ECHOES FROM THE 20th.

The Press Brings in the Returns—What the Editors have to say of our Late Celebration.

That our late celebration was a grand event in the history of Charlotte and of the State, is a belief shared in not only by our own people, but by the people and press of the entire country. The papers that have reached this office since the 20th, are teeming with flattering and the most cordial reports of the occasion. This is how some of them sing the praises of the event we celebrated, and the way in which we did it.

Wilmington Star: The people of Charlotte are to be congratulated upon the fine success that attended their efforts to celebrate in a becoming and impressive way the great event in North Carolina's history. It was a very complete affair according to the accounts that have gone forth. Not only did the people of Mecklenburg county engage in celebrating the event, but that section of the State joined in the celebration of the forever memorable day. Not only did North Carolinians from the mountain country and from the cities gather for the celebration, but boundary-unity in the interesting ceremonies, but men from other States were there to help celebrate one of the most conspicuous and most glorious events in American history.

Lexington Dispatch: Charlotte made a grand effort to do honor to the twentieth. Great preparations were made for the occasion. Business was almost suspended for a week, while the whole city put on its best attire and gave itself over to a proper observance of the immortal Mecklenburg Declaration. A multitude, estimated at fully twenty thousand, went from the adjoining counties to the city to witness the celebration of the State, from every State in the South, and a number of Northern States. The whole celebration was in keeping with the importance of the event commemorated.

The Observer capped the climax by coming out the next morning in the largest sheet ever printed in the State, containing the whole proceedings with a lot of historical matter bearing on the event, besides its usual reading matter. Charlotte will be proud of the twentieth of May, 1882.

LANCASTER (S. C.) Ledger: It was our privilege to attend the 10th anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. It was carried out by the people of Charlotte with all the spirit and vim which characterize the descendants of those glorious men of 1776. For many weeks the active work had been going on of the preparation of the city for the gala season. The citizens of all classes and both sexes entered into the work with a zeal which was sure to command success, and the result was that Charlotte exhibited the most elaborate and extensive decorations that have ever been seen in the city. The display witnessed at the centennial seven years ago.

Wilmington Review: The celebration of the 20th at Charlotte, last Saturday, was the grandest affair known in the history of the city. The Observer, with much entered, published Sunday and eight page edition, giving a full account of the day. The crowd in attendance is estimated by the Observer at 20,000.

Spartanburg (S. C.) Spartan: The celebration at Charlotte, last Saturday, was the grandest affair known in the history of the city. The Observer, with much entered, published Sunday and eight page edition, giving a full account of the day. The crowd in attendance is estimated by the Observer at 20,000.

Greensboro North State: The Charlotte Observer published a double sheet on Saturday, last Saturday, an extensive account of the proceedings of the celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration, of the day previous, and shows a creditable display of enterprises on the part of the proprietor of that paper. There was an extraordinary demand for the paper of that date.

Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald: The old North State fully sustained herself last week, on the occasion of the 10th Anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration. The festivities lasted three days, and the crowd in attendance has been variously estimated at from ten to fifteen thousand. Senator Bayard's speech was the event of the occasion, and came fully up to all expectations.

Asheville Citizen: The 10th anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence was celebrated in Charlotte on the 20th, and it was the grandest day ever witnessed in the history of the city. Over 20,000 people were present, including many distinguished men from many States. Senator Matt Ransom read the Declaration at Charlotte last week was the grandest affair ever known in the history of the city.

Chester (S. C.) Bulletin: Charlotte's celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, on the 20th instant, was a glorious success. There were fully 10,000 people present. Some parts of the programme were commenced on the 18th, but the crowning features of the occasion were on Saturday, declaration day.

Lumberton Reformer: Col. Charles B. Jones, proprietor of the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, is without doubt one of the most enterprising newspaper men in this State. It has recently been enlarged and improved, making it one of the largest and most valuable papers in the State. It is now published in double the usual size, and is so complete in its contents that it is almost worthy of the great success it has attained in the very short space of daily journalism.

Gaffney (S. C.) Carolinian: We shall not attempt to give an extended notice of the celebration, nor of the speeches, nor of the incidents of the occasion. We have neither the time nor space to do just to the subject even if we felt equal to the task. We heard Senator Ransom read the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, and heard Senator Vance introduce Senator Bayard, and heard Senator Bayard deliver his address, all of which we enjoyed to our heart's content, but we are inadequate to the task of giving any synopsis of what they said or of describing the effect of the burning eloquence that fell from the lips of those distinguished orators. It was a grand occasion and the celebration in all its appointments was equal to the occasion.

[Danville (Va.) Register: The celebration of the anniversary of the Declaration was attended last week by an immense concourse of people and the occasion was in every respect a grand one.]

Yorkville (S. C.) Enquirer: Yorkville was represented on the occasion by detachment of 20 men of the Jenkins Rifles, and they speak in glowing terms of the handsome manner in which they entertained the visiting companies of Charlotte. The Jenkins Rifles were the invited guests of the Hornets' Nest Riflemen. In point of number the Jenkins Rifles compared favorably with those of other visiting companies, none of which were full, and their uniform elicited the praise of all. Gov. Jarvis pronounced it the handsomest uniform in the line of troops, and was equally complimentary of the company's department and military bearing.

Newton Enterprise: The celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence at Charlotte last week was a grand affair. The whole city seemed to be in a state of excitement, and every train coming into the city till 10 o'clock Saturday augmented the crowd by hundreds. The lowest estimate we have seen of the crowd put at 20,000, while the actual number, even equalled that of the centennial celebration in 1875, which was estimated at 40,000.

Fayetteville Examiner: A great multitude assembled at Charlotte on Saturday, the 20th inst., to witness the celebration of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. The celebration passed off without accident, and is pronounced highly successful by all who witnessed it.

Chester (S. C.) Reporter: Last Saturday was an immense day for Charlotte. The trains from every quarter of the compass poured into the streets, soldiers, firemen and common folks until there was no standing room to be found. Senator Ransom estimated the crowd at thirty thousand. The people all had on their brightest smiles and their best clothes.

From Thomasville.
To the Editor of the Observer.
THOMASVILLE, May 27.—Among the many attractive points I have visited in my travels in this section I must place Thomasville in Davidson county, which shows decided evidences of thrift and prosperity. From this point are shipped large quantities of lumber and lumber to Norfolk and points still further north. Thomasville is located in the midst of a rich mining region, some of the mines being worked on a large scale and profitably. Among them I note the Labor mine, operated by a New York company, which yields more gold and silver mines, and Baltimore gold and silver smelting works, all within a radius of a few miles of town. The mining operations are conducted under the able and successful management of Prof. H. W. Reinhard, whom I had the pleasure of meeting. The school building, a very handsome structure, is a fine monument to the scholars receive every attention. The commencement exercises take place the second week in June, when a great number of students may be expected. I found the Sullivan House a first class hotel, and would remark in conclusion that I know of no place where a traveler could spend a few days more pleasantly than in this pretty, thriving town of Thomasville.

Dr. Pritchard Accepts a Call to Louisville.
Baltimore News and Observer.
The Thomas H. Pritchard, D. D. one of the most talented ministers of the Baptist church, who was for years pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, and who has for the past three years been pastor of the First Baptist College, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Broadway Baptist church, Louisville, Ky. This church has one of the largest and wealthiest congregations in the West, and the building cost some $200,000. The regret at losing Dr. Pritchard will be felt all over North Carolina.

The Wheat Crop.
LACROSSE, Wis., May 27.—Special telegrams from forty principal points ranging through the great grain producing belt from the Mississippi river at this point through Minnesota to the grain fields of Dakota, are to the effect that the acreage of wheat is 30 per cent less than in 1881. The plant is looking healthy and although somewhat backward in its progress, a good yield.

A House and a Pianist Drowned.
SPRINGFIELD, May 27.—A special from Brattleboro, Vermont, to the Union says that George A. Conly, a well known pianist and Harmonica player, and pianist of Clara Louise Kellogg concert company were drowned in Lake Spoford at Chesterfield, New Hampshire, yesterday.

HER HEALTH AND LIFE
Depend more on the regularity of her menstrual functions than on any other cause combined. An actual or a "living death" is the inevitable result of a disarrangement of a function which makes woman what she is in every respect, and especially her mental and bodily constitution. Hence, immediate and complete restoration of the system is the safeguard against weakness and ruin. In all cases of stoppage, delay, or irregularity of the monthly flow, Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is the only safe remedy. It acts by giving tone to the nervous system, restoring the blood, and determining directly to the organs of menstruation.
