At this season, various diseases of the bowels are prevalent, and many lives are lost through lack of knowledge of a safe and sure remedy. PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is a sure cure for Diarrhea, Dys-entery, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Summer Complaint, etc., and is perfectly safe.

Read the following:

Banneringe, N. Y., March 22, 1881.

Perry Davis Pain Killer never fails to afford instant relief for cramp and pain in the stomach.

Nicholville, N. Y., Feb. 2, 1881.

The very best medicine I know of for dysentery, cholers morbus, and cramps in the stomach. Have used it for years, and it is sure cure every time.

Moingona, Iowa, March 12, 1881.

I have used your Pain Killer in severa cases of cramp, colic and cholers morbus, and it gave almost instant relief.

Carnesville, Ga., Feb. 28, 1881.

For twenty years I have used your Pain Killer in my family. Have used it many times for bowel complaints, and it always cures. Would not feel safe without a bottle in the house.

J. B. Ivie.

Saco, Me., Jan. 22, 1881.

Have used Perry Davis Pain Killer for twelve years. It is safe, sure, and reliable. No mother should allow it to be out of the family.

Oneida, N. Y., Feb. 19, 1881.

We began using it over thirty years ago, and it always gives immediate relief. Would hardly dare to go to bed without a bottle in the house.

Conwaybord, S. C., Feb. 22, 1881.

Nearly every family in this section keeps a bottle in the house.

Nothing New Under the Sun --- A Refreshing Sleep --- A Stimulating Scidlitz Powder --- Morituri Salutamus---The Member of Congress from Tyrone --- The Financial Panic in Charlotte.

WAVELAND, June 25th, 1882. To the Editor of the Observer.

Fool.—"Can'st thou tell why one's nose stands in the middle of his face?" Lear.—"No."
Fool.—"Why to keep his eyes on either side of his nose? that what a man cannot smell out, he may spy out."

Under the bewitching jugglery of moonlight, on a wide verandah, tilted back in luxurious easy chairs, in an at-mosphere heavy with the oders from geranium, rose and oleander bushes. ere sleep knit up the ravelled sleeve of care," the Sage and I talked long and earnestly until "the glow-worm showed the matin to be near," and "can to pale his ineffectual fires."

Betwixt tobacco whiffs, and other Betwixt tobacco whiffs, and other potent antidotes to care, as Ecclesiastes the preacher tells us, "There is nothing new under the sun." We were of the same opinion. But the longer we discussed the subject, the more mysterious and abstrate it seemed to our enquiring minds, until at length—fearful the orb of light alluded to, would get up before we got down, we suddenly retired, in the most heroic and military manner we could assume, up several pairs of we could assume, up several pairs of stairs to fall into the arms of Morpheus.

On sleep it is a blessed thing,
Beloved from Pole to Pole,
To Mary Queen, the praise be given,
For the sweet slip that slid into my soul.
We never in our lifetime enjoyed a more refreshing sleep, but Queen Mab,
"who drives athwart men's noses when they lie asleen" kent hammering in my "who drives athwart men's noses when they lie asleep," kept hammering in my ear, a certain passage from the Merry Wives of Windsor. "I'll ne'er be drunk again whilst I live but in honest civil Godly company, for this trick; if I be drunk I'll be drunk with those that have the fear of God, and not with drunken Knaves," while many of your readers will recollect will recollect. Under the stimulating influence of a Seidlitz powder, from Wilder's drug store at Charlotte, we were up betimes the following morning to look on scenes "Where lawns extend, that scorn Arcadian pride, And brighter streams than famed Hydaspes glide."

It was a kaleidoscopic sort of day, altle rain—just enough to give a brighter sheen to foilage and vegetation. It hung on the sweet scented clover and the new mown hay, before "the dawn in russett mantle clad walked o'er the dew of yon high Eastern hill."

The sweet potatoe vine winked at us, the tomatoes had a jolly, rosy, comical expression on their chubby faces, the cucumbers had a torpid, sluggish look about them, and the cabbages looked grave and solemn, like the gladiators in the Roman Amphitheater, when they said (saluting the Emperor) "morituri salutamus," for one of their number was to die that very morning. But the plums and cherries, the peaches and pears, had an inviting appearance like the "leer of invitation" in a woman's eye when she wants to flirt. Were we as gifted in the way of "three piled hyperboles," and blown as full of "maggot ostentation," as the member from Tyrone (Ireland), whom the New York Herald stigmatises as Blatherskite Robinson-the same who recently visited Charlotte, and ineffectually solicited a solitary guardian of the peace and dog butcher, to interview him at "the central," on the subject of Irish grievances, we should depict in glowing colors, the scenery, the fertility of the soil, and the wonderful resources of this happy region, But not being so endowed with "blarney," we leave the subject to some future real estate and immigration agent, gifted with the colloquial powers of a life insurance agent, or the cacoethes loquendi, of the fighting Blatherskite, whose forte in warfare, would be at taking "pot shots" at rack renting stone fence. The morning OBSERVER from Charlotte, reached us at breakfast time conveying the sad intelligence of the panic in your city, caused by the collapse of one of your strongest financial institutions, the Charlotte steam laundry, and the flight of its officers to the allegorical place, "where the woodbine twineth." It was a sad blow to us, and we felt like hanging our harps on the willow trees, and sitting down (like the children of Israel) to weep by the waters of Davidson's creek. But hope which "springs eternal in the human breast," encourages us to think that amid the general gloom, the "crush of matter and the wreck of worlds," some small portion of our underclothing would escape confiscation, and be restored to us, for though not given to purple and fine linen we like a change occasionally in hot weather.

landlords, from behind a parapet of

It was a limited liability company. we believe, inasmuch as the institution, which "went up like a comet and came down like the stick," bought lightly on credit, for reasons which will be manifest to the reader. We sympathize with the stockholders, nevertheless we trust, that the generous laws of North Carolina, which provide so humanely for the protection of all delinquent debtors, their wives, their sisters, their cousins and their aunts, and which are equally humane in permitting the confiding cre-ditor to outlook for himself, will allow the institution, its wives, its sisters, &c., a handsome dividend, from the sale of their tubs and "buck baskets." But revenon a nos moutons again. Under the gentle escort of a charming maiden of a dozen summers, "in maiden meditation fancy free," with a brother of an inquiring turn of mind for her chaperone, and "thridding the sombre boskage of a dusky wood," we were on the way to "Rural Hill," the Eden from which the original Davidsons went forth to conquer and devour. Birds with gay and irridescent plumage flew carolling in the tree tops and a stray rabbit occasionally crossed the flowery way, pausing sometimes on his haunches to look at us with all the curiosity of a woman when she wants to know a secret. If in the spring time "a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love" we are still some mile posts from the goal of the "sere and yellow leaf." We have neither "a moist eye, a dry palm, nor a decreasing leg," and he that "will caper with us for a thousand marks. let him put up his money and have at Notwithstanding the "slings and arrows of outrageous fortune," we are not such an antiquated Tramp as to be altogether indifferent to the feelings of "Jane" in the opera of "Patience" when she says, "Oh Reginald, if you only knew what a wealth of golden love is waiting for you, stored in this rugged old bosom of mine, &c.

When we told our pretty companion that

"Gentle Jane was as good as gold
And always did as she was told,
And when she grew up she was given in marriage
To a first class Earl who keeps a capriage."

Her brother and chaperone was anxous to hear us expatiate further on the good qualities of "gentle Jane," but as it might be more effectual we informed

"Teasing Tom was a very bad boy,
A great big squirt was his favorite toy.
He put live shrimps in his father's boots
And sewed up the sleeves of his Sunday suits.
The consequence was he was lost totally
And married a girl in the corps de bally." But as this screed is already too long, like a Presbyterian sermon, and life being short and "art fleeting," we shall reserve the continuation of this tramp for our next to prevent your printer from exclaiming "Ohe! Jam Satis."

A TRANC.

Letter from Hon. Chas. C. Clark. IHon. Chas. C. Clark, of Newbern, whose name was prominently mentioned as a candidate for congressman-atlarge, has published the following letter, which shows that opposition to the present system of county government is not confined to the West:] NEWBERN, June 26. GENTLEMEN-Your letter of the 22d inst.. informing me of the action of the recent Democratic mass meetings of Craven county has been received. This spontaneous endorsement of the people among whom I was born and reared awakens sentiments of gratitude which I cannot adequately express. It becomes me to give a frank, candid and manly reply.

Assuming my nomination to have been made, not by any means a probable event, it would be entirely the result of a just consideration given to the claims of the second district, which are so conspicuously meritorious. I should be, in a restricted sense, the representative of the wishes and sentiments of the second district. Important questions are now agitating the public mind, from which issues will be sharply defined by the opposing parties; and the candidate of the Democratic party, if elected from the second district; should, to be an honest representative of the district, be in full accord and sympathy with what is con-ceded to be the demand of a large portion, if not a majority, of the counties composing the district.

I could not, gentlemen, conscientiously advocate any measure of adminis-trative policy which I firmly believe to be utterly subversive of the fundamental principle of Republican institutions. No legislation, the avowed purpose of which is to confer the power to govern on a minority, and that too from considerations which meet the most scathing denunciation in the axiomatic truths of the constitution itself, can ever find an advocate or an apologist in

I am not an office-seeker, and I might properly add that I would entertain the most supreme contempt for any man who would conceal his opinions, or disguise his opinions, or compromise his opinions, from mercenary motives or from sordid and corrupt considerations,

The action of the meeting you represent has offered me the only proper opportunity for referring to this subject matter, and I have promptly availed ternate clouds and sunshine, with a lit- myself of it I would net deceive any by the discovery of some new thing, but nothing one, especially the people of my native has ever stood the test like Dr. C. W. Benson's county. Permit me, therefore, to request that my name may not be brought.

They really do cure sick headache, nervous before the State convention. It would do no good, and might possibly do

Thanking the people of Craven county whom you represent, again and again, for their continuing confidence in my personal and political integrity, I pledge myself to preserve it untarnished by always advocating and defending, in their behalf, what I believe to be right, and naught else.

CHAS. C. CLARK. Yours truly, ---WOMAN,---

Better than the Smiles of Kings. To bring health and happiness to the homes of suffering women is a mission before which royal favor sinks into insignficance. What earthly benefaction can compare with one which protects from "That dire disease whose rutbless power Withers beauty's transient flower?"

which gives ease for pain, joy for sorrow, smiles for tears, the roses of health for the palor of disease, the light elastic step for dragging weariness, nights of soft repose for heavy hours of tossing re-tlessness, bounding viger for languishing duliness, the swelling lines of full grown beauty for the sharp and withered form of emaciation, a long the sharp and withered form of emaciation, a long life of mental, inspical, social and domestic enjoyments for a few sad days of pain and gloom, ending in an early grave? Such is the mission, such are the results of Dr J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, which is hence truly and appropriately styled "Woman's Best Friend."
