Of all the Republican prohibitionists in this State has one yet raised his voice in protest of the action of the Republican convention in making anti-prohibition an issue in the coming contest? Many of them were present in the convention and not only remained silent, but endorsed by their votes the action of the convention.

The investigation into the Chili-Peru guano business has closed in Washington without developing anything of special interest. The witnesses seem to have been of the sharp order, and if they knew of any crookedness had the skill to keep it in the back-ground notwithstanding the efforts of Blount and Belmont to turn on the lights.

All the arrangements were made for a duel between Messrs. John W. Mobley and John H. Pearson, young men of Columbia, when a peace warrant was sworn out by Rev. Dr. Girardeau last Wednesday and they were placed under arrest. They were found on the ground where the distances had been staked off, seconds at hand, and everything about ready to proceed with hostilities.

The discussion of the county government question is not a matter of option with Democrats now. It has been precipitated by the action of the coalition conventions and we must meet the issue whether we will or not. We cannot evade it, if we would. How to meet it, and how to prevent the opposition from turning it to advantage is what addresses itself to the serious consideration of every thinking Democrat.

In reply to the assertion that Col Folk was nominated for judge in the "liberal" convention by J. E. O'Hara, colored, the Blue Ridge Blade, whose editor has recently gone over to the Republican party, says that O'Hara is not very black, and that he has only a "little negro blood in his veins, although he is a representative man of that nominated by a bright colored Republican as it is by a real black one.

Atlanta Constitution: On Monday the house passed, almost without debate, a bill to appropriate $97,640,000 as pensions. The south pays one-third of this vast sum. Thirty odd million are taken out of the south directly to be distributed in other States. Indirectly as much more is taken at the same time, to fill the pockets of northern manufacturers. Does the Wilmington Review pro, pose to hold THE OBSERVER responsible for the drought last summer, or for the onslaught on the European residents in Alexandria? It could with just as much propriety do so as to charge THE OBSERVER with the small majority in this county for Jarvis as compared with the majority given for Vance and Tilden. The reduction in the figures is very easily accounted for and we will take occasion to say that a repetition of another convention such as met in Raleigh when Gov. Jarvis was nominated would result in election figures that it would be sad for Democrats to contemplate. Jarvis's vote in the State was some 2,371 less than Vance's. Would the Review hold THE OBSERVER responsible for that?

The Anson Times takes us to task on the matter of an editorial which appeared in the DAILY OBSERVER last Friday, on the subject of "County Government," in which after quoting our words in saying that "we have submitted to it in years past as a matter of party expediency," asks pertinently why we are not willing to continue to "submit." Now there isn't any trouble in answering Brother Cowan's interrogatory: The Republicans won't let us;

HAMPTON PLEADS FOR UNITY. An effort has been made to get Senator Wade Hampton to consent to run for Governor of South Carolina again, in reference to which he writes a letter declining to run, on the ground that there are other worthy gentlemen in the State who are fully competent to The burning of 80,000 or 100,000 bar- lead the party and fill the chair of Governor, and also because he desires at as early a day as practicable to retire from public life, he concludes his letter thus, and we commend his utterances to the people of our State, where they apply with quite as much force as to South Carolina:

"But while I cannot enter the field as a candidate, I shall cheerfully do all in my power in behalf of the nominees of our party if the convention gives us good men and a good platform. Every true man in the State should feel impelled by the highest sense of duty to do this, if we hope to preserve the inestimable blessings secured to the State by the heroic efforts of the people in 1876. The perils that surround us now are nearly if not quite as great as they were then, and the incentives to united action are just as urgent. It is only by out of 923, or 72 per cent. being successkeeping our ranks unbroken that we can maintain home rule and honest government, and it is disheartening to feel that our present dangers spring not from the strength of our opponents, but from divisions, jealousies and dissensions among ourselves.

If mistakes have been committed by the representatives of our party, the people hold in their own hands the absolute power to remedy whatever evil has been done. No error that has been committed by their party can justify any man who has the interest of the State at heart in deserting its ranks, for all needful reform can be had within its organization. I regret therefore beyond expression to see dissatisfaction in any quarter, because of opposition to some of the measures adopted at the last session of the Legislature. Without reflecting in the slightest degree upon either the wisdom or the patriotism of that body, I think that their action in regard to the registration law and the stock law was unfortunate, but my opposition to these laws is no reason why I should desert the only party that has given honest and good government to the State since the war. My conception of Democracy is that the majority should rule, and those who oppose the measures mentioned will have the opportunity of ascertaining at the next election on which side the majority stands. Should it be the popular will that these laws should be repealed or modified, the next Legislature can take action in that direction. We may rest assured that no redress of any evil can be had by the restoration of Radical rule, and in the present condition of races and parties in the State, an Independent is, if possible, worse than a Radical, for he is an enemy "who steals the livery of Heaven to serve the Devil in." In the great fight we are making to preserve the civilization of our State, he who is not with us is against us, and no specious pretence of love for the "dear people" can hide the cloven foot. Let me therefore, as one who has had every political aspiration more than gratified, and who seeks nothing save the prosperity and welfare of his State, urge our people most earnestly to stand firm and to keep united. Let every lover of his State register at once and be ready to vote. Let us nominate our best men for all the offices. Let us adopt and carry out in good faith the principles which gave us success in '76, and we shall again be successful. I venture to offer this advice to my fellow-citizens because of the trust and confidence with which they have honrace." Evidently in Jake Hallybur- ored me; because of my anxious soliciton's estimation it is not so bad to be tude for the preservation of good government; because my public career is drawing to a close, and above all, because I do not wish to see the great principles and the grand cause for which brave men struggled so zealously and devoted women prayed so earnestly in '76 lost by apathy, indifference or

The following gentlemen were appointed to represent us in the county convention, to be held in Charlotte, June 28th, 1882: J W Hood, J R Morris, J W Morris, W H Klutz, L M Mc-Lendon, W A Noles, E A Flow, M L Harkey, S B Smith and J S Reid. The Senate Passes the Bank Charter Bill, and the House Spends the Day on the Bill for the Reduction of Internal Revenue Taxation.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—George presented a resolution upon the request of citizens of Vicksburg, Miss, of Italian birth, granting permission for the erection of a statue of Garibaldi in the National cemetery of Vicksburg. He said that the statue would be furnished by those who asked for this permission. Several Senators suggested doubts as to the propriety of this as establishing Trouble in Chesterfield.

Columbia Register. Col. E. B. C. Cash, of Chesterfield, on Saturday last, it is reported, had a personal rencontre with Captain Theo. F. Malloy, county treasurer, at the store of the latter. Mr. Malloy was asked by Colonel Cash if he had stated that Col. Blair, of Kershaw, was no better than Whittemore, and upon receiving an affirmative response called Capt. Malloy a liar. Malloy struck Cash, causing him to fall over a plough, and then sprang on him. After the passage of several blows they were separated. Sunday Mr. Malloy was handed a challenge from Colonel Cash by the latter's son, but he declined to transact business of that nature on the Lord's day.

Monday Col. Cash and his son went to Cheraw, the son on horseback and his father on the train. Col. Cash was arrested and required to give a bond of $400, after which he returned home. Col. Cash's son was not arrested, the the officers having failed to find him.

We have had no news from our Cheraw correspondent of the affair, and, in view of that fact, we are unable to authenticate the news of the difficulty, of which we should and doubtless would have been apprised promptly had the difficulty really occurred.
