A TALE OF A SHIRT. The Length of Time the Great Iowa Statesman Wore One. Credit in Dispute.

A good, but not very clean shirt story is told of General Sherman's experience with Henry Clay Dean, a card-wearing friend of years, and when Sherman became general, and Dean happened to be in Washington, the latter, naturally enough, felt a desire to renew the old acquaintance.

General Sherman, remonstrated Mrs. S. "I can't have such a dirty looking man at my table; can't you spruce him up a little?" The General said he'd fix that, and so at an opportune moment he hustled Mr. Dean up stairs, ransacked a bureau and produced a clean shirt for him to put on.

Mrs. Sherman was mollified, and the dinner was really a charming affair; for there is no more delightful and entertaining and instructive conversationalist than Henry Clay Dean.

One year after this event General Sherman was at the Lindell Hotel, St. Louis, with his family. A card was brought up bearing Henry Clay Dean's name.

"He is such a charming talker, we must have him to dinner. Only you must see that he looks presentable." For Dean, who is an excellent and constructive conversationalist than Henry Clay Dean.

The military demand as a condition the dismissal of two confidential advisers of the Khedive.

VIENNA, June 15.—The Neue Presse says that England and France are willing to agree that Turkey shall be entrusted with intervention in Egypt as a mandatory and under the control of Europe, but not as sovereign power.

Died from Home, Among Strangers. Statesville Landmark. A stranger, about 20 years old, who said his name was A. L. Troutman, was found May 31st, at the gate of S. A. Asylum, near the depot, in a state of insensibility.

Without money save 2 cts. Mr. Cockerhaw, ready to entertain the poor stranger, took him into his house, and called Dr. S. J. Barker, who is always willing to administer to the wants of the poor, and who immediately obeyed the summons.

On examination he found that the patient had been suffering three days with hemorrhage of the bowels and typhoid fever.

Dr. King, of Filkins, and E. B. Hampton, of Jonesville, were called. But in spite of all the skill of the eminent men, the angel of death prevailed, and the poor boy expired on the 11th inst.
