DAILY CHARLOTTE OBSERVER.: FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8. 1882.

the editor of the Wilmington Review was chief usher in the Democratic wigwam.

Courier-Journal, writes to his paper that he feels very much at home in Boston. He's writing up the big restaurants.

Livingston, the colored youth from Florida, who was appointed to a West Point cadetship failed to pass the requisite examination.

made as to the political status of the next House of Representatives. Our experience is that there is as a rule a vast discrepancy between such estimates and the actual pan out when the can rid herself of all the men like Phipps who have places in her government, she can do even better than the $1.85 tax rate." But then where would capitalists very heavy expense by en-abling them to close up during the