"I know no safe depository of the ultimate powers "of society but the people themselves; and if we think "them not enlightened enough to exercise their control "with a wholesome discretion, the remedy is, not to take "it from them, but to inform their discretion by edu cation."-THOMAS JEFFERSON.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 24, 1882.

In the month of July 65,010 immigrants arrived at the ports of the United States.

All of Arabi Pasha's officers under the grade of colonel, who were arrested, have been released.

A. L. Morgan, collector of internal revenue at Mobile, Ala., and James T. Rapier, collector at Montgomery, have been suspended.

Since Folger has been set up by the administration for Governor of New York, the question is who will be his successor in the Treasury.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says that a coolness has sprung up between Conkling and Arthur. Conkling is getting up a reputation as a regular refrigerator.

Arabi says he "trusted to British honor." So did the great Napoleon. He died a close prisoner at St. Helena, Arabi will probably be consigned and to the executioner or to a dungeon. The North Carolina National, published at Company Shops, wants rotation in office. It wants Gen. Scales, member of Congress for the fith district to rotate out and let Col. Winston. Greenbacker, rotate in. Jim Blaine blew the civil service re form bugle pretty loud up in Maine

during the canvass, but in all the years of his public career he never chipped in a word about it before. Mrs. Garfield is branching out extensively. Her new establishment at Cleveland will require $10,000 a year to run it. When Garfield was a Representative he lived plainly. If it was true, as said, that Sims had cheated 300 negroes out of their votes, he was the very man they wanted, so that he might cheat for the negro a while.-Prince Brown, colored, at the recent Republican convention.

The last words of M. de Massas, who M. Dichard, near Paris, were: "My factories and workshops going up, railpoor wife and children." Pity he had not thought of them sooner. He probother poor wife he was trying so hard to widow.

He started out by saying that he had come there to beat the Democratic party and the best way to do that was to be harmonious and endorse the Liberal ticket .- A. W. Calvin. colored, at the Republican convention last Saturday

Augusta Chronicle: "When General Longstreet was asked how the Republican party expected to succeed in Georgia, he promptly answered: 'By co-operating with the Independents." In North Carolina they expect to succeed by co-operating with Liberals, co-operate with them.

nomination of a Democratic Congressman in that district and wants to see a square fight between Hubbs and O'Hara, and adds that the Democrats of Northampton county have declared against the nomination of a Congressman or a county ticket.

At first he was opposed to coalition, but after mature reflection and a careful consideration of the situation, he had changed his mind, because he thought the Liberal movement meant success for the Republican party .- J. W. Gordon, the colored mail agent in his speech at the late Republican convention. See it Democrats?

Macon Ga. Telegraph: "It isn't in the mouth of General Gartrell to denounce Radicalism. If it be in his heart he keeps it under lock and key. Ah! Geheral, it is singular for a Democrat to be placed voluntarily in that attitude. How is it that a true Democrat can find fault only with Democrats, and denounce no rule but Democratic rule? It isn't possible." Ditto Johnston, Price, Leach et al in North Carolina.

These Liberal Independent Democrats were the very men to lead the Republican party to victory and he intended to follow them .- J. W. Gordon the colored mail agent, in his speech at the late Republican convention .- Democrats of Mecklenburg, there is no longer any disguise.

AN IDIOT. One William M. Cocke, Jr., a candidate for Congress in the Asheville District against Gen. Vance, has issued a card, which is intended to influence voters in his favor. Here is an extract: "Attempts are being made, fellowcitizens, to persuade you that my success and that of those with whom I am acting, is in some way to inure to the benefit of the late Republican party in the State."

This Cocke is chairman of the Execu-tive Committee of the so-called Liberal party. We call upon Dock Sorrell to suppress his idiotic chairman. If the above is a specimen of Cocke's wisdom it is easy enough to see that Vance will have a walk-over. The above is from the Winston Re publican, which thus goes for candidate Cocke because he had the temerity to say that his election would not redound to the advantage of the late Republican party, the offence seeming to consist in the allusion to the Republican party as a defunct institution. Notwithstanding the fact that the Republican leaders are playing a game of coalition, and tell the people they are trying to deceive that the move is an honest one, and that the Republican party has been practically disbanded. they get terribly riled when any allusion is made to the Republican party as defunct. That's more than they can stand. In playing to eatch Democratic veters Mr Cocke has subjected himself to being called to time by the Republi-

BEN BUTLER.

If the Democracy of Massachusetts had the slightest hope of being able to elect any other candidate, we take it for granted that they would never have nominated Ben Butler for Governor. There is certainly no other man in America who has been more bitterly denounced and lashed by the Democratic press and speakers of the North than Ben, the title under which he was most generally known being that of "Beast." But of late years this abuse has been suspended as Ben has been drifting back towards the Democracy, with whom he has been acting more or less for the past several years. Two years ago he got the endorsement of one wing of the party for governor, and this year he captured the convention out and out. There is nothing very remarkable in this, and it is another illustration that politicians are not particular as to what cards they play if they think they can win. Butler is smart, full of resources, is popular, has money and an absorbing ambition to be Governor of Massachusetts, if for nothing else than to trium oh over the high-toned Massachusettsites who have turned up their noses at him and tried to crush him. They spent lots of money to beat him two years ago when he ran, and he will doubtless make them shell out pretty freely this

As far as his long political record goes it is tainted with no dishonesty, dreds of others to which these in turn and whilst as a political fighter he is would dispense the same news in more unrelenting and unscrupulous he is far or less compressed form and place in control of the news telegraph of the from being (those who knowhim say) as black as partisan rancor has painted him. The poorer classes look to him as their friend, and he will find an enthusiastic support among them. He stands and nobody need have much doubt as a good chance of election, and if beaten it will take a good deal of money to do Gould's power and become an agent for it. But his election will not be a tri- the gathering of news and the associaumph for the Democracy, it will only ted press telegrams would become an be a triumph for Butler.

CLOGS TO PROGRESS. Notwithstanding the howl of partisans who from selfish motives misrepresent the condition of affairs in the South, and convey the impression that there has been and is but little pro-South as a whole is making rapid strides in the path of progress. Northern business men and capitalists who home, attest it; the non-partisan press admits it, and the partiin which the increasing hum of industry is not heard; in which new, and in being inaugurated. Look in any direcwas killed in a duel recently by tion, and growing towns will be seen, construction, mining industries develably did not give any thought to the oped, new lands opened to cultivation, and our people looking hopefully and cheerfully to a bright and prosperous

Considering the fact that the South at the close of the war was left, stripped and bankrupt her rapid recuperation is a marvel to those who do not know the indomitable stuff of which her people are made. With so little to ganization of the Associated Press start upon, with such reverses staring them in the face, with such an ordeal as they had gone through, there is no other people on earth that would have der Gould's failure certain and disasgirded themselves for the task of build- | trous. ing up again, have undertaken it as cheerfully and have succeeded as well Greenbackers, or anyone else who will as the Southern people did. And all this, too, in the face of political agitation, and for years political proscription The Tarboro Southerner opposes the of the meanest sort, all of which kept the subject at considerable length, to up sectional feeling, kept away outsiders, and left the work of recuperation almost exclusively to her people alone.

Talk about old fogies as you will, trace out all the obstacles to the progress of this section, put them together, and the Radical partisan as a clog to sant appeals to the prejudices and passions of the colored people, and the conflict that he labors to keep up between them and the white people, and the misrepresentations that he puts in circulation abroad is simply incalculable. They have done and are doing all they can to retard progress, while they whiningly and falsely proclaim to the world that there is none.

NOT CONSISTENT.

Some of the Northern Republican papers are disposed to poke fun at the Massachusetts Democrats for nominating Butler. They forget while doing so that the administration at Washington, which they train with, has gone into a general dickering business in the South, and is here training with anybody they can find, no matter what the past record of that anybody may have been. They embrace Mahone in Virginia, Leach, Price & Co., in North Carolina, Duelist Cash in South Carolina, Chalmers, (the man whom they turned out of Congress) in Mississippi, and have never yet shown any aversion to any alliance, however offensive, that gives the slightest hope of breaking the lines of the Democratic party. It illbecomes members of that dickering gang to rebuke the Massachusetts Democrats for nominating an ex-Republican like Butler.

Resolved, that the thanks of this convention are tendered Dr. J. J. Mott and Col. T. N. Cooper for their earnest, active and untiring efforts in aiding in bringing about a union and coalition, which will secure to us victory in our next campaign.-Proceedings Republican Convention at Raleigh, June 14th

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Jay Gould Trying to Gobble it up, Which Calls for Several Editorial Re-

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 .- The Times this morning copies on its editori-al page the editorial from the Herald sent South last night in reference to the Associated Press. In an editorial of its own on the same subject the Times writes as follows:

"We republish from the Herald of to-day a forcible and exhaustive statement of the present relations of Jay Gould to the Associated Press. The warning therein conveyed concerns the public rather more than it does metropolitan newspapers, or at least solvent newspapers of this city which publish Associated Press telegrams. Honesty and solvency in newspaper management are usually bound together in the relation of cause and effect, and no journal that has a reputation to lose and large pecuniary capital at stake could well afford to publish any kind of news which bore the visible impress of the influence of Jay Gould, but the public whose acquaintance with the internal management and workings of newspapers does not usually extend beyond the knowledge of the name of its actual or ostensible proprietor. It can be most grossly victimized if the scheme outlined by the Herald should be crowned with success, for it must be remembered that if the Central News Association of the country, which Jay Gould aspires to control, became a mere bureau of the Western Union Telegraph company, over which his influence is undisputed, there would not only be a few hundred newspapers ready to publish news with Gould twist or color, but there would remain huncountry a man who has become what he is by the plunder of stockholders, the corruption of judges, the bribery of legislators and purchase of politicians, to the result. Every telegraph operator in the country would be under abstract of daily intelligence collated by the employes of Jay Gould. Neither explicit orders nor constant supervision would under such a system be needed to keep from such news everything likely to prove disagreeable to Gould, and the most casual suggestion would insure the transmission of anything needed to further the interests or satisfy revenges of the arch gambler. While confirming all the facts stated in gress in this section, it is apparent to the Herald article, and most heartily the most thoughtless observer that the emphasizing the warning it conment purchase of the telegraph system might prove a remedy nearly as bad as the disease. In the absence of a have traveled Southward with an eye non-political system of the public serto business and left their politics at vice it certainly would and there is some reason to believe that Gould would be very glad to have the government take a poor bargain off his hands san press when no political ques- at his own valuation. We prefer to tions for discussion are up, concedes it, deal with Gould a news censor on his too. There is not a State in the South own merits believing that his plans only need be known to be defeated. When his control of the Associated Press is complete, it will be time enough to discuss some instances vast enterprises are not | the remedy. Meanwhile the indications are that the Herald's assumption in regard to the place of the Sun in this controversy is somewhat hasty. Its columns of yesterday certainly gave no roads constructed or in process of evidence of subservience to Gold in fact condemnation of Gould and his works which we quote from the Sun to-day is not exceeded in bitterness or point by anything which has appeared in the Herald. Such grounds the able and far seeing editor of the Sun may have given for supposition that he would be found acting with men and newspapers that he heartily despises, are probably to be explained on an entirely different hypothesis. In any case Jay

The Journal of Commerce this morning devotes the first column on its editorial page to an article on the same subject, of an even more dignified and confident tone than the one just quoted from the Times, under the caption of "The Associated Press," discusses show that if it were possible for an individual or stock jobbing corporation to get control of the wires and the Associated Press, the public would very soon lose all interest and all confidence in the news furnished. It having been hinted that the Sun favored the scheme the Journal of Commerce quotes several editorial extracts from that paper progress will excel them all. ## Our Mr. ELIAS

Still in the Markets adding only to our IMMENSE STOCK, and as goods can always be bought cheaper after the rush of Trade is over, we can offer special inducements to close buyers either two wholesale or Retail. We can only say to our friends and the public generally that it they want to save money, it will not cost anything to examine our stock before buying, and that they will find that the place to buy will be at the old established house of ELIAS & COHEN.
