ATTORNEY AT LAW, Office on Trade street, nearly opposite Court House,

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

HOME CHIPLETS.

T. L. Selgle & Co., advertise the second stock of goods purchased for the spring trade this morning.

The streets were crowded yesterday with cotton wagons and the depot men were skipping about trying to each day, and the citizens are working make room for it on the platform.

Mr. J. H. Wilson, Jr., who recent ly lost the picker room of his factory on the Catawba in Gaston county, is having it rebuilt and will have it finished off and ready for work again in the course of a week. The water works main was tapped yesterday for the first time for the drug store of Dr. T. C. Smith. The work was done under the supervision of Daniel O'Donnell, the professional plumber, gas fitter, &c., &c.

At the mayor's court yesterday morning Parson Hearne and his wife, both colored, were brought up for disturbing the calm and peaceful surroundings of their home by the reverberating echoes of their family caresses. Parson had to shell out $1, while his better half had to see his one and go him one and a half better.

Professor Macallister has had a very big run at the opera house in this city this week. His entertainments are of the first order and there is no humbug about the distribution of his presents. He will appear in Statesville on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and in Salisbury the balance of the week.

The members of the Clyde syndicate who passed by here on a special train last Thursday morning, were expected to return home this morning. They have been making a general inspection of their roads. We hear that they took in the Greenville and Colum bia Railroad in their rounds.

The excavation for Col. Johnston's new store houses is now completed and brick laying will commence Monday. The lumber for the joists is something surprising to the people of this section. It was sawed in Robeson county and must have come from large trees, as each joist is thirty five feet long, two and a half inches thick and eleven inches wide.

The water works stand pipe which is now rising high above the court house, is, of course, an object of interest to visitors and all must go to take a look at it. Seeing their advantage a number of firms have had the concern spattered over with advertisements in big white letters. The most conspicuous of all is Sheriff Alexander's card of invitation to the sovereigns to liquidate their taxes.

The Charlotte young people who went up to Davidson College last Friday night, to attend the fete champetre, or lawn picnic, given by the students of the college, seem to have had a merrier time than is usually alloted to picnicers. They returned on the train the same night, somewhat tired and decidedly more quiet than when they started, but all insisting that they had never had a more enjoyable time in their lives.

-Judge J. C. L. Gudger arrived in the city yesterday evening and registered at the Central.

-Mr. J. P. Lyon, of Pittsburg, who is known here as a frequent and welcome visitor, is in the city with his family. Mr. Lyon, like several well-known northern families, spends a season in Charlotte every year. Ω

A Little Darkey's Mistake. Yesterday evening about three o'clock, a negro woman came into the city and beside her walked her eight come by his misfortune in a very peculiar manner. He was walking the railroad track, about three miles from rail several feet long. It did not answer his purpose so well as he thought it would, for he lost his balance and fell, his hands striking the iron track while the piece of iron he had been holding came down on them, and mutilated his fingers in a very bad manner. Dr. Jo. Graham gave the unfortunate little track walker all the necessary attention, and sent him home to reflect over the very pleasant assurance that the doctor would come out in a day or

THE COMING CELEBRATION.

some liems of Interest in Repard to the Occasion and a Glimpse of Some of the Things That May be Expected. Interest in the approaching celebra-tion of the 20th is growing more lively up preparations with a vim and enthusiasm that they have been seldom known to show. The committees are doing everything that could possibly be expected of them; busy as been and energetic as beavers, they set themselves to the work in earnest and have succeeded in attracting great interest to the celebration from abroad. They are highly elated at the bright prospect for a great day and are beginning to think that the celebration this year will come up to, if not surpass the great celebration of 1875, which has heretofore been considered the greatest day Charlotte

The running of special trains will secure a greater crowd than was anticipated a day or two ago, and the hotels and boarding houses are arranging to entertain as many as they can been rented and are being fitted up to preciated. receive the visitors. Notwithstanding the great crowd there will be no lack of accommodations and no one need hold back on this account. The people of the South have long wanted an opportunity to see the statesman Bayard and to hear him speak and the news that comes in from all the that they are not going to let this opportunity slip. Senator Bayard, by the way, has been tendered a special train over the Virginia Midland and Richmond and Danville railroads, in which to make his journey to Charlotte. Along with Senator Bayard will come a large delegation of Congressmen, in-

Representatives. The military and fire companies will make a fine display. The firemen's contest will be participated in by six companies—this number having already accepted the challenge of the Charlotte firemen—and there may yet be other companies to enter. All the returns are not yet in. The company that wins will gain something besides honor. Messrs. E. D. Latta & Bro. have offered as a prize to the winning company a solid silver trumpet, valued at $200.

The best drilled military company will receive a prize of $100 in cash. Major John G. Young has received a letter from Gen. M. P. Taylor, of Wilmington, saying that he and his staff will attend the celebration.

The merchants are making ready to decorate their places of business, and nearly all the private residences in the city will be gay with bunting and emblems befitting the day.

A joint meeting of all the committees will be held on Monday night to compare notes and take further steps in preparation for the celebration. The reception committee and committee of arrangements will bear in mind their appointment to meet the executive committee in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, at 8 o'clock on that

We print this note of warning from the Statesville Landmark to the Central Hotel, and it will apply all the same to the other hotels of the city, for what the Landmark says of Statesville may be said of every other town in this section of North Carolina: "Mr. Eccles and George Bryan, of the Central Hotel, Charlotte, are hereby notified to have a couple or three extra chickens killed and several French names printed on the bill of fare for the 20th. Pretty much all of us up this way are going down that day, if we are spared, and Statesville will hang up its hat at the Central."

Extensive Tillering of Oats. Much has been said in these columns recently about the extensive and apparently prolific crop of small grain which is now about being matured in this county, but the record would not be complete did we not allude to the extensive tillering of the oat crop this season. This was forcibly brought to our attention yesterday by Mr. S. W. Ross, of Pineville township, who exhibited two specimen bunches. They were each originated from a single grain, and one had tillered out into 100 well grown stalks and the other 92. A head plucked at random from the largest bunch -Concord has put itself in readiness showed 61 perfectly developed oat seeds, which showed a product of 6,100 from the single seed.

The Train Robbers Tried.

Deputy Sheriff Orr went over to Concord last Friday and brought back the two train robbers who have been confined in the jail at that place since their capture a week or so ago. The robbery occurred between Harrisburg and Query's, on the morning of April 20th, as already related in THE OB-SERVER. Five negroes had a hand in who was too young to have any realization of the nature of the crime. They appeared the funeral notice of little were captured in two parties. Am- Eddie, the son of Mrs. P. M. Murray bross Stafford and Phillip Moore being | who lives on East Tryon street, nest captured in Cabarrus and placed in the | the Carolina Central depot. The child jail of that county, and John Williams | died quite suddenly last Thursday, of the track, while the other negroes fellowed and gathered it up.

The justice committed them to jail two, and cut off a couple more of his in default of bail for their appearance funeral should not be proceeded with, for trial at the next term of the Superior Court. They were ugly, desperate looking negroes and the chains with which they were bound did not add anything to the cheerfulness of their appearance.

Greenback Speaking in Charlotte.

The Hon. Jesse Harper, of Illinois, chairman of the national executive committee of the National Greenback party, together with Col. Jno. R. Winston, who has long been connected with the Greenback movement in this State. and who is now the chairman of the State executive committee, will be in Charlotte on the 10th day of May. They will address the people on the Greenback issues and the doctrines of the Greenback party, at 8 o'clock on the evening of that day.

Big Time at Dallas Court.

The lawyers had their hands full of briefs at Dallas court, which has been in session all week and closed yesterday. During the past few months robes and thefts have been carried or in Gaston by the wholesale. The depredations of thieves became so bold and numerous that the people sent to South Carolina and had a detective to come up and get to work at ferreting out the rascals. He spent several weeks around Gastonia, and as a result of his work the court found itself deluged with criminal cases when it opened last Monday. The civil docket was set aside and lawyers and judge settled down to business on the criminal cases. It was about as lively a court as has ever been seen in Dallas and resulted in the nomination of a good sized gang of candidates for the striped suit.

Marriages in April. The matrimonial market was only tolerably so-so in this county during the past month, hard times and the failure of the garden crops having had a depressing effect. From the books in the office of the Register of Deeds we copy the list of licenses issued during April:

Religious Notes. -On Wednesday, 10th inst., Mecklenburg Presbytery will convene in Pineville. The hour set for the opening is 7 o'clock p. m. A note from a citizen of Pineville says that the people of that place are preparing to entertain comfortably and pleasantly all persons who may attend the Presbytery. -We are requested to announce that Sunday school will be held at 4 o'clock this evening, at St. Michael's (colored) Episcopal church, on Mint street. At 8 o'clock in the evening services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Quinn.

-Rev. G. D. Parks, the pastor, has been holding daily services at Sugar Creek church, near the city, this week. This morning the sacrament of the Lord's supper will be administered, and if it is a pleasant day there will be a large attendance from the city. A Mother's Hope and Despair.

soft, and to the mother's heart this brought a rwy of hope which was eagerly grasped.

Instances of this kind very frequently occur. In cases of sudden death the rigor mortis sometimes does not set in until twenty or thirty hours afterwards, and the corpse, as in this case, retains a striking resemblance to life. A watch was kept by the body all Friday evening and night, and though no very decided change was manifest in it, all doubts as to the death seemed to be removed and the grief-stricken mother. and friends had resigned themselves to the fact that the little boy had indeed fallen into that sleep from which there On Tuesday evening next, May 9th, is no waking. > Obituary. Rev. Isaiah H. Shipman, of Lasbon New Hampshire, who spent the past winter in Charlotte, went home, it seems, only to die. During his residence here he made quite a number of friends who, with THE OBSERVER, will regret to hear of his demise. He died in Lisbon, N. H., Tuesday 24th of April, and the fact is thus referred to in the Boston Journal of April 28th, ult.:

Elder Shipman was born in Westminster, Vt., October 15, 1810. In 1845 he became pastor of the Advent Church at Sugar Hill, N. H. In 1850 he was called to Worcester, Mass., but, by reason of ill health, was obliged to return to Sugar Hill the following year. He remained at Sugar Hill continuously until 1867, when he removed to Waterbury, Vt. His health again failing him in 1869 he gave up his church at Waterbury and went South, stopping in Culpepper, Va. Returning to New Hampshire t he following year, greatly benefitted, he settled in Lisbon, where, by force of his great energy and superior executive ability, he raised the funds erected the building known as "Messiah's Church." Finding his health again giving way, however, in November last, accompanied by two of his daughters, he went to Charlotte, N. C. This time he found no relief, but gradually failed until his death. He reachto the favorable consideration of the ed home only about three weeks ago, making the journey from Washington, 600 miles, in 27 hours. Although he was a man of decided convictions and great independence of thought and action, he was universally beloved, and no man in the community where he lived had as many friends and as few enemies. He leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters.
