Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

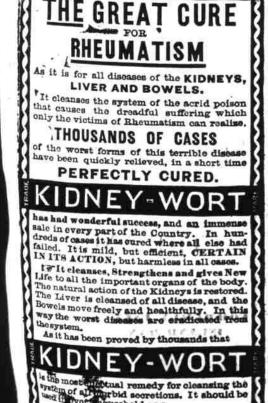

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as Brown's Iron Bitters, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

> Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880. For a long time I have been a rufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. ly appetite is simply immense. My sidney trouble is no more, and my ike a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bit-TERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

Cyrus ruled Persia about 550 years before Christ, and the coin is therefore nearly 2,400 years old.

LOCAL POLITICS.

The Speaking at Concord -- Col. Johnston as a Congressional Candidate. and Some Other Political Gossip.

Last Tuesday was a glorious day for the Democracy in Concord. Notwithstanding the fine weather, many farmers threw up work in their fields and adjourned to town to hear the speaking, and by ten o'clock there was quite a large gathering of the representative men of the county assembled in the court house. Mr. Frank Osborne, the Democratic candidate for solicitor of this district, led off with a good and effective speech, and was followed by Maj. C. Dowd, the Democratic nominee merchant of Black Rock, was in the for re-election to Congress. Major Dowd's speech was a most excellent one and did much good. At the close of his speech, the county candidates announced themselves. Messrs. Pemberton and Turner announced their candidacy for the Senate from Cabarrus and Stanley. Both stood upon the Democratic platform and announced that they would run as Democrats. Mr. Pemberton made a particularly good speech, and his remarks on the revenue business were not only humorous, but full of good points and hard solid common sense. Mr. H. C. McAllister, of Mt. Pleasant, announced himself a candidate for the House of Representatives from Cabarrus, declaring that he was a Democrat in every respect and would vote for Gen. Ransom for United States Senator. Col. Nelson Slough announced himself a candidate for sheriff of Cabarrus county.

After the candidates had said their little say, Col. A. M. Waddell addressed the people and made a very effective talk, especially in exposing the evils suffered by white people under negro rule in several of the eastern counties from about 1868 to 1876, during the reign of Radicalism.

Owing to late troubles growing out of the management, or mismanagement of county conventions in Cabarrus and Stanly, party organization has been considerably ruptured in the two counties, and it has been decided that in neither county will a convention be heid this year, but a clear field and a fair race will be allowed all the candidates. Both counties are largely Democratic and as there is no possible chance for a Republican to step in, this course is probably the best. Better or not, it is the safest, for so bitter is the feeling in the two counties against conventions, that the nominees, no matter how good and true they might be in their Democracy, would most certainly be defeated. This year they have just what they have been fighting for these many years-an old time scrub race among the candidates, all of whom are Democratic and one man is as good as another. No Radicals will be recognized in the race. The Democrats will settle their hash pretty quick and then turn in and elect the men they want.

It is now announced by authority, which we believe to be reliable, that Col. Wm. Johnston is to come out against Maj. Dowd for Congress. This has been noised around for a couple of weeks, but it is only during the past few days that it has developed into a certainty. That Col. Johnston will be Maj. Dowd's opponent, is now pretty generally conceded by those who have been watching the corks.

Mr. Frank Osborne and Maj. Dowd addressed a large crowd at Monroe yesterday. The Democracy of old Union turned out in full force and a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested.

Mecklenburg County Insane Asylum. Dr. H. M. Wilder, the county physician, accompanied by Capt. J. M. Davis and Mr. Joseph Asbury, went out to the poor house yesterday to survey the grounds upon which the Mecklenburg county insane asylum is to be located They selected a site about 75 yards from the poor house, and next week work will commence upon the erection of the asylum. The brick are being hauled and every preparation is being made for a speedy completion of the building, which is to be a one story structure, with eight or ten rooms, well lighted, well ventilated and well heated. Our county does herself credit in thus providing for her poor insane, who are, it must be admitted, by reason of their poverty and humble station in life, refused admittance to the asylum at Raleigh. Dr. Wilder, who has proved a faithful and kind physician to the county poor, suggested the erection of this asylum and for his earnest endeavors in this direction much credit and praise for the successful consummation of the enterprise is due him.

Gospel in the Jail -- A Night Sermon by the Rev. Burwell Johnston.

Since his incarceration in jail for larceny, the Rev. Burwell Johnston, colored, has had ample time and opportunity to reflect over the follies of his latter years and he has tramped in imagination four or five miles back over the old road he has lately trod, until he came to the mile post where he threw off his clerical robes and continued thence as a man of the world. Remorse for his sinful life as a boarding house keeper and rogue combined, has been gnawing at Burwell's leather-bound breast like a canker-worm and he has not only repented of his sins, but has formed a firm resolve to go back to preaching as a profession. So anxious is he to return to this calling that he can not restrain himself until he shall have served out his sentence of five years in the penitentiary, but has already commenced the good work of that all the employees will get their | preaching salvation to his fellow prisoners in the jail. Inside the walls of the jail Burwell has about as large and attentive a congregation as he would be likely to attract out in the free air of heaven, and he can no doubt do as good work there as anywhere. There is only one drawback and that is that he can not pass the hat around. Burwell's cell is located about the center of the floor, and last night as he opened his sermon, the other prisoners drew up to their grated doors and listened attentively. Burwell chose for his text one of the startling passages in the book of Revelations, and he painted the terrors of hell in such a vivid light as to draw lamentations from his congregation After singing and praying Burwell announced the services closed and gradually the groans and sighs died down, the congregation dispersed to their blankets and naught but the snore of the repentant parson was heard to break the stillness of the midnight

A Young Miller Boy is Caughtin a Belt and Carried Over and Over a Pulley, and Shockingly Mangled.

It has been a long time since this reporter has been called upon to record a more shocking accident than that which yesterday befell a young white boy named Joe Faulkner, at Menteith's mill, in Mallard Creek township, this county. The unfortunate lad was a son of Mr. Golden Faulkner, the miller. and while his father attended the mill. Joe run the engine. Yesterday about noon a party of colored boys went into the engine house where Joe was, and he concluded to show them what he knew about running the engine and what he could do with the belt. It was while he was playing with the belt that the accident occurred. The group of boys were standing around watching him, when almost in an instant they saw the young boy jerked up by the belt and carried over and over the pulley. They raised the alarm, but it was ner could hurry to the spot and stop the engine. All this time the poor boy was revolving around the pulley, each revolution tearing his flesh asunder and cracking his bones with a sickening noise. As the engine was stopped and the belt loosened the hand and part of one arm of the unfortunate boy, dropfrom the pulley to the ground, and his mangled body followed. He presented a shocking appearance. One arm was torn entirely off just below the elbow, the other arm was pulled from its socket and hung by a piece of skin, the thigh was crushed and the ragged bones protruded through the flesh, and five or six ribs were broken. In the face of all this the boy lived for about half an

News of the sad accident was brought to the city yesterday evening by a party who came in to procure a burial casket for the remains. The boy was aged about 14 years, and for the past twelve months he had regularly attended the engine and was quite an expert engineer. Montieth's mill is about 9 miles from the city, and has been lately purchased by Mr. Bryce Cochrane.

A Close Shave for Watt Rankin. What came within an ace of being a serious railroad accident occurred at a water station on the Carolina Central Railroad, this side of Hamlet, night before last. The Charlotte bound passenger train had stopped to take water, when an engine that had been following the train came up and ran into the rear of the sleeper. The engine was going slow, but it struck the sleeper with such force as to knock off the bumper and demolish the iron braces to the brake, and shove the entire train forward a few feet. Mr. Watt Rankin, the well-known drummer was aboard the train and was enjoying a dreamy snooze in the very last berth of the sleeper, when the bump came and waked him. He says that he thought something had happened, but as the train seemed to be still moving, he concluded that it was nothing serious, whatever it was, and turned over in his bunk and went off to sleep again. It was not until morning that he learned what a narrow escape he had had from being an annihilated drummer. The engine was a special, and had been following the train at a distance of half a mile, but how it happened to overtake and run into the train could not be explained. Fortunately for the passengers, it was moving slowly or there would have resulted a loss of life and some Talk About the Depot. The growl about that old barn called the passenger depot, in this city, is growing louder and stronger every day. It does not come from our citizens alone, but from travelers and visitors. The importance of this point as a railroad centre, demands better depot accommodations-if not a union depot, then a neat, substantial structure, fitted up with waiting rooms, and which will contribute a little to the comfort and convenience of the hundreds of travelers who daily get off and on at this place. Some idea of the amount of travel to and from Charlotte may be gained from the fact that, for one week, from Sept. 1st to 8th, $1,100 worth of tickets were sold at the passenger depot in this city, on the Richmond and Danville line alone, and that for the past few months, about $15,000 worth of tickets were sold each month. All this, too, during the "dull" season. In fall and winter, the sales frequently run up to $1,100 per day. This is in itself an argument for better accommodations. Out of the proceeds of two weeks' sale of tickets, the railroad companies could erect a depot that would be a credit to their roads and to the city. The present structure is a shame to both.

A Coincidence. Atlanta Herald. A singular coincidence connected with the death of Senator Hill has not yet appeared in print. Everybody who has visited his former residence on Peachtree street observed the beautiful cedar tree that stood in his front yard The tree was planted by Senator Hill and he was interested in its growth and beauty. When Mr. Hill was carried to Eureka Springs, the tree gave evidence of disease, the blight commencing at the top. Notwithstanding the close attention of the gardener the tree continued to wither, and a few days after the death of Senator Hill there was not a green leaf upon it. It was recently dug up and removed, and it was discovered the entire tree was decayed from top to root.

TORN AND CRUSHED TO DEATH. Jay Gould's Experience With Politicians.

New York Herald. "I am," said Mr. Gould, musingly, "independent of either party in politics. I have large interests at stake in this country. Nearly all my money is embarked here in various enterprises, and all I want is honest government. I am being continually 'struck,' as they say, by politicians." Pointing to a nest of drawers, he said: "Those pigeon-holes are filled with the demands, the threats. the entreaties of politicians-men of all parties and no party, Republicans, Democrats and Anti-Monopolists. If you were worth a million dollars, and a directing agent in some corporate interest, you would soon find out and understand the force of what I mean."

Fossil Remains. Deadwood Times. Professor Wortman and five assistants, who have been in the bad lands north of the Black Hills since last April, arrived at Deadwood recently with a four horse wagon loaded with petrifactions, which will be shipped to Philadelphia. One of their finds is a huge raptile resembling an alligator, which measures thirty feet in length, and weighs 1700 pounds. This is a perfect perhaps eight minutes before Mr. Faulk- state. In addition to gathering specimens they have also been making a geological survey of the lignite formation of northwestern Dakota, under supervision of the geological association of Philadelphia.

To the Citizens and the Traveling Public: Allow me to return you my sincere thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed on me while a redent of your city. And while asking you for a con tinuance of the same, I can here state that in addi-tion to a fair supply of Carriages, Phaetons, Bug-gies. Horses, &c., that will compare favorably with any others. I have just added to the Livery and Transfer the finest Carriages, Omnibusses and Baugage Wagons in the State. My wagons have good tops so as to protect baggage entrusted to my care from the weather. One of my great endeav ors has been to make Charlotte what it now is, on of the best cities for Livery Equipages and reasonable charges in the South. I do not ask for all, neither do I ask for half of the trade in my line but if the riding public will give me a fair share will see that they get value received, not only in good Vehicles, but at living prices. Thanking you once more for your liberality and indness I am Respectfully, RO. CHAMBERS, Agt.
