What American Enterprise is Doing for

Mexico is quietly absorbing a great deal of American coin and growing rich through the aid of American capi-tal. Her present prosperity is directly traceable to the construction of railroads, which is now being actively pushed in that country. Railroads bring an unexpected current of business, and inspire a new life and un-wonted energy into the old Mexican towns along the line of the roads. The tax-gatherers find a great difference. The receipts of the Mexican treasury, which a few years ago never exceeded $19,000,000 per annum, amounted to $22,000,000 for the year ending June 30, 1880, to $23,000,000 for 1881 and to $27,500,000 for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1882. This increase of $4,500,000 in one year is no movement attributable to any augmentation of taxes, but to the advent of American enterprise in the country.

Sex of Eggs. Science and experience have suffi-ciently demonstrated that everything that bears must possess both the male and the female qualifications; but perhaps it is not generally known that such is the case with eggs. I have found by experience that it is, and by the following rules: I raise as many pullets among my chickens as I wish to, while some of my neighbors complain that their chicks are nearly all roosters, and they cannot see why there should be a difference. I will tell you here what I have told them, and for the benefit of those who do not know, that to raise roosters set the long, slender ones. In this way you will be enabled to raise whichever sex you wish to.

"And Harry?" "He's going to school. Started last "And papa?"

Where a Prominent Physician Works as a Farm Laborer and Sleeps Like a Philadelphia Record The friends of Dr. J. E. Garretson, the distinguished physician of West Chestnut street, have known for some years that he has been engaged in literary work other than the writing of proary work other than the writing of pro-fessional treatises, but his identity with "John Darby," the philosopher, whose name is familiar to a wide circle of readers has just been announced. In "Brushland," which is "John Darby's" latest book, the fashionable physician who seeks a philosophical Utopia in rough farm work and an ordinary farm rough farm work and an ordinary far-mer's life is none other than Dr. Gar. mer's life is none other than Dr. Garretson, and the most interesting thing about it is the fact that it is a true sketch of the development of a philosophic theory by the doctor himself.

Ten years ago he determined to personly find out whether the society of simple men could be as agreeable as that of profound men; if a bunk on a heather bank could woo sleep as easily as a feather bed; if pork and cabbage could taste as well as a croquette or a pate de foie gras-in short, to test the success of a life of manual labor, simple fare and rustic shelter, instead of luxurious comforts and comparatively unlaborious occupation. No spot seemed to furnish a more promising field six years ago, the fashionable physician, the scholar and author, bought up for a song half a hundred unpromising acres, and literally transformed himself into a daily farm laborer. The doctor describes the place at the time of the purchase as so swampy that he was compelled to wade over a portion of it. Here he has worked in corduroys and heavy boots all through the

the land, plowed, dug, delved and sawed from sunrise to sunset. He ate what the regular farm hands ate, even to the roughest fare, and passed the early part of the evening sitting on a fence rail smoking a clay pipe and feeling delightfully tired out and ready for a sound night's sleep on a farm laborer's bed. Thus he lived a double life, and thus he has succeeded in finding a Utopia such as his philosophy had preest moments of his life, he says, are spent with hoe in hand in the brush-

Winston the Republican Nominee for Congress.

Greensboro North State, Rep. "Whom the Gods wish to destroy they first make mad." We hope our readers will believe us-what we are tends putting up furnaces, known as about to say is positively true. There was a Republican convention here yesterday and by some oversight it nominated a man from the greenback party for Congress. It is gespel truth. Don't laugh. It must have been a mistake. Maybe it was a greenback convention. No, that can't be because Billy Henderson was chairman. Well, no, that don't prove anything, because he was a loud-mouthed greenbacker four and two years ago. How is it anyhow? Did we say Winston was nominated? Yes, that is the man. But then he has been out as a greenback candidate for some weeks. We must be wrong, for he certainly was yesterday nominated by the Republican party which is for hard money against rags. It is the party which protects the National banks and the bondholders. Winston has been denouncing them unmercifully. Oh, now we have the idea, we knew there was something about it. The Republican convention by a very small majority nominated Winston for Congress and passed a resolution practically saying he was a gentleman and scholar and otherwise duly qualified, but roundly denounced his principles. In forming the coalition Winston probably adopted a resolution denouncing Republican principles, but declaring that the storekeeper and gauger delegates were jolly good fellows. The long and short of this thing is that the 12,000 Republican voters of this district who have for many years fought for honest money and the principles of the Republican party, were yesterday surrendered as far as they could be, by the machine, to a man who received about 600 votes for Congress two years ago. Was there ever a great-enoutrage perpetrated on a confiding people? Just think of it! Reflect on this you honest, braye Republicans of the 5th district who have for ten years manfully walked to the ballot box, without hope of victory, and deposited your vote in opposition to the crazy doctrines and issues advocated by Winston. The Republicans who brought about this result should be remembered by the people. The effrontery of the men who thus seek to override all decency in our conventions is beyond ex pression. They seem to be clazy. The bosses declared that no Republican should be nominated in this district. Let them have their way, and allow them the privilege of getting their greenback, coalition-liberal-anti prohibition candidate votes. Let them sail The regular Republicans in the con vention voted for W. S. Ball against Winston. It is said by many that Ball was honestly nominated. Stokes county did not send any delegates to this convention. Still it was voted. Who wrote the credentials?
