> Gentlemen:—I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great soreness on my breast, with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidneys, and spleen, but I got no relief. I thought I would try Brown's Iran Bitters; I have now taken one bottle and a half and am about well—palm in side and back all gone—soreness in side and back all gone—soreness all out of my breast, and I have good appetite, and am gaining is strength and flesh. It can justly be called the king of medicines. JOHN K. ALLENDER.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is composed of Iron in soluble form; Cinchona the great tonic, together with other standard remedies, making a remarkable non-alcoholic tonic, which will cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Malaria, Weakness, and relieve all Lung and Kidney diseases.

They returned to the city about dusk, expressing themselves highly pleased with their day in woods.

The Boy Firemen. There was a reet race last night on Tryon street, between the Young Hornets and Pioneer companies, resulting in a victory for the former company. The race was run over the usual track and was witnessed by quite a crowd who were attracted by the shouts of the boys and the clatter of their reels. This was the score made by each company in two runs:

Bingham's School Reopened.

We are glad to announce that the old and excellent institution known throughout all this broad land as the Bingham school, is ready to resume business. The buildings destroyed by fire on 1st of last May, have been replaced with fine brick structures and the students are once more gathering at Mebanesville. Capt. Pride Jones put off thirty cadets at that depot yesterday. The new buildings are not all finished off and entirely completed, but enough of them are finished to accommodate the students for the present.

A Strange Disclosure. Dr. J. F. G. Mittag has made another raid upon his store of learning and brings out this piece of information for the benefit of THE OBSERVER readers. He says that "it is possible to discover the name of an individual by an inspection of his face. Mutes understand each other by the motion of their lips; and as our thoughts move the muscles of the face through which they are habitually expressed, the thought of our name is attended with a legible motion of our lips. More than twenty years ago I afforded, in the North and South evidence of this."

The Row at Mt. Mourne. Mr. S. O. Beard, of Mt. Mourne, writes us that our informant gave us an extravagant account of the row at the picnic held there last Saturday. He says the rains had a more dampening effect upon the success of the pienic than the fights did. As usual some of the boys took on a little whiskey and at 5 o'clock in the evening, Mr. W. A. Mayhew and Mr. Joseph White, who had had a difficulty at Davidson College, met each other and renewed the quarrel. Mayhew knocked White down and got on him. The fight then lasted but a few seconds. At the end of it White was sitting on Mayhew and had brought out the red in several places. Mayhew then gave evidence by words that he was tired and ceased to struggle and White was then taken off him, and that is simply all there was of the fight.

Two Palace Car Travelers.

Mai J.C. Winder and Capt V. O. Johnston, railroad magnates, arrived in the city yesterday, by the same train but each one in his own private car. During the day they visited and made an official inspection of the new Carolina Central Depot, the new platforms side tracks and general sourroundings. Maj. Winder cil not like the portico part of the depot, but with this exception everything was voted entirely satisfactory. They left the city yesterday evening, Capt. Johnston in his car, Maj. Winder in his. They took supper in their portable palaces like two old bachelors, each one having a cook for himself.

Moonlight and Ice Cream.

The young ladies of Japan and China were interviewed by a chosen few of our young men yesterday evening, and they stated that they would positively assist at the lawn party to-night. Every effort is being made to make the entertainment a success, and as everything ever gotten up by the ladies of the Baptist church has always been successful. a good time may be anticipated. The entrance fee is only ten cents. Ice cream and other refreshments will be furnished at reasonable rates, and a good time is anticipated by young and old. It is rumored that the work will soon be resumed on the Baptist church. Let all our citizens help on the good

Making Bricks for the Pavement. Mr. D. K. Cecil, of Lexington, who has the contract for making brick for laying the pavements of the city, arrived yesterday with his wagons and teams, and commences work to-day at the old Taylor yard. He is to make 500,000 brick and says he will begin delivering them within three weeks. His contract is to make the brick and lay them in the sidewalks at the rate of $12 per thousand. All the brick are to be hard burned and of the best quality. He brought his wagons and brick yard material from Lexington to this place through the country and will have everything unbundled and at work this evening.

Oscar Wilde Coming.

McSmith yesterday received a letter from Osgar Wilde, who is now at Cape May, New Jersey, accepting the invitation to lecture in the Charlotte opera A party of young folks went out | house, and stating that he would visit t) the plantation of Mr. Hannibal | this city about the 20th of October. He is in no hurry to return to his home across the waters, and has decided to spend the winter lecturing in the Southern cities. Of course he will draw a large house, not that he or his lecture are worth five cents, but just because the people will not be able to miss the opportunity for seeing the great æsthetical jackass who has been stalking through the land trying to persuade the men to wear knee breech es and raise sun flowers. The secret of Oscar Wilde's success is that he is a fool of such an extraordinary calibre that the foolish people spend their money just to see the fool and his fool-

The City Court.

At the mayor's court yesterday morning Wm. Pennington and wife, the parties who gave battle to the police the day before, were brought up for trialbut an examination was waved and the trial was set for to-morrow morning. Pennington and wife gave bond for their appearance at that time and were released from custody. The negro mans wounds had been attended to by Dr. O'Donoghue and he did not seem to be suffering much. His sealp was laid open on the forehead in a gash about three inches long and there were other abrasions and contusions all ever his head. He had lost his bullying air and was meek as a kitten, and tried to lay the blame for the whole affair upon his wife. He will be represented by counsel before the mayor this morning and the trial promises to be interesting. Henry Dunn, colored, was before the mayor, charged with committing an assault on Henry Pratt. Judgment was suspended on payment of costs.

A Wedding Happily Ended. Yesterday afternoon Mr. James Alexander, colored, walked up to Esq Davidson's office with his strong right hand firmly cemented to the hand of a blushing colored damsel whose name was Harriet Williams. Those who saw the two shuffling along to the magistrate's office knew at once that some splicing business was to be done, and hurried along to see it. The expectant bride and groom were somewhat thunder struck when they found that it would require an outlay of about two dollars cash before the operation of resolving them into one could be performed, and as they did not have the money and the show was about to go under, some magnanimous person passed the hat around and a sufficiency of cash was raised, after which the ceremony was proceeded with. When the Justice pronounced the knot firmly and eternally tied, alderman John Schenck, who had contributed most liberally to the marriage fund, stepped up and claimed a kiss from the bride. The husband consented and John gave her a kiss that sounded like a custard dropped from a second story window. After this performance the newly wedded pair once more gripped hands and took theirbridal tour to a distant cotton patch

An Ungrateful Dog. About 2 o'clock Tuesday night, Mr. Will Myers, who had come in on the train and was walking along home, thought he heard sounds as of a man struggling in a well, while passing the new Carolina Central depot, and informed officers Blackwelder and Carter of the fact. The policemen knew that an old and deep well was located under the platform of the depot, and getting a lantern they crawled under the platform and peered into the well, and there sure enough, was-a bull dog, almost exhausted, but still struggling feebly. Mr. Blackwelder got a rope, fixed a noose in it, threw it over the dog's neck and pulled him out. The animal proved to be the large bull dog owned by Capt. Jno. Cooper and which had always been kept chained in the yard. Immediately on recovering the dog made for the officers and put them to flight. After saving the dog's life and then being treated in this way by the ungrateful brute, they were strongly tempted to kill him, but their first thought was to get out of his way. The

A Collapsed Cyclone. Yesterday evening while Mr. Walter Brem was quietly at work at the desk and the clerks were busying themselves in various ways about the store, they were rudely disturbed by an inebriated stranger who came into the store with a hop, step and a jump, slammed his hat to the floor, threw his coat on a top shelf and began to make a fourth of July oration. He was "a rail old Arkansaw cyclone, a cross cut hurricane, and contained the sort of grit that the Moore county mill stones are made of" He wanted to expand himself and mix up Walter Brem and all the clerks with the large and varied assortment of hardware to be seen on the shelves. Mr. Brem had no idea of being mixed up in this manner and advanced on the cyclone, which immediately died down to a dead calm, asked for its hat and coat, and wabbled out. Leaving the store, the cyclone swept zigzag across the pavement until it found itself centred around a policemen, who guided it to the guard house and compressed its form within the narrow confines of a cell. The cyclone will be investigated by the mayor to-day.

The New Paper Project.

For a week or two past there has been some talk of starting a new daily in this city, in opposition to THE OB-SERVER, by parties who think that this paper ought to be conducted differently from the way in which it is, and an effort has been made to establish such a paper. It was proposed to raise a certain number of new subscribers and a certain sum of money as a foundation and put the paper in the hands of Mr. W. C. Wolfe, of the Monroe Enquirer, and Mr. Joseph P. Caldwell, of the Statesville Landmark; the former to take the business management of the enterprise, and the latter to be the editor. The two spent Saturday last in the city, considering the feasibility of inaugurating a new daily upon these inducements, but did not come to any definite conclusion. The matter has been in an undecided state, but yesterday Mr. Caldwell announced authoritatively to his friends in this city that he had concluded to remain in Statesville and continue his Landmark, a paper that he is doing well with and which he is not willing to give up in order to take hold of such a doubtful and vicissitudinous undertaking as that of establishing a successful daily paper. Whether Mr. Wolfe still contemplates taking hold of the proposed new paper, or not, we do not know, but we suppose this is final in regard to Mr. Caldwell.

We are persuaded that the ancient Bermes with all the subtle art and natural resources of the Alchemists, was a very poor doctor compared with Mrs. Lydia E. Finkham, of Lynn, Mass. Hermes may have been after all only a clever practioner of the Black Art; but we know there is no humbug in the pharmaceutical chemistry of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegatable Compound.

Who is Mrs. Winslew?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for 'upwards of forty years, has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a Female Physician and nurse, principally among children, she has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs. Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladles' Visitor. New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.
