The latent resources of the south are yet to be developed, and if the discover-les of the next quarter of a century could be suddenly flashed upon our sight, there are few of us who would not be astonished. Every day produces something new and wonderful. Yesterday we were shown by Mr. James H. Carradine a sample of fibre and of rope constructed from it, which was left with Mr. Carradine by Dr. Meux, of Carroll parish, La which in our opinion is superior to either jute or hemp, The history of the production of this sample is this; An old negro man in Carroll parish being in need of some rope which he was prable to procure, began to cast about for something which would supply his want His attention was directed to the well known and troblesome weed, the wild coffee plant. He cut the stalks and treated them in the same manner HAMBURG EDGING at from 2c to 25c a yard very CHEAP; LAWNS at 64c; BLEACHED treated in Kentucky, and the result was shirting at 74c, 8c and 10c; LINEN TOWELS a fibre of good length and of suprising from $1.20 to $3.75 per dozen, strength, which the old man soon conhe had been accustomed to see hemp strength, which the old man soon converted into rope. The sample of fibre shown to us was fully eight feet in length and much softer and stronger than jute, and can with ease be twisted into the very best of rope Thus we have in a plant which a few years ago, and probably still, is considered a plantation pest, a material which if cultivated and cared for would supply all the rope and bagging used in heads fronting the rings. Jumbo was then brought out of his room by his keepers, Newman and Scott, and eyes were fixed upon him sharply as he was within sight. Jumbo walked ored man of this city, died yesterday, steadily, without once turning his head He was at one time one of the leading aside, but his long proboscis was kept on a roving commission of inquiry all the way long, touching each animal, as if exchanging salutations.

Near the further end of the line stood Chief, the largest heretofore in Barnum's fierd. When he saw Jumbo's huge form looming up before him he put down his head in attitude for a charge at him, and it was with difficulty that his hostile purpose was restrained by the stern commands of Mr. Arstingstall and the sharp enforcements of his pointed steel persuaders. A second time Jambo was marched along the line and the former demonstrations were repeated, but without any further manifestation of ill-feeling on the part of Chief. Then Jumbo was allowed to stand before the middle of the line for a few minutes, during which time the proboscises of all the others were pointed toward him and he waved his trunk at them all, as if they were exchanging some sort of pantomimie discourse upon the situation.

Hebe, the mother of the first baby elephant ever born in captivity, seemed to attract his fancy, and for some time they carried on together a little innocent flirtation, exchanging kisses by placing the ends of their proboscises to each other's mouths, and from time to time caressing each other with their trunks by a series of light taps and touches. Then Jumbo was without any difficulty driven back to his room, and the other elephants were trotted off to their quarters,

How to get Rid of Rats.

SAMARITAN NERVINE

Cures Alcoholism, Drunkenness and the habit of Opium Eating. These degrading habits are by far the worst evils that have ever betailen suffering humanity. Thousands die annually from these noxious drugs. The drunkard drinks liquor not because he likes it, but for the pleasure of drinking and treating his friends, hitle thinking that he is on his road to ruin. Like the Oplum Eater, he first uses the drug in small quantities as a harmless antidote. The soothing influence of the drug takes strong hold upon its victim, leading him on to his own destruction. The habits of Opium Eating and Liquor Drinking are precisely what eating is to alimentiveness, as over eating first in-flames the stomach, which redoubles its cravings until it paralyzes both the stomach and appetite So every drink of liquor or dose of op um, instead glu tonous tape worm.
