POPULAR EDUCATION.

The True Policy of the South. In the announcement to the voters of the Sixth Congressional District of North Carolina, which appeared in the columns of THE CHARLOTTE OBSER-VER, July 9th inst., the proprietor of this paper stated at some length his views on the subject of education, setting forth the fact that public education in the South is at this day a necessity. The more we look into the question the more are we impressed that such is the ease. It is not only in the interest of good government and good morals to educate the masses, but the internal and social welfare of our people, and the future prosperity of the South would be materially enhanced were some judicious and liberal system adopted in favor of free schools in every Southern State. We are in this connection pleased to notice that the question of education is being considerably agitated in the South. In Congress, too, the question has been under consideration, but it appears that our legislators cannot readily or quickly enough decide upon any measure that would promote the cause of popular education.

" It is with sorrow that we people of the South are obliged to confess that we are far behind the North in the matter of education. Of course many reatons could be adduced to explain the real causes. Previous to the late civil war we neglected opportunities. After the war the Southern people realized that a thousand million doltars had been swept from their grasp in a day. And now we are heavily taxed to pay off the debt made by the war. The present generation has suffered more than any other in this country during the past

What is to be done? Something should be, and that'speedily. The Southto-day, is too burdened with debt and taxation to do much. The general government should come to our relief. How much good could be done even were some millions of dollars of our surplus revenue derived from taxation annually distributed among the several States? Instead of voting away to soulless corporatious our public lands, why not sell them and establish a permanent fund for the support of schools? Our public lands, so long as they remain idle are doing this generation no good, not bringing in a cent of revenue. Why not classify some dozens of millions of acres of these lands, grazing, agricultural and timbered lands, and placing upon them a minimum value sell them at auction or private sale in order to realize a fund that the children of this generation, white and black, rich and poor, high and low, may have some benefit from this princely domain? The children of this generation are as much entitled to benefits from these lands as the children of the next generation. In the country, in our State, we find the children (but not all of them) furnished with schools two or three months in the year, meeting in churches, log cabins and clap board school houses. Realize on these public lands, take the interest, build school houses, get good teachers, furnish the children tuition for nine or ten months in the year, and so qualify them to enter State or National universities if they desire

The National government has not done its duty by the South so far as fostering education. Though several measures have been introduced into Congress relating to the subject, still no action has been taken to aid the cause of education. The late Senator Burnside, of Rhode Island, proposed to create an educational fund from the sale of public lands. His bill passed the Senate, but was clogged in the lower house of Congress. Senator Logan, of Illinois, proposed to devote the surplus revenue which the tax on spirits and tobacco, and such luxuries, brings into the Federal treasury into a fund for the purposes of general education. Either proposition is a good one. Senator Logan's proposition should be adopted, or our present internal revenue system should be abolished. The South could well afford to educate her children were our people allowed the benefits the general government derives from the revenue collec-

It is the bounden duty of the North Carolina delegation in Congress to pay more attention to the subject of general education. Members of Congress are the people's servants. They are not sent to Washington solely to have a good time, make buncombe speeches and look after Federal offices and petty clerkships for pet constituents, but to assist in legislating for the public good of the people of their respective districts and of the whole country.

We are glad that the conventions of both the Democratic and Republican parties, recently held at Raleigh, took such a liberal view of the educational question. Gov. Jarvis, in his speech before the Democratic convention, did honor to himself and to the cause of education in urging the party to use every effort to promote the educational interests of both white and black in our State. The Governor certainly deserves credit for what he has done during his administration for the cause. On this one question both the Democratic and Republican parties should be united. As THE OBSERVER'S proprietor announced in these column's a week ago-"I would dip down into the surplus revenues of an overflowing Federal treasury, to find money to educate the poor children throughout the country, without regard to race or color, and without regard to whether the leadership of the measure came from the Republican or Democratic parties." Every legislator, every good citizen and every tax payer who has at heart the moral, intellectual and social welfare of the South should endorse the sentiments expressed above.

Toy pistols should be abolished. They created a panic among the small boys up in New England on the 4th of July according to all reports. But haven't we too many "small boys" anyhow?

Senator Beck's amendment to the tax bill to reduce the tax on manufactured tobacco 10 cents per pound should

The press of the North and West, we notice occasionally speaks in the highest terms of the representative ability displayed in the lower house of Congress by that celebrated scholar, wit and Democrat, from the fifth district of New York-the irresistible S. S. Cox. We notice that more than one newspaper has suggested the name of Mr. Cox as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1884. One of the oldest, Mr. Cox is likewise one of the ablest and most diligent working members of Congress. He never neglects his work and no man doubts his integrity as a man and legislator.

Congress is very liberal in making appropriations, in pensioning people, and in spending the people's money. It is to be expected that, while so many members are absent looking after a renomination and re-election that some bills will pass that should not. The little mileage item of $33,000, a kind of "little salary grab" for Senators as Congressman Townshend of Illinois characterized it, did not go through. Good

Why Gen. Beauregard was not Appointed Commander-in-Chief of the Egyptian Army.

In 1870, Gen. P. G. T. Beauregard, of the Confederate army, but now residing in New Orleans, was on the eve of being appointed to the high position of commander-in-chief of the Egyptian forces, with the privilege of bringing with him a staff of fifteen officers from America. The arrival at Cairo about this time of the new United States consul-general, the notorious George H. Butler, put a summary end to the scheme. Mr. Butler, it is said, intimated to the Viceroy that as Gen. Beauregard was yet an "unpardoned rebel," and as he had betrayed his country, there was no reason why, the opportunity occurring, he might not betray the Khedive. These representations had their effect, and Gen. Beauregard did not get the position. It will be remembered that Gen. Beauregard during the late civil war declared Gen. Butler, uncle of the young consul, an "outlaw" when he issued his famous booty and beauty "pronunciamento" against Gen. Butler while in command at New Orleans. This, perhaps, induced General Butler's nephew to pursue the course

A Down Town Merchant, Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, pro-cured a supply for the child On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homocopathy.
That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the dey following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and hap py. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has con-tinued to use the Syrup and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet falled to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother Sold by all Druggists 25 cents a bottle.

which gives ease for pain, joy for sorrow, smiles for tears, the roses of health for the paher of disease, the light, elastic step for dragging weariness, hights of soft repose for heavy hours of tossing restlesaness, bounding vigor for languishing duliness, the swelling lines of full grown beauty for the sharp and withered form of emaciation, a long life of mental, physical, social and domestic enjoyments for a few sad days of pain and gloom, ending in an early grave? Such is the mission, such are the results of Dr J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, which is hence truly and appropriately styled "Woman's Best Friend."

[From Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper.] A LADY SAID

"Those Horrid Pimples! No, I Cannot Go. Please Present My Excuses."

Probably two-thirds of the ladies in society and homes of our land are afflicted with skin diseases of various kinds, to do away with which, if it could be done without injury, would be the happiest event of their lives. Then she would have instead of a disfigured and marred countenance, one that would be handsome, or at least good-looking for any one with a clear, pure skin, no matter what the cut of her features are, has a certain amount of good looks which attract everybody. As it is now, she imagines every one sees and talks about "those freckles," "those horrid pimples," and other blemishes with which she is afflicted, and this is true of either sex.

To improve this appearance great risks are taken; arsenic, mercury, or high-sound titled named articles containing these death-dealing drugs, are taken in hopes of getting rid of all these troubles In many cases, death is the result. No alleviation of the burning, heating, itching and inflammation is given. All troubled with Eczema (salt rheum), rs, Humors, Inflamm Eruptions of any kind, Diseases of the Hair and Scalp, Scrofula, Ulcers, Pimples or Tender Itchings on any part of the body, should known that there is hope for them in a sure, perfect and elegant remedy, known as "Dr. C. W. Benson's Skin Cure." It makes the skin white, soft and smooth, removes tan and freckles, and is the best tollet dressing in the world. It is elegantly put up. two bottles in one package, consisting of both internal and external treatment.
