CHAS. R. JONES, Editor and Proprietor. (PUBLISHED AT THE OBSERVER OFFICE AT CHARLOTTE, N. C., AS PROVIDED BY LAW.) THURSDAY, JUNE 8, 1882.

The Galveston News reports "the finest crops in that State the eye of man ever beheld."

President Arthur's mail averages six hundred letters a day. He reads them by proxy.

The festive watermelon has come to the front in some sections of Georgia and the colored brother is happy.

Mr. J. P. Balington has sold the Shelby by Aurora to Mr. W. H. Miller, and bids farewell to his readers in the last issue.

Gen. Clingman has returned to Washington from Eureka Springs, Arkansas, somewhat improved in health but quite feeble.

It costs Dr. Glenn, the great California farmer $10,000 a year to keep the wild geese from foraging on his wheat crop.

The Greenbackers in Congress have been playing very nicely into the hands of the Republicans in the contested election cases.

Mr. Jake Hallyburton, of the Blue Ridge Blade, has gone over to the Republicans. Gravitation that way for him was quite natural.

A handsome sarcophagus has been erected in St. Lawrence cemetery, Charleston, to the memory of the late Hon. M. P. O'Connor.

Michigan women won't do to fool with. Last Monday night Mrs. Anna Stevenson barred her husband out and when he attempted to force his way into the house she shot him dead.

When one man shoots at another in Atlanta the street becomes "paralyzed," in the language of the local reporters, but we are glad to state that it is only a temporary paralysis, for a street permanently paralyzed would be a sad sight.

If Attorney General Brewster will pursue the Star Route cases now on trial with as much zeal as he did the political cases in South Carolina he may be better rewarded for his labors, and the cause of honest reform be benefited thereby.

What would Speaker Keifer do without a sergeant-at-arms? When the boys get obstreperous and that ponderous gavel beats the desk in vain, Keifer surrenders and the sergeant-at-arms comes to the front. Keifer bangs the mallet, but the sergeant runs the House.

Mrs. Laura Andrews, a St. Louis lady who appeared in court arrayed "in an elegant dress of brown silk and a more elegant polonaise of light-brown brocade silk," was sentenced to four months in jail for stealing Mrs. Collins' poodle dog.

The New York Tribune remarks complacently that no Democratic Moses has been yet found in Pennsylvania. They have found a Republican Moses however in New York and he has just gone in the direction that a great many distinguished Republicans are traveling—to the penitentiary.

A telegram dated Lumberton, N. C., June 4th, says there was a terrible fight on that day between two girls named Frances McNeil and Jane McKellar, about a young man. Jane had got the advantage of Frances and was choking her to death, when Frances drew a dirk and stabbed Jane to the heart, and then fell in a swoon across her body.

There are 6500 Jews in St. Louis, and it is ascertained that they give, annually, $70,000 to religious and benevolent institutions conducted under the auspices of their own faith. This is an average of $11 for every Israelitish man, woman and child among them. As the Jews are proverbially liberal toward the benevolent and charitable institutions of the Gentiles, and rarely fail to give when called upon to relieve suffering humanity, it is fair to presume this large tax for the support of their own institutions is considerably augmented by their charities of which no account is taken.

Henry W. Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution, received a note a few days ago signed by about eleven hundred citizens of Atlanta, asking him to permit his name to be used as a candidate for Congressman at large from Georgia. He writes a reply thanking them for their friendly interest, but declining the request, because the duties of journalism require all his time and he can't abandon a calling which he deems so honorable and useful to become a member of Congress. He is content where he is and where he knows he can be of more use in promoting the prosperity of Georgia than he could be in Washington as a representative.

Mr. Blaine has written a letter to his political friends in Maine declining to be a candidate for Congressman at large. He says that after being twenty-three years continuously in the public service he left it in consequence of a tragedy that has involved deep changes in the policy of the government, and since then he has been attending to long-neglected private affairs, from which he cannot now turn aside except with injustice to those who have even a stronger claim upon him than the great constituency which has so long honored him. He promises to assist in the coming campaign, and he regards it of the highest importance that Mr. Frye should be re-elected to the Senate.

THE OREGON ELECTION. The full returns from the election in Oregon are not yet in, and consequently it is not known which party has carried the legislature, although both claim it. The Republicans have carried the State by a small majority, and re-elected George to Congress, but the main interest hinges on the legislature which elects a Senator to succeed Mr. Grover, Democrat. The present legislature is Republican, and it is considered doubtful if the Democrats can overcome the joint majority of twenty-two which the Republicans have.

Mr. Arthur's signing the Chinese bill eliminated that question from the canvass and saved the Republicans from the indignation of the anti-mongolians.

THE "LIBERAL" CONVENTION YESTERDAY.

Telegrams from Raleigh last night inform us that the "liberal anti-prohibition" convention met yesterday in accordance with the programme previously arranged. There were about one hundred and fifty "delegates" present, about forty of whom were of Democratic antecedents, the remainder of the Republican fold.

Col. Johnston was chosen permanent president, which was right and proper, inasmuch as Col. Johnston is standing sponsor for the new party. It would have been exceedingly ungrateful to have ignored Col. Johnston's claims to that exalted position. Neither was the colored brother slighted, for he had his proportionate part of the vice-presidents and secretaries, and was also given his pro rata share of representation on the committee on resolutions.

After all this one would think that matters would have proceeded harmoniously and lovingly, but it seems that this was not so, for we are told there was much disagreement between the Republicans and Democrats (so-called) as to who should be nominated for congressman-at-large, the Republicans demanding a Republican, the Democrats (so-called) demanding a Democrat (so-called). This contention was finally brought to a close, the Republicans triumphing and securing the nomination of Oliver H. Duckery, which is no matter of surprise as the Republicans had made up their minds to have a Republican for that position or cut loose from the convention, which would have been a catastrophe for which the "Liberals" were not prepared.

The nomination of Col. Folk for the Judgeship was in the way of a compromise. Although his name had been mentioned in connection with the new move it was not generally understood that he had given in his adhesion, and he was represented by his friends as taking umbrage at the mention of his name as one of the movers in it.

They drafted a set of resolutions almost identical with those passed by the county convention which met in this city last week, and which were published in THE OBSERVER on the day following, resolutions with a good deal of claptrap and unbecome in them, intended to deceive the masses, if the masses can be deceived by such transparent tricks.

It is stated that there were a large number of Republicans present, not delegates, but in sympathy with the movement, which is no doubt true, for it is a bird of their own hatching, and they have sympathized with it since the incubating process began. It is perfectly natural that they should sympathize with it. It belongs to them.

MR. ARTHUR'S COURSE. The Philadelphia American, Republican, utters the following note of warning to Mr. Arthur:

Mr. Arthur has been so much pleased with his political successes through the administration of patronage in Pennsylvania, that he is going to treat New York to the same policy. Republican officials of tried worth and capacity have been removed, and are to be removed in still greater numbers, to make room for political workers who will bring their influence on the Stewart side. The process has begun with two officials at Albany, and a long list of such removals is expected. We can see but one result of all this,—the disintegration of the party. It may accomplish what some of the Stalwart newspapers promise us. It may get for Mr. Arthur the Republican convention's nomination to the Presidency in 1884. But it will make that nomination not worth the having. When Pennsylvania refuses to be led in the traces of "machine" politics, what is to be expected of New York and New England?

Don Cameron is playing a pretty bold game in Pennsylvania, in which he has the backing of the administration. It being understood that Cameron in return for the favors shown him by Mr. Arthur is to work for Arthur's re-nomination. The independent element in the State not fancying this lay out, and objecting to being driven like so many cattle by Cameron's crowd, have organized a revolt that promises to give that gentleman and his followers about as much, if not more than they can attend to between now and the time for election. The fight has assumed such a vigorous phase that the Democrats have high hopes of being able to carry the State, and by defeating Cameron place it in a fair way for a Democratic triumph in 1884. Should Arthur continue his Stalwart programme, all this is, as the American says, not only possible, but probable.

The House committee on elections Tuesday, reported in the case of Smith, Republican, contestant against Shelly, Democrat, from Alabama, a resolution declaring Shelly not entitled to the seat, and that Smith having died, the seat be declared vacant.

It is said that during the wind and hail storm that swept over a portion of Halifax county, in this State last Sunday, hail stones fell that weighed a pound and a quarter.

Nominations and Confirmations. WASHINGTON, June 7.—The President to-day sent to the Senate the following nominations of members of the tariff commission: Wheeler, of New York; Hayes, of Massachusetts; Oliver, of Pennsylvania; Garland, of Illinois; Ambler, of Ohio; Phelps, of Missouri; Chestnut, of South Carolina; Porter, of the District of Columbia; and Duncan S. Kerney, of Louisiana. Also the nomination of C. J. Burnett postmaster at Henderson, Texas.

The Senate confirmed the nominations of E. J. Brulaur, of La., secretary of the legation at Paris; John W. Howell collector of customs at Fernandina, Fla.; John W. Arnold postmaster at Columbus, Ga., and Matthew K. Miller postmaster at Grenada, Miss.

Weather. WASHINGTON, June 7.—Middle Atlantic States partly cloudy weather, local rains southeast to south west winds, slight changes in temperature, stationary or slowly falling barometer.

South Atlantic States, occasional rain and partly cloudy weather, winds mostly from east to south, stationary or lower barometer.

Gulf States, rain and partly cloudy weather, east to south winds, lower barometer, stationary or a slight rise in temperature.

Tennessee and Ohio Valley, increasing cloudiness and areas of rain, variable changes in temperature, slight changes in temperature.

Wilmington Review. A young girl, Jennie Hill, while out in the vicinity of Hilton a few days ago hunting wild flowers, slipped and fell into a deep pool of water. Mr. Little Wiley, who saw the little thing go under, plunged in the water and succeeded in pulling her out after she had sunk twice.

THE LIBERAL CONVENTION.

THE REPUBLICAN ELEMENT PREPONDERATES.

Not Agreed about the Nominations—The Republicans Insist upon a Republican for Congressman-at-Large and Decline to go over to the "Liberal" Wing.

By Associated Press. Raleigh, June 7.—The Liberal and anti-prohibition Convention of yesterday anti-prohibition Convention of yesterday met at 1 o'clock. About 150 delegates were in attendance, of whom 30 were colored. About 40 were from Democratic association and about 80 were Republicans. Col. Johnston, Editors Stewart and Hallyburton and Messrs. Respass and Satterwhite, of Beaufort county, are the leading Democrats participating, and Judge Moore and O'Hara, Col. Taylor and Colonel O'Leary, are the most prominent Republicans.

Col. Johnston, as chairman of the anti-prohibition committee, called the convention to order and was made permanent president. Colored men were awarded a share of the vice-presidents and secretaries, and the committee appointed on resolutions.

It is understood that the leading Democrats and Republicans in the convention have not been able to agree as to whether a Democrat or Republican shall be nominated for congressman-at-large. Republicans insist that they will not go over to the Democratic wing of the Liberal party.

Many Republican leaders are here in sympathy with the convention but not as delegates.

"MY SON OLIVER."

The Republicans Capture the Congressman at Large.

LATER.—Special to The Observer. RALEIGH, N. C., June 7.—The convention adopted resolutions against the existing county government system of the State; demanding free ballot and fair count; demanding a repeal of the prohibition act submitted to the people last August and rejected; favoring a liberal system of public instruction by the State and National Government, and urging the application of the fund arising from the tax on spirits to the common schools under the supervision of the State.

The convention nominated for Congressman at large Oliver H. Duckery, a Republican, and for Supreme Court Judge, George N. Folk, heretofore a Democrat.

Rev. A. C. Dixon was elected president of Wake Forest College.

IN CONGRESS.

THE SENATE ENGAGED WITH THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA BILL.

In the House Springer, of Illinois, Apologizes to Cox for Sharp Words—The Deficiency Appropriation Bill Works up Heated Political Controversy and Makes Things Lively.

WASHINGTON, June 7th.—Senators Jones, from the committee on railroads, reported back with a written report, the petition of citizens of Louisiana, for a forfeiture of the land grant to the New Orleans, Boston, Rouse and Vicksburg Railroad.

In reply to an inquiry by Cameron, of Wisconsin, Jones stated that the committee saw no reason for the forfeiture of the grant as proposed. The report had been built by another company—assignee of the original grant which had power to make such assignment upon his motion. The committee was discharged from consideration of the subject.

The House bill appropriating $100,000 for the public building at Lynchburg, Va., passed.

The House declaratory resolution regarding the death of Garibaldi was agreed to.

The consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill occupied the remainder of the day. Less than a quorum of members were present while the bill was under consideration.

Van Wyck offered a resolution directing that the question of confirming persons appointed to-day on the tariff commission be considered in open session. The resolution was laid over upon an objection by Plumb.

Jones, of Florida, introduced a bill granting the right of way to the Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West Railroad Company through the military reservation at Tampa, Fla. Referred.

Executive session. Adjourned.

Notes.—Sparrow, of Illinois, rising to a question of privilege said that during debate on the deficiency bill yesterday, some rather angry colloquy had occurred between Cox and himself, not, however, to the extent reported in the Washington morning papers. The remarks had been made aside and had not gone into the Record but for his part in the colloquy, he respectfully begged pardon of the gentleman from New York, to whom he has always maintained the kindest feelings.

Cox replied that he was glad that the gentleman from Illinois had taken occasion to express his regret for the remarks made by him. He thought that gentleman had made the amende honorable and he accepted the apology in the same kindly feeling in which it had been tendered.

The House went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the general deficiency appropriation bill.

The clause directing the credit to extend to the sum of $47,000, the amount debited to him on the treasury books, was ruled out on a point of order.

Blount and Hewitt objected to two items aggregating $300,000 for hire of the navy department and another heated political controversy arose between these gentlemen and Robeson and others, the point of attack being Robeson's management of the navy department.

The House at 5:05 adjourned and the Republican caucus was announced to take place at 8 o'clock this evening.

An Old Philadelphia Landmark to be Torn Down.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The Pennsylvania National Bank has purchased for $80,000 the old brick building at the southwest corner of Seventh and Market streets in which it has long been held that Jefferson wrote the declaration of independence. The old building will be torn down and a bank structure erected on its site.

Adulterated Cotton.

LONDON, June 7.—At the meeting of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce to-day a communication was read from the foreign office concerning adulteration of cotton in America. The secretary of the chamber was instructed to write to the foreign office, pointing out the influence of the British embassy being brought to bear against the practice.

Bright's Disease, Diabetes.

Beware of the stuff that pretends to cure these diseases or other serious kidney, urinary or liver ailments. It is a dangerous and costly mistake to take any medicine unless you know its ingredients and its effects. The only medicine that will remove the cause of disease so effectually that it never returns is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

A pure strengthening tonic, free from whiskey and alcohol, and containing the most valuable elements of health, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.
