"Democracy is a sentiment not to be appulled, cor rupled compromised. It knows no baseness it cowers to no danger; it oppresses no weakness; it is destruc-Wire of despotism; it is the sole conservator of liberty, lubor and property; it is the sentiment of equal rights, of equal obligations, the very laws of Nature i self pervading the land."

"I know no safe depository of the ultimate powers "of society but the people themselves; and if we think "them not enlightened enough to exercise their control "with a wholesome discretion, the remedy is, not to take "it from them, but to inform their discretion by edu "cation."-THOMAS JEFFERSON.

Abram S. Hewitt has been renomi nated for Congress in New York.

Wm. G. Hamilton, who is said not to have been insane, has just been released from a New York asylum, where he was kept confined for 6 years. If every citizen did his full duty on of public affairs. The machine managers in Pennsylvania concede that the Independent Republican ticket will receive 50,000 say it will reach 100,000. The Democrats of Columbus, Ohio, had a big jollification over their victory last Saturday night. Five thousand men marched in the procession and twenty thousand attended the meeting to listen to speeches from ex-Senator Thurman and others. The New York Tribune is cruel enough to say that Howard Carroll, the Republican candidate for congressman-at-large in New York, notwithstanding all his nice talk about reform, &c., offered $15.000 for the nomination when the convention was in session.

Rough on Penn, this is. While Philadelphia was putting on her store clothes Tuesday to celebrate the landing of Mr. Penn, up jumps the Rev. Mr. Kurtz in the pulpit of the Siloam Methodist church and denounces him as a rumseller, who cheated the Indians out of their land and paid them in mean

Here are the congressmen that Mr. Gorham, editor of the National Republican, says the Republicans will carry in the South: "One in Maryland, four in Virginia, four in North Carolina, one in Georgia, three in Alabama, two in Mississippi, one in Louisiana, two in Texas, one in Tennessee, and two already secured in West Virginia."

Mr. G. will find figuring before and after election quite a different thing when the count comes.

The copper monopoly of Michigan makes a net profit on the business four times the amount of the working capital. They have in four counties $1,022, 000 invested, and the net profits are $4,-302,783. These mines produce annually nearly as much copper as the continent of Europe and Great Britain combined. Yet these monopolists have secured a tariff which prevents all foreign competition, only one pound of crude copper having been imported into the country in 1878.

It seems that Senator Frye has been making some speeches in Pennsylvania trying to help Cameron's ticket. He told the workingmen of Pittsburg that if the Democrats got control of Congress "every mill in Pittsburg would be shut up," in reply to which the Pittsburg Post comes back at him thus:

"This strike of 30,000 workingmen to enforce the electioneering pledges of Republican manufacturers and politicians cost the workingmen not less than seven or eight million of dollars in lost wages. It took from the bulk of them their hard-earned savings; others it reduced to penury and want; and at last forced them all back to work on the terms prescribed by the employers. These are frozen facts; and when a special pleader from Yankeedom, like Frye, is brought here by Cameron to repeat the exploded electioneering claptrap of 1880, he but recalls to the labor class its hollowness, insincerity and

Philadelphia Press, Rep: "Mr. Dallas Sanders' report to the attorney-general of his conduct of the South Carolina election cases last winter and spring will serve to recall public attention to the unsavory Southern election frauds. We would be glad to hear and say no more on this subject, but our Bourbon brethren must first mend their ways. We hope the suggestions that the evidence in these cases be published in full is carried out. The public have a right to know the exact truth in the matter. and there is no way in which this truth can be more forcibly or fairly presented than in the sworn testimony of the many witnesses."

ed as a part of the Republican campaign ammunition for the elections now pending. As the evidence was taken last spring it might have been furnished long ago, but then it would not be so fresh for election purposes.

DISFRANCHISING VOTERS.

One of the boasts of the Republican party is that it guarantees suffrage to all alike, but it is a false pretense Rhode Island has a property qualification and in several of the Northern States there is such a despotism practiced upon the laboring classes by their Republican employers that they are practically disfranchised. Gen. Butler in a speech recently delivered in Boston showed to what an extent disfranchisement was carried on in that city. Said

"On the 1st of May, 1889, there were 110,000 male citizens over the age of twenty-one years in Boston, and there has been a percentage of gainsince 1880 that would make it about 125,000. And yet, when your register list was published, the other day, there were only 37,000 men on it. Who left off the rest —more than 75,000 men—from the check lists? There were more than 95,000 under any rule that ought to have been allowed to vote. And yet my friend, Mr. Crapo, says that the mission of the Mr. Crapo, says that the mission of the Republican party is to give every man an equal right to vote. [Laughter.] Let me repeat that, because it is the boldest declaration that I have heard: "It is the mission of the Republican party to give every man an equal right to vote.' How boldly that mission is fulfilled here! Their dealing with the rights of citizens is as bad, and worse, than their dealing with their rights as taxpayers; and both these matters you must see reformed."

TAKING THE MEASURE OF IT. The New York Times, Republican, shows a pretty clear conception of the coalition movements in the South and discourses thus upon them:

"Nothing could be more desirable than the development of a genuine liberal sentiment in the South, but the various 'movements' and 'combinations' in opposition to Bourbonism seem to be made of pretty poor stuff. We look in vain for evidence of lofty principles and exalted motives among those who take a leading part in them. The strength of Bourbon rule seems to consist in a general belief among the more intelligent Southern people that, however narrow and bigoted its spirit may be, it is conservative and in a certain degree safe. There is no doubt that much of the steady intelligence and character and most of the property interests of the section are enlisted in its support through fear of the consequences of a change. The elements of the opposition are too heterogeneous and unsteady to give assurance of security if they were to obtain control. Those elements are, in fact, very unsatisfactory material out of which to make, or attempt to make, a responsithe day of election there would be less cause of complaint at the management | b'e political party for the administration of State and local affairs. The basis of this anti-Beurbon movement must, in most of the States, be the colvotes, while the Independent figures ored vote. There is no disguising the fact that this is not, on the whole, an intelligent vote. It is not guided by any clear comprehension of public duty or any definite political purpose. It is mainly directed or controlled in the mass by leaders who have their own ends to serve. These leaders might be animated by the best of motives of the well-being of the colored citizens themselves, and the highest interests of the State, but as often as not their motives are narrow and selfish and inconsistent with the promotion of the public weal. Hence every anti-Bourbon movement is apt to be turned away as to lose all title to be called liberal or progressive." This hits the nail square upon the head. It is a fact patent to every one that the movement, as far as this State is concerned, is engineered by Radical politicians and a few men who failed to receive that recognition in the Democratic party to which they thought their services and eminent abilities entitled them. It is not a matter of principle, it is a matter of disappointment with them. They had nothing further to hope for from the Democratic party and base their hopes of future political promotion on the success of the new movement. Some of them may say they are not aspirants for place now, but let the movement succeed and see how long they will be willing to stay in the background. They are not of that disinterested order of patriots who labor for the dear people without hope of reward. It is not to be expected that they should, and the mistake they make is in trying to gull the public, which knows them so well, into believing in their utter disinterestedness. As far as the leaders, Republican and ex-Democratic, of the new movement are concerned this is the long and the short of it. In one word, it is selfishness.

GOV. JARVIS NOT A CANDIDATE. It having been currently reported that Gov. Jarvis was an aspirant to the seat in the United States Senate now held by Senator Ransom, Col. Isaac Suggs has written a card from which the Raleigh News and Observer quotes

"I have been most positively assured by Gov. Jarvis that in no event will he allow his name to be used in that connection against Senator Ransom. This I have from him both verbally and in writing, and with this positive assurance I would under no circumstances vote for Gov. Jarvis against Gen. Ran-

This ought to settle the question as to his candidacy.

The Philadelphia Press warns Republicans that if the Democrats carry the election in that State they will spoil the Republican gerrymander and have a gerrymander of their own.

Women's Temperance Convention.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Oct. 25.—The 9th annual convention of the Women's National Christian Temperance Union assembled this morning with a large au-dience present. The convention was called to order by the President, Miss Frances E. Willard, of Illinois. Devo-tional exercises followed, after which business proceeded with the calling of roll and the appointment of commit-tees on credentials, and other committees on resolutions, plan of work and finance. After the appointment of committees the convention listened to the annual address of the President. A devotional meeting was conducted by Mrs. Hannah Whitall Smith, of Penn-

A Strange Thing. COON HOLLOW VALLEY, CATAWBA RIVER. MECKLENBURG Co., Oct. 25, 1882.

To the Editor of the Observer. In these days of strange politics and strange associations, strange things are expected. One of these strange things is the fact that in Berryhill township we have a white winged buzzard, apparently "native and to the manner orn," which associates with no other buzzards in the neighborhood. A neighbor has named him "Liberal," and he is now known only by that appellation. For some time he has only been known to have been found in company with a white goose, and from this fact it is supposed that he is trying to imitate certain gentlemen who, formerly Democrats, are now in sympathy with the Liberal craze. This buzzard performs his work of usefulness, however, quite as effectually as do the white Liberals. He is said to be able to "get away" with more filth and corruption than any buzzard that has ever been in our neighborhood. If anybody doubts this let him come out on this part of the Catawba River section and swing a dead cat around a few times and our Liberal buzzard will show himself in a short time. COON HOLLOW VALLEY.
