For seven days he could not move his lips, and lived on liquid food. After this, he improved and gradually recovered from the operation. Then came the most critical period of his sickness. The entire opening of the wound being closed, the pus accumulated and pressed against the throat. He was seized with fever, and an abscess formed. At last the tension became so great that the wound burst inside the mouth. This gave him relief, and he went to Philadelphia. He was put under the knife again, and the wound was cut open so that it might heal from the bottom. This is going finely, and is without inflammation. No trace of the disease can be found, and the hopes of his permanent recovery were renewed. He says he will not permit to the knife again, and his surgeons think there will be no need.

The Mischievous Sparrow.

Harrisburg (Pa.) Telegraph.

"Look at that sparrow," said a well-known insurance man to a reporter on Third street this morning. The reporter looked in the direction indicated and saw one of the little pesters struggling with a large piece of cotton, twice as large as itself. Finally, securing a firm hold on the cotton, the bird flew to the top of a building opposite and disappeared in the eaves, where it was followed with some straw, which it deposited in the same place. "That's the way a fire can be started," continued the insurance man; "a mere spark on that cotton and straw and what is to prevent it from setting fire to the roof? It's the same way all over the city." Some house keepers once a year make an onslaught on the sparrows and clean out the nest, but the pesters return again and to the locations.

Sickness of Stock and Cattle.

Statesville Landmark.

There seems to be considerable fatality of late among the horses and cattle. Our Amity Hill correspondent mentions sickness among the cattle in his neighborhood. Mr. W. H. Ramsay, of Davidson township, lost a filly about two weeks ago from curious and hitherto unseen symptoms; A. C. Sharpe, Esq. of Shiloh, had a mule die last week of a terrible form of distemper, complicated with what Mr. Sharpe thinks may have been pink-eye, and last Sunday night Mr. D. F. Jenkins, of this place, lost a horse. What with this and disease, stock owners are having a rough time of it this season.

Convicted of Murder.

PETERSBURG, April 22.-The case of Oliver Hatchell has been on trial in the circuit court of Brunswick county for several days. Hatchell is charged with being accessory to the murder of Moses Young, who came to his death sometime ago from drinking whiskey which, after being in the hands of Hatchell, had been introduced. The verdict rendered was murder in the first degree and a motion for a new trial was overruled by the court. Counsel for the defense are now preparing papers to take an appeal to the Supreme Court at Appeals.

The Readjusters Adjourned.

RICHTON, VA., April 22.-In the Senate to-day the first business that came up was the House joint resolution providing for adjournment sine die of the General Assembly today at 10 o'clock and it was concurred in. Ayes, 25; nays, 5.

After some discussion upon the question of communicating the action of the Senate to the House at it was so ordered and the House notified.

The popularity and world-wide fame of Simmons Liver Regulator has induced unprincipled parties to play upon the credulity of some glibly plied pur or title or name in the market. A majority of these enterprises have died a natural death, but others are periodically cropping out. To those who have not yet learned the great worth of the Regulator this word of caution is necessary. To the truth it may be a question of life and death. Ask for Simmons Liver Regulator, and look for the signature of J. H. Zella & Co., and the largest red X on White Wrapper.

CLEOPATRA

OR THE QUEEN OF SHEBA'S BEAUTY WAS BUT SKIN DEEP.

The renowned Queen of Sheba, with all her royal pomp, magnificent apparel, and brilliant retinue, would have been appalled within the presence of the grandeur of the woman of the past, had she not also possessed that which it is the crowning glory of the female person—a skin unchanging for its Oriental softness and its almost transcendental purity. Cleopatra, holding emperors at bay, and ruling empires by her word, had quickly lost her charm and power by one touch of pimples, or of horrid tan and freckles.

WOMAN RULES THE WORLD

By her beauty, not less than by her purity of character, loveliness of disposition and unselfish devotion. Indeed, in the estimation of perhaps too many men beauty in a body takes precedence over every other consideration. Beauty thus forms an important part of woman's "working capital," without which too many of our bankrupts in what relates to influence within the circle where they move, are powerless for great good. Hence we see not only the propriety but the duty of every girl preserving with anxious care that which to her is essential to success, and influence, and usefulness in life. And, since beauty is but skin deep," the utmost care and vigilance are required to guard it against the many ills that threaten it. Among the great and annoying enemies of beauty, as well as of comfort; happiness and health, are those pestiferous and horrid skin disease—leucoderma, eczema, (salt rheum), rough and scaly eruptions, ulcers, pimples, and all diseases of the skin and scalp. For the cure of all these, Dr. C. W. Benson, of Baltimore, after years of patient study and investigation devoted to diseases of the skin, at last brought forth his celebrated SKIN CURE, which has already by its marvelous cures, established itself as one of the great remedies for all diseases of the skin, whatever be their names or character. Its success has been immense and unparalleled. All druggists have it. It is elegantly put up, two bottles in one package. Internal and external treatment. Price $1.00.
