.... Smoke Freventing Deaths. Pall Ma'l Gazette. Some one has at last been found to say a good word for smoke. The Burslem Town Council has been discussing the death rate in that town, which appears just now to be rather high, and the medical officer consoles them by pointing out that the deaths would be more numerousstill were it not for the smokiness of the town. The evil effects of the bad system of drainage are largely counteracted by the smoke from the factories, which blends with the atmosphere, to act as a deodorizer: and he was at a loss to imagine how "intelligent men, and even members of his own profession," could complain of the "smoke nuisance." The doctors may be left to settle the matter for themselves, but one must admit that smoke certainly has some of those offensive qualities which belong to recognized "deodorizers." Raleigh Financial Status.

News & Observer. The Democrats came into power in Raleigh in May, 1875. They found the city heavily in debt They have added mothing to the city debt, but have stead-ily decreased it. Our finances have since then been well managed and are now in a healthy condition. The city owes no floating debt. We owe two classes of bonds. One class amounts to $131,000, bearing six per cent interest, and these fall due one half in 1897, and one half in 1907. The interest on these bonds, amounting to about $8,000, is payable by the city treasurer out of the general taxes. The other bonds amount to $4$,500, bearing 8 per cent interest, known as the Market House bonds, and falling due in 1889. To pay the principal and the interest of these a sinking fund has been established, to provide for which a separate tax of one third of one cent has been collected. This sinking fund tax now raises about $10,000 a year. The sinking fund new consists of $44. 000 of city 6 per cents and $8,000 of 8 per cent securities.

The interest derived from these investments very nearly meets the interest on the Market House bonds, and the principal is adequate to pay off the Market House bonds at their maturity. The city sixes are now worth about par. There is, then, really no necessity for continuing the tax heretofore raised to pay off the Market House bonds. Last year the entire receipts of the city from all sources, not including the sinking fund, were $41,936, of which $32,017 was raised by the one per cent ad valorem tax. The disbursements, exclusive of interest, were about $30,000, as follows:

Salaries, $11,716; streets, $5,899; provender, $1,094; lights. $2483; lumber, $723; fire department, $2,513; medicines for the poor, $658; pumps, $1,383; miscellaneous, $1,911. The interest on the 6 per cent bonds. paid out of the fund raised for general purposes was $$516 This payment of interest will have to be continued. The general expenses of the city will probably remain as at present, and the general taxes n : w coll cted are sufficient to pay these current expenses and in terest on the 6 per cent bonds. The bill proposes to issue $50,000 of new sixes for street improvements. It also proposes to continue the one-third of one per cent tax now collected in addition to the general fund.

One half of this tax is to be applied to creating a sinking fund to meet the principal of the $131,000 six per cent bonds now outstanding. The other half of the tax is to be applied to paying the interest and the principal of the $50,000 new six per cent bonds for street improvements. Our present taxes are ample to provide for the payment of all our present indebtedness and of the $50 000 of new bonds proposed. There need be no additional taxation whatever.

The Florida Ship Caual.

The Florida legislature has before it day. the proposition of a stock company looking to the construction of a ship canal across the Florida peninsula. The company asks for a charter and five mil-lion acres of land. Thirty million dol lars of capital are said to be already pledged to the enterprise, and forty million dollars will be expended before the completion of the canal. It is proposed that the canal shall be 200 feet wide and 30 feet deep. Several surveys of as many different routes by the United States engineers show that a canal is eminently feasible. The only direct advantage the State is to receive from the gift of the laud, with the excep ion of a stipulated one-half of 1 per cent. of the gross receipt, is the construction itself of the ship way. The indirect benefits, in the view of the Florida Daily Times, will be enormous. The Times states that a majority of the people of Florida are satisfied with the bargain made with Mr. Disston, by which the State received $1,000,000 for 4,000,000 acres of land, and is of opinion that 5,-000 000 acres would be a low price to pay for the existence of a Florida ship canal. Mobile and Pensacola to Charleston, Baltimore and New York have to make a "southing," it is sud, of from 600 to 1,100 miles, and in doing so incur great risks while passing through the dangerous straits of Florida. The loss from wrecks on that coast aggregated $5,000,000 in a single year, and the aver-age loss is over $2,000,000. "Besides all this," says the Times, "we should see arise at each end of the canal, and particularly at the Atlantic end, a great maritime port. Vessels laden with cotton and grain for European ports would not go to New York or Balti-more and thence to Europe. They would go direct by the shortest available route from the mouth of the canal. Here, therefore, of necessity, would be a great coaling station and depot for naval stores; here large banking houses, with European correspondents, would have to locate themselves, and here a wealthy and populous city would be sure to spring up." These results, it may be observed, are in the future. It might be well for the Floridians, in view of the omnivorous propensities of modern speculators and the "vain tricks" they are wont to play upon trustful owners of good acres, to be very sure of the canal before any land is deeded away.
