FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1882.

Small-pox seems to be scattering a round among the towns in Georgia.

Columbus, Ga., has organized an electric light company with a capital of Richmond, Va., feels good over a 400,-

000 bushel grain elevator which has just been completed. The stockholders of the defunct Borton Pacific Bank lose the $2,900,000 invested in that concern. Abdul Hamid, like the Czar of Russia now locks himself up in his palace from fear of being assassinated. Representatives of matrimonial insurance companies are peregrinating through Georgia and taking in unsophisticated young men. Judge Lynch has presided at about fifty hangings North and South, a majority of them in the North, since the first of January. If the Republicans in Congress were to call in all their absentees perhaps the Democrats might not be able to block proceedings so easily.

Congressman, Rev. J. Hyatt Smith, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says he is getting tired of politics and wants to go back to preaching again.

They are getting more indictments against Brady, of star route fame, in Washington. They had better try him on some they have already.

The Lynchburg, Va., News thinks it is bad enough to have the small-pox, but it will be worse if bossism gets a foothold in Lynchburg.

It is is said that Harrison, the boy preacher converted 5,000 people in thirteen weeks in Cincinnati, which shows that Porkopolis is an inviting field for missionaries.

It is sensibly suggested that if congressmen were docked for each day without valid excuse, the evil of absenteeism would soon disappear.

The last report from Senator Hill, for the past several weeks at Eureka Springs, Ark., is that he is improving and his physicians have strong hopes of a cure or at least that his life will be greatly prolonged.

The State Republican central committee, of Georgia, which met in Macon, Tuesday tabled a resolution endorsing A. H. Stephens for Governor. This is rough on the independent nine.

James Gordon Bennett has not only generously provided for the wife and child of Captain DeLong, but will also take care of the widows and children of others of the crew of the Jeannette who perished on the expedition.

The total number of immigrants arriving in this country for the fiscal year ending June 1st, it is thought will reach 800,000, and those that have come have all found ready employment so far at reasonable wages.

The Richmond and Danville railroad company is having built one thousand freight cars at an average cost of $650 each. It has also ordered thirty new engines twelve of which have been put upon the road.

It is proposed to remove the remains of Chief Justice Chase from Washington to Cincinnati, to be interred in Spring Grove cemetery. The Cincinnati people want to give them a public burial, and a committee has been appointed to consult with Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague about it.

Vennor predicts a very cold and stormy autumn. "We are likely to experience," he says, "one of the coldest periods in a long term of years during the early part of the winter of 1882-3; but the cold will come in a lump, and the latter half of the winter is likely to be mild and open, with an advanced spring."

such a lease has just expired in England, and the property has reverted to the orignal owner who leased it, namely, the Church of England. It is thus legally decided that the Church of England has had a corporate entity since the time of Alfred the Great, and that it did not, as has been supposed by many

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.

Postmaster Howe recommends the abolition of postage on newspapers, and the recommendation is regarded with some favor in Congress. He thinks that the deficiency which will be caused in the department by the abolition will be made up by certain economic measures instituted. From an individual, business standpoint THE OBSERVER is indifferent as to whether the present postage rates be continued or not, or whether they be totally abolished, but recognizing the fact that in a country like ours, where the papers figure so largely as educators of the people in the dissemination of intelligence, every impediment, if possible, to their increased distribution should be removed, and every encouragement extended to them. The postage paid, which by some papers is small, and by others a considerable sum, is insignificant, but at the same time if it be not necessary the burden, light or heavy, should not be imposed. Just now popular education seems to be a favorite theme in Congress, and it is a proper time to con-sider what agency the press has in this great work and to enquire if it is not entitled to recognition and encouragement for the service it incessantly ren

GUITEAU'S BRAINS.

It is reported that District Attorney Corkhill will have a post mortem examination made of Guiteau's brain to see whether there was any ground for the plea of insanity. This may be a mere report without foundation, for we fail to see what the district attorney has to do with it, but if it should turn out upon the examination that the man was really insane, what then? It will not be a pleasant reflection to think that the government hanged a crazy man to gratify a thirst for vengeance. Guiteau may or he may not be crazy. We believe it, and no effort should be spared to test that matter before the rope strangles the life out of him. But if he must be hanged crazy or not, let there be no post mortem foolery with his brains, that can result in no good to anybody, but let him be quietly buried and for-

Atlanta Constitution In reply to questions touching his relations to the coming canvass for governor of Georgia, Mr. Stephens has consented to the publication of the following letter:

NATIONAL HOTEL, WASHINGTON, D. C., 22d May, 1882. Mr. Charles E. Smith, Washington, Ga: Dear Mr. Smith:-Your letter of the 19th inst. is before me. I reply to your inquiry about my position in relation to the governorship of Georgia. I can on-ly say briefly that the reported interviews with me on this subject as published in the Atlanta Constitution are substantially correct. In reply to letters from all parts of the State, and from men attached to all political parties, urging me to forego my intention to retire from public life at the close of my present congressional term, and con-sent to accept the office of governor, I have stated that if my health continues as good as it has been during the past winter, and if unmistakable evidences should be furnished me that it is the will of the people of Georgia that I should serve them I know of no reason that would justify me in refusing so to do. Thus the matter rests at present, so far as I am concerned. When asked the question whether I would allow my

that they were absent from their posts | name to be used in connection with his office, at the next election, against the nomination of another person by the Democratic State convention, to assemble on the 19th of July next, my uniform answer has been: "I would not." This action of the Democratic party would with me, be the controlling evidence that is not the will of a majority of the people of Georgia that I should serve them as a governor. To this conclusion I should come, notwithstanding the numerous letters I have received from men of the greatest eminence in the State, and many petitions embracing hundreds of people in different counties to which I have referred, and the recommendation of my name to be voted for as governor by the people of Georgia, by the highly respectable body of men who recently assembled at Atlanta, and whose good opinions and confidence I appreciate in no small degree. I deem it proper in this connection to add that, while my political affiliation is entirely with the Democracy on principles and measures; and if in either it has erred, such errors should be corrected within rather than without its ranks, yet if I were nominated by the Democracy and elected governor of Georgia by the people, I should not be a partisan governor, but should look to the best interests and welfare of the Adjourned. House.-No time was lost by the House this morning in renewing the struggle over the Mackey—Dibble contested election case which was called up by Calkins, of Indiana, immediately afer the reading of the journal.

Randall, of Pennsylvania, as usual, raised the question of consideration, and Kenna, of West Virginia, inter-jected a motion to adjourn, on which Randall demanded the yeas and nays. Lost. Yeas, none; nays, 133.

On several motions a bare quorum obtained. Ben Wood, of New York, and Phelps, of Connecticut, both Democrats voting, the former with the Republicans, but this did not avail. Roll call followed roll call upon dilatory motions until 4.45, when the quorum was again broken, Then after another call of the House, 5 o'clock having arrived, the House took a recess until 8

Pending the announcing of the recess the Speaker laid before the House a message from the President transmitting a letter from the Secretary of State concerning awards made against Vene-zuela by a mixed commission under the convention of April 26th, 1866. The President says: "I earnestly invite the attention of Congress to this communication and the accompanying enclosures. In case neither house takes action on it during the present Congress I shall feel it my duty to direct that this prolonged discussion be definitely terminated by recognizing the absolute validity of all awards."
