Republicanism under any other name don't smell any sweeter.

According to the last census there are 6,632,549 negroes in the United States and 6,679,944 people of foreign birth.

This is about the coolest thing connected with the late President Garfield's sickness: An ice company has sent in a bill for ice furnished from July 10 to September 7; amount, $33,970 pounds; cost, $1,516.92.

If it was true, as said, that Sims had cheated 300 negroes out of their votes, he was the very man they wanted, so that he might be chosen for the negro a while—Private Brown, colored, at the recent Republican convention.

The New York Sun, speaking of the festive time that Mr. Arthur has when he visits other cities, remarks that he always has a quiet time when he visits New York. Perhaps this is because he is better known in New York than elsewhere.

The original estimate of the cost of the Brooklyn Bridge was $7,000,000; $15,000,000 have been expended on it, and it will require $5,000,000 more to complete the work. The New York World is of opinion that there has been more steel than steel in the job.

He started out by saying that he had come there to beat the Democratic party and the best way to do that was to be harmonious and endorse the Liberal ticket—A. W. Colver, colored, at the Republican convention last Saturday.

Winston Republican: The Prohibitionists of this (Forsyth) county, we learn, will have out a candidate (independent) for the House of Representatives, the only thing yet to settle being, whether the antecedents of said candidate shall be Republican or Democrat.

Arrests of the followers of Arabi Pasha continue in Egypt. Among the latest is Said Bey Gendy, who was prefect of the police on the 11th of June, the first massacre of Europeans. He has been placed in irons.

At first he was opposed to coalition, but after mature reflection and a careful consideration of the situation, he had changed his mind, because he thought the Liberal movement meant success for the Republican party—J. W. Gordon, colored mail agent in his speech at the late Republican convention. See it Democrats?

Philadelphia Press: Senator Hoar thinks the emancipation of Virginia from Bourbon rule is a good thing, but he isn't sure whether his conscience approves or condemns the means by which it has been accomplished. There are a good many fellows in the same fix as Senator Hoar on this matter.

Philadelphia Press: Daniel Webster declared it to be "a great abuse to bring the patronage of the general government into conflict with the freedom of elections." This administration, however, is not running things on the Websterian plan.

Resolved, that the thanks of this convention are tendered Dr. J. J. Mott and Col. T. M. Cooper for their earnest, active and untiring efforts in aiding in bringing about a union and coalition, which will secure to us victory in our next campaign.—Proceedings Republican Convention at Raleigh, June 14th 1882.

When Bill Chandler, Secretary of the Navy, heard of the result of the election in Maine he was taking a pleasure cruise in the United States steamer Tallapoosa, and he was so glad that he ordered a salute of fifty guns, which was given with government powder.

"All right thinking men are of the opinion that Dorsey has been convicted sufficiently to warrant his resignation of his secretaryship of the Republican National committee."—Exchange. Why should he resign? The evidence against him establishes the fact that he is eminently qualified to fill the post where so much devilment is perpetrated.

These Liberal Independent Democrats were the very men to lead the Republican party to victory and he intended to follow them.—J. W. Gordon, colored mail agent, in his speech at the late Republican convention.—Democrats of Mecklenburg, there is no longer any disguise.

Greensboro North State: "Col. Boyd has declined to run for Congress up to this time. As there seems to be no chance for a Republican Congressional convention this year it is high time some independent Republican took the field. It is in the air that the managers are trying to force the Republicans to vote for Winston, the greenbacker. The coalition with that party in Alabama and other States shows the fate of those that flee to that resort."

INDIA RUBBER PLATFORMS. The Republican convention which met at Saratoga, New York, last Tuesday day, adopted a sort of India rubber platform. It denounced monopolies, favored purity and honesty in primary elections, the submission of all propositions regarding the liquor law to the popular vote, low taxation, civil service reform to the extent of the non-removal of incumbents without cause during the period for which they were appointed; denounced polygamy; endorsed Cornell's administration (after beating him) and approved Mr. Arthur's administration, commending his courage in vetoing the river and harbor bill.

On the whole the platform is a very good one, but the trouble is that platformers as framed by Republicans are generally to catch votes and are laid upon the shelf after election, not to be referred to until the next election.

It is a sign of the times, however, that even the platformers, improve, and pay some respect to the demands of the people who insist upon reform.

FEDERAL INTERFERENCE.

The Republican State Convention of New York which met at Saratoga Wednesday nominated for Governor Chas. J. Folger, Mr. Arthur's Secretary of the Treasury. It has been well understood that Mr. Folger was placed in the race, as the representative of the stalwart faction in antagonism of Governor Cornell between whom and Mr. Conkling a bitter feud has arisen. Conkling who never forgives and never forgets determined to defeat Cornell, whom he made Governor, for a renomination and called on the aid of the administration, which he can always command, to do it.

There were four names placed before the convention, Chas. J. Folger, who received on the first ballot 233 votes; Alonzo B. Cornell, 189; Jas. W. Wadsworth, (New York Herald's candidate); John H. Starin, 10; John C. Robinson, 6—necessary to a choice 250. On the second ballot the votes began to change to Folger and Cornell, when Wadsworth withdrew and Folger was nominated.

Notwithstanding the fact that Cornell's strength was considerable, the power of the administration was more than he could cope with and he went under. Thus we see the hand of the administration reaching out not only to shape National politics but to control State conventions, thus making the nominees if elected practically tools of that administration. As Charles J. Folger is indebted to Conkling and Arthur for his nomination, he will belong to Conkling and Arthur if elected, and they will run the State of New York as they manipulated that convention.

What voice have the people of a State in their own government when the powers at Washington can dictate the nomination of the men who are to administer the government. It is a farce and a delusion, and a people who prize the right of self-government as they should, whether they be Republicans or not, whether they favor the administration or oppose it, ought to indignantly resent this inexcusable meddling and interference with their State matters, when it has no more business than it has in meddling with the affairs of a foreign government. But this work of centralization proceeds and the hand of the central power is now controlling the States as if they were mere dependencies, and not sovereign States.

COL. MYERS ACCEPTS. Elsewhere we publish the letter of Col. Wm. R. Myers, accepting the Republican nomination to the State Senate. It will be noticed that he gives the Liberal convention the "go-by," and runs on his party record as a Republican, the "straightest set." He, of course, will be glad to have votes from Liberal minded people, but he plainly ignores the Liberal party. We should be sorry to see him elected to represent this county in the State Senate, for notwithstanding the fact that he is a straightforward, good citizen, he is now and has been for many years a bitter and uncompromising partisan of the Republican party. He is one of the few men who have lent their name and character to the Republican party to make it respectable in the South, which is all the more sin to Col. Myers. While we have a high personal regard for Col. Myers as a man, in this race it is a question of principle.

We hope to see him buried so deep under Syd. Alexander's majority as to make him sick of political campaigns in the future.

Gen. Sherman will reside in St. Louis when he retires from the army. He has a fine residence there which was presented to him by the citizens years ago.

I passed my early years in an atmosphere filled with traditions of the war which secured our national independence and of the struggles which made our constitutional system a government for the people by the people, and I learned to idealize the institutions of my country.—Samuel J. Tilden's Letter of Acceptance in 1876.

THE TUNNEL ACCIDENT. The Telescoped Train Filled with School Girls and Teachers—A Case of Gross Carelessness. NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The only person killed outright in the railroad accident reported to-day was Madame Eugenia Aubert, teacher of French in the main track in the railroad yard. Harold Meriks was taken out of the wreck with skull crushed and will die. The accident was the result of gross carelessness. One of the tracks was blocked up by the engine and this caused a delay to other trains in switching across the tracks to get around the blockade. While one train crowded with passengers was thus waiting on the main track in the tunnel another train came behind and telescoped it.

Many of the injured were hurried away by friends and it will be difficult to secure a correct list of the casualties. It is probable that others of the injured will die. A great majority of the passengers in the Harlem train were school girls and teachers on their way to the normal college, and it was some time before all anxiety concerning them was removed. They were sent back to their homes. In their train most of them sprang from the train as soon as they were able and were found wandering about in the thick darkness and mire of the tunnel.

A Cowboy Battle. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—A special from Denver, Col., giving the particulars of a six sided combat between cowboys, has just reached here. Herds of Geo. Howard and John Keeley became mixed and it was finally agreed to settle the matter by battle in which six picked men from each party participated. At the first fire four men were instantly killed. The Howard party with the exception of their employer fled to their camp. Keeley then proposed to fight it out with Howard, but the latter declined.

This settled the matter. The dead were buried and an equitable exchange of cattle was then made.

An Arkansas Editor Shot. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 22.—At Hot Springs this morning, Chas. Matthews, editor of the Hornet, was shot 4 times and killed in an affray with Col. S. F. Ford, vice-president of the St. S. F. Ford, vice-president of the St. Louis and New York Gunpowder and Explosive Company, and Col. Rugg, one of the proprietors of the Arlington Hotel. It is not known whether Ford or Rugg fired the first shot. The trouble grew out of bitter newspaper controversy over local affairs.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Middle Atlantic States, very cloudy weather and local rains, winds shifting to colder, southerly and higher barometer.

South Atlantic States, partly cloudy weather, with local rains, westerly winds in the southern and easterly backing to westerly in the northern portion, falling followed by rising barometer, stationary or lower temperature.

NEW YORK DEMOCRACY.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CONTESTED DELEGATIONS.

A Wild Time Over the Balloting—Grover Cleveland, of Buffalo, Takes the Lead and is Declared the Unanimous Nominee of the Convention.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 22.—1:30 a. m.—The committee on contested seats have just finished their labors having decided to report in favor of admitting the New York contesting delegation on the following basis: County Democrats, 38; Tammany, 24; Irving Hall, 10.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 22.—In connection with the settlement of the New York contest, the committee on contested seats at a late hour last night adopted the following: Resolved that this committee recognize the county Democracy as the regular Democratic organization of the city of New York.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Temporary chairman Peckham called the Democratic convention to order at 10:20 o'clock a. m., and stated that the first business before the convention was to give the president of the report of the committee on contested seats. Mr. Herlick, chairman, said the committee on contested seats had listened patiently to claims of various contestants who appeared before it.

New York county democracy refrained from voting on the question of representation from the city of New York. The committee recognized the county Democracy as the regular delegation, but with a view to the success of the party at the polls and for the purpose of securing entire harmony, they recommended that the New York representatives be divided as follows: factions in county democracy to have 33 members, Tammany 24 and Irving Hall 10.

He moved the adoption of the report and moved the previous question which was ordered and the committee's report was unanimously adopted amid the most vociferous applause. Herlick of Albany, said that he was directed by the State committee to offer a resolution recommending that in the future primary elections the delegates to the convention in the City of New York under auspices and direction of the State committee, until such time as the regular delegates in that city may agree as to the proper mode of electing their delegates. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

The report of the committee on permanent delegates and the committee on permanent chairman with a list of 33 vice presidents and secretaries. Gen. Roger A. Pryor, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the platform and resolutions, which were adopted. John Kelly said a plank should be inserted condemning the distribution of public lands to private corporations, and moved that the platform be referred back to the committee for the insertion of a plank which shall condemn the onerous grants of these lands to corporations. Agreed to and the resolutions were referred back to the committee.

The result of the first ballot was Slocum 98, Cleveland 66, Flower 57, Nelson 26, Corning 25, Belmont 12, Campbell 17, Hutchins 13. Total number of votes cast 384; necessary to a choice 192.

The second ballot brought no result. On the third ballot a scene of confusion ensued, amounting almost to a riot, the convention for a time passing entirely from the control of the chairman. When the roll call proceeded many changes were announced and finally the appearances indicated a vote of about 200 for Cleveland, 130 for Rugg, P. Flower, and 80 for Gen. Slocum.

Slocum's friends tried to capture the convention by a motion to declare him nominated by acclamation. This started the first scene of confusion, and was made for an announcement of the ballot.

Senator Jacobs moved that a new ballot be taken. After a prolonged scene of disorder the various factions in the nomination, re-affirms the Democratic platform of 1874, arraigns the Republican in majority in Congress for the failure to reduce the taxation to the legitimate requirements of the government, under an honest, frugal administration, and demands the river and harbor bill; declares the nomination of secretary Folger by the Republicans a nomination by the Federal government; declares it to be necessary to forbid by penal enactment the blackmailing of department officeholders; holds the Republican administration responsible for the increased outrages on foreign born citizens, and demands that the laws be revised for American citizens; demands a revision of the laws affecting our merchant marine, with the object of placing that industry, and demanding the enactment of laws providing for fraud and intimidation at primary elections; declares that encroachments of chartered monopolies should be squarely met, and these corporations be brought under the control of the law; declares against convict labor in favor of remunerating the labor of children, and of modeling workshops and factories in the interest of the health of the laborers.

Several sections of the platform refer to canals and other purely state questions. John Kelley's additional plank condemning the onerous grants of public lands to corporations, and demanding that these be reserved for occupation by actual settlers, was accepted as part of the platform.

The platform was unanimously adopted.

An Ex-Lieut. Governor Shoots Himself LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 22.—Ex-Lieut. Governor Rossan to-day shot himself through the head killing himself instantly.

A Murderer Captured.

LYNCBURG, VA., Sheriff Ford, of Newport, Cocke county, Tenn., arrived here this morning, having in charge James Rodas, the murderer of John O. Mason, and wife, of Albemarle county, Va., on the night of March 10th. Rodas was captured Monday last. He denies that his name is Rodas but claims to be Wm. Allen, of Rockingham county. There is little doubt, however, but that the Sheriff has the right man.
