GRATITUDE.

DENVER, COL., Aug. 29, 1882. GENTS-I cannot find words with which to express my gratitude to you for the cure your Swift's Specific has effected in my case. I was afflicted with the horrible blood disease for three years and after spending some time at the Hot Springs, considered my case a hopeless one. I used only one dozen small bottles of S. S. RALEIGH, Feb. 23.
George Washington the Father of "Pa," said Johnnie Blacknall to Dr

B yesterday morning, "there's no school to-day on account of its being Washington's birthday—when was Washington born, Pa?" Now, if this question didn't hack the doctor it does your correspondent, and I doubt if there's a man in the legislature that can answer it first fire. the newspapers were dumb on the day and the legislature spent the day in session as usual. SPEEDY JUSTICE.

A negro named Jerome Holt attempted a rape in Alamance county last Friday night, and was arrested Saturday, indicted Tuesday, tried Wednesday and sentenced on Friday, by Judge Gilmer, who is holding court at Graham. Mr J A Long, Esq, of Caswell, was assigned as counsel for the defense. Holt is a young negro man and has had two brothers hung for the same offense. The fellow acted like a same offense. The fellow acted like a madman. He went to the cabin of an old, inoffensive white man, James Terrell's, near Gibsonville, where the old man, aged 67 and his wife aged 56, with their little boy were all asleep in bed, and actually lifted the woman out of bed, the old man driving him away from her by beating him over the head with a gun. Mr Long says that Holt, in his statement to him, said that he had been to a frolic near Gibsonville and got drunk and knew of nothing that he did until the next morning, when he found his head bloody and a part of his clothes were brought him that he had left at the old white man's cabin. So tally one more for the gallows from drunkenness. A colored woman and her daughter were taken from their cabin in Caswell county the other night by five negroes, in masks, and whipped. They were only struck a few licks and the negroes said the whipped them for being lewd women. The women recognized one of the party, a fellow named Bethel Curry, and he was arrested and bound over in five hundred dollars to the next Superior court. So Caswell will have a negro ku klux case on

GEORGE W. SWEPSON. Mr George W Swepson lies paralyzed at his residence in this city. He has been in bed about four weeks. He cannot use his legs and lies mostly on his back. Mr Azariah Graves, an old friend of his from Caswell was up to see him this week. He says Mr Swepson's mind seemed clear enough and he even joked with him, but he noticed during a pause in the conversation, that he would fall asleep, his mouth half open and breathe hard and heavy. Mr Swepson went home from down town one morning last November about half past ten o'clock and his wife noticed that he looked pale and wearied, but he said nothing was the matter, only he felt so sleepy that he could hardly hold his eyes open, and so he laid on the sofa and immediately fell into a deep sleep, and slept till she aroused him to late dinner. He said to her, "you'll have to help me up," and extended his hand and she raised him up, and he went to dinner as if nothing more was the matter, but after dinner went to sleep again and slept eighteen out of the twenty-four hours. The doctor said then that it was premonitory symptoms of paralysis. Mr Swepson is about 55 years of age. Rev Dr Skinner of the First Baptist church, his pastor, who thinks a great deal of him, is aimost that George W Swepson with his money, has helped, who in his heart to-day says, "May God be with him." THE LEGISLATURE. The House has offered near one thousand bills. There is a bill before the House reladaily with him. There is many a man ting to a geography of North Carolina, to be published by Mr Peter M. Hale. The bill provides that if the geography when published is acceptable to the State Board of Education, and the price agreed on between them and Mr. Hale, that then the Board shall direct it to be used in the common schools of North Carolina. The Legislature will make eight Democratic Congressional districts, and the county of Mecklenburg will be placed in the Sixth district, with the county of New Hanover. I give you the districts as arranged:

First District-Beaufort, Camden, Chowan, Carteret, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Hertford, Hyde, Martin, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Pitt, Tyrrell and Washington.

Second-Bertie, Craven, Edgecombe, Green, Halifax, Lenoir, Northampton, Vance, Warren and Wilson.

Third — Onslow, Pender, Duplin, Sampson, Bladen, Wayne, Cumberland, Harnett and Moore. Fourth—Nash, Franklin, Wake, Dur-ham, Orange, Chatham, Alamance and

Johnston. Fifth-Granville, Person, Caswell, Rockingham, Stokes, Guilford, Surry

Sixth-New Hanover, Brunswick, Columbus, Richmond, Anson, Union, Stanly, Cabarrus, Robeson and Mecklenburg.

Seventh-Montgomery, Randolph, Da vidson, Rowan, Davie, Iredell, Catawba Eighth-Wilkes, Alexander, Ashe, Watauga, Alleghany, Caldwell, Burke,

Cleaveland, Gaston and Lincoln. Ninth—Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Ma-con, Swain, Jackson, Haywood, Tran-sylvania, Henderson, Polk, Rutherford, Buncombe, McDowell, Madison, Yancey and Mitchell. This is the bill as reported favorably by the sub committee, and will be adopted by the Legislature, and I am told was the plan as suggested by Messrs Seager, Womack and Caho. The committee operated on the smallest Democratic majority for the last eight years. Taking the following majorities: 1st District-Dem..... 428 6th District-Dem 1,313 7th District-Dem 1,400 8th District—Dem 1,500 9th District—Dem 1,082

The committee on the code will report to-morrow. A bill providing for the publishing and distribution of the code was introduced and passed its third reading in the Senate to-day. Mr Dortch introduced it. The code will be in two vol-umes, and as many as ten thousand copies each may be published. It may be stereotyped, and the printing done either in or out of the State, as the committee sees best The Will of a Benevolent Man. The will of the late William E. Dodge of New York has been filed in court After leaving his widow rich, and providing liberally for his sons and other relatives, he bequeathed $350,000 to church and educational enterprises, mostly-Presbyterian A one of the most valuable acquisitions of the State within the last few years is our State chemist. It would have paid Virginia to have established an agricultural experiment station in order to have profited by the services of Dr Charles W Dabney, Jr. You will recognize the name and family at once. The young doctor has much of the sturdy strength of mind and character that characterized Stonewall Jackson's chaplain, and he will have all of it before he counts his threescore years.

EXPERIMENT STATION.

What the State Chemist is Doing---One of the Finest Labratories in the Coun-

A correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, from Raleigh writes thus of the experimental station under the management of Dr Dabney:

I spent an hour in his offices yesterday, and I found entertainment enough to have kept me a whole day. The experiment station occupies large and neatly-furnished apartments in the agricultural department building. There are public and private offices, and general and private laboratories, sample and store rooms, balance and furnace rooms, and a very odorous room called, in plain Angle-Saxon, the "stink" room, where the samples of fertilizers are opened, mixed and ground.

Dr Dabney has a corps of assistants composed of Dr Baldwin Von Herp, a graduate of Gottingen, and recently operative chemist in one of the works for potash salts at Stafford; Herbert Battle, and Frank Dancy, both graduates of the scientific schools at the State University.

The labratory is equipped with all necessary apparatus, machinery and conveniences, to put which in place a liberal sum was allowed Dr Dabney. The water used is pumped into the tapks by a steam boiler, which is then used to supply steam for the distilled water apparatus, for the steam baths. drying chambers, &c. There are plateglass hoods for drawing off from the laboratories the noxious gases and fums from acids, a crucible furnace, a muffle furnace, imported from England, and gas combustion furnaces. Water, gas, and suction for rapid filtration are supplied at each working-desk.

When I was in New Haven last spring I called to see Dr Johnson, of the Con-necticut Experiment Station, and he remarked on the liberality of North Carolina in fitting up its laboratories its Experiment Station had the best equipped official laboratory in the United States. Dr Dabney says that when he has put in place a few working desks, shelves &c, that he will have one of the best appointed laboratories for industrial work in this country. The first agricultural experiment and control station established in the country was that of Connecticut, and North Carolina has the honor of being a good second in this advanced work in agriculture. I asked Dr Dabney what work his analyses included and was surprised at the scope and variety of subjects which his answer embraced in it. "Last year," said he, "we worked 174 official and 74 private samples of commercial fertilizers, 23 chemicals for composting, 10 floats (finely ground phosphate rock) 6 home-made compost fertilizers, besides 25 feeding stuffs-cotton seed, meal stalks; ashes of cotton seed hulls and kernels; tobacco stems and dust, minerals, seeds, waters, horn, leather, shoddy and other adulterants of fertilizers." In all he informed me that he made in 1882 459 complete analyses, and that the work was of a higher order, and the number of different determinations made greater than in any previous All these analyses are made by the chemist in his official capacity. He receives no compensation for work done for the citizens of the State. NEWS NOTES.

The deposition of Secretary Chandler in the Massey-Wise contested election case was taken in Washington Thursday. A Fire Fifty Years Old.

One of the grand jurors for the Su-perior Court at this term was Mr Ephraim Scroggs, of Fallstown township, concerning whom a singular and inter-esting little incident may be told; Mr Scroggs has now burning on his hearth the same fire which was started when he went to housekeeping, 50 years ago, From the day that fire was started, to this, it has never been permitted to go out. Summer and winter for these 50 years it has been replenished as occasion required. From a roaring heap it has drooped, many a time, to a bed of smouldering coals, but it has never been permitted to turn into ashes. We suspect that by this time Mr Scroggs has grown almost superstitious about it. Doubtless if he should wake up some morning and find the fire quite out, he he would be the subject of unpleasant sensations. But such is the man that we can hope that his fire may last 50 years to come, and that he may last to keep it burning.
