The advantages that the South possesses in the cost of cotton, climate, wages, the other requisites, inevitably fail of success, and may result is disaster. The last year may be said to have been a hard one on cotton manufacturers, but not any worse than many we have cheap power, freights and many other passed through before, and which are likely to occur again. As a business, things insure this. Major Hanson estimates the advantage the South has like every other, it has its ups and over the North in the cost of cotton at downs, its dull and brisk seasons, but hard as the year has been with us Southern mills have done better than Northern ones, relatively. Many of the largest and best mills at the North lost money largely. Those that made any-thing reasonable for their stockholders ware rather the evention. Most I cent per pound. I assume that, although think it fully 11/4 to 11/2 cents Then the difference in labor is not less than one and a half cents per pound, freights are something, all of which in a large mill, well managed, will amount to not less than 10 to 12 per cent. on its were rather the exception. Most Southern mills made something sufficapital. Therefore I do not admit that there is anything unfavorable or discient to pay their stockholders reasonacouraging in the outlook for Southern ble dividends and carry something manufacturers, who are skilful and unbesides to surplus fund and depreciaderstand their business and attend to besides to surplus fund and deprecia-tion account. A state of things has developed which many of us expected to see, and which was inevitable. Remarkable Hands at Poker.

In this country nearly all mills of any importance make their own yarns. Consequently the demand is limited to a certain quantity. Whereas the de-mand for cloth of the plainer and heavier qualities (such is is made at the South) is universal all over the world. Besides what is taken in the United States there is a large and con-stantly growing export dsmand for it, which is a safety-valve upon the mar-ket. ## Lost Faith in Physicians;

Why is it that so many persons use proprietary medicines, or patent medicines, as they are com-monly called? Is it because people lose faith in their physicians? Well, this is, no doubt, fre-quently the case. There are innumerable in-stances where cures have been effected by Rosa-dalls, the Great Southern Remedy for all diseases of the blood when they heat hean given over br dalis, the Great Southern Remedy for all diseases of the blood, when they had been given over by their physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care as a specific for certain dis-eases, it is no wonder that it should be more ef-fectual than hastily written and carelessly prepar-ed prescriptions made by incompetent physicians. Take ROSADALIS for all orders arising from im pure blood. It is endorsed by leading professional men as well as by eminent physicians and others. Try it.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER. pain is felt under the Shoulder-blade, mistaken for Rheumatism; general loss of appetite; Bowels generally costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, is dull and heavy, with considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of leaving undone something which output to here here a slight dur course which ought to have been done; a slight, dry cough and flushed face is sometimes an attendant, often mistaken for consumption; the patient complains of weariness and debility; nervous, easily startled; feet cold or burning, sometimes a prickly sensation of the skin exists; spirits are low and despondent, and, although satisfied that exercise would be bene-ficial, yet one can hardly summon up fortitude to try it—in fact, distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when but few of them existed, yet examination after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the above symptoms appear.

Persons Traveling or Living in Un-healthy Localities, by taking a dose occasion-ally to keep the Liver in healthy action, will avoid all Malaria, Bilious attacks, Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Depression of Spirits, etc. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage.

If You have eaten anything hard of digestion, or feel heavy after meals, or sleep-less at night, take a dose and you will be relieved.

Time and Doctors' Bills will be saved by always keeping the Regulator in the House! For, whatever the ailment may be, a thoroughly afe purgative, alterative and tonic can never be out of place. The remedy is harmless and does not interfere with business or pleasure.

And has all the power and efficacy of Calomel or Quinine, without any of the injurious after effects.
