REV. G. D BERNHSIM, Agent and Traveling Correspondent

[ENTERED AT THE POST-UFFICE AT CEASLOTTE, N. C., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER]

TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1883.

Gov Cameron, of Virginia, has returned victorious from his oyster war. It is said that Mrs Langtry likes New York and will locate there. What Geb-hardt is going to do is not stated. Senator Tabor's wedding present to his bride was a magnificent diamond necklace, costing $30,000. The new Mrs. Tabor is about 30, stylish and hand.

If the nihilists let him alone the Czar of Russia says he will distribute gratis, in addition to the 900,000 pies, 640,000 bottles of beer. If the pies don't get 'em, he thinks the beer will.

Mrs Worth, wife of State treasurer Worth, died after a protracted illness at her home in Ashboro, Randolph county, last Friday. She was about 65 years of age and a very estimable lady. There is perhaps no court in the United States, outside of the District of Columbia, where counsel would be allowed to play the pranks that are almost route cases.

If Van Voorhishad been a Southern Democrat instead of a Northern Republican, indulging in such elegant epithets as "gambler and cutthroat" towards a fellow member of Congress, how the Northern Republican press would have discoursed on plantation

When Congress had only forty hours of life it decided that Mr. Sessinghaus, and not Mr. Frost, had been elected to represent the people of the Third Missouri District, and Sessinghaus was sworn in. Both men will get their pay. What a travesty upon common sense and common justice such a proceeding

Rev. G. W. Hinkle, a ritualietic clergyman of the Episcopal Church in Cleveland, has created an excitement in that city by hearing the confession of communicants and granting absolution from sins committed where a proper spirit of repentance was manifested. He has also adopted to some extent the outward forms of Catholic worship in other respects. His congregation is one of the most wealthy and aristocratic in the city, and presumably sustains the innovations of its pastor.

The Legislature was engaged Friday and Saturday mainly in discussing the bill to relieve the Western North Carolina Railroad Company from certain requirements in its contract with the State, which passed the Senate Saturday evening with amendments and sent to the House for concurrence. The House discussed the railroad commission bill, passed the bill dividing the State into congressional districts, on the plan published in these columns in a previous issue, passed a bill giving aid to the State guard, also a bill appropriating $75,000 for the support of the State penitentiary. The bill granting pensions to maimed Confederate soldiers, in the State's service during the war, also passed.

In addition to these a considerable number of other bills were discussed, passed or defeated, but all of a private or local character.

HOW THE TARIFF PLUNDERS.

Prof Sumner, of Yale College, has been giving some attention to tariff figures to show what protection actually costs the American people. He finds that in 1880 the capital invested in manufacturing in the United States was $2,790,000,000. The number of hands employed was 2,700,000 and the wages paid amounted to $948,000,000 or an average of $1 17 per day for each of the hands employed. The materials used amounted in value to $3,400,000,-000, and the manufactured products to $5,300,000,000. The manufacturers, therefore, increased the raw materials $1,900,000,000 in value. The products of the manufacturing industry in this country were worth in the world's market $3,700,000,000—the tariff made these products cost us $1,600,000,000 more. Such being the case, Prof Sumner concludes that all the workers in our manufacturing industries could have been paid their regular wages to have stood idle, and that ten per cent. on all the capital invested in manufactures could have been paid, provided that we were allowed to buy all we wanted in a free market, with a net gain to this country of $373,000,000. A similar calculation applied to the production of pig iron shows that the wages of all the workers in iron and ten per cent, on the capital invested in this industry could been set apart for memorial services all have been paid at a net saving to this country of $2,800,000.

Millions upon top of millions the American people have annually paid these favored wards of protective legislation, and now they howl as loudly for protection for their "infant industries" as they did when they first asked for a protective tariff. They are even more exhorbitant in their demands now than they were then, for protection has made them rich and success has made them bold.

FROM ATLANTA.

A Special Election Called to Elect a

Successor to Gov. Stephens. ATLANTA, Ga., March 5th - Hon. James S. Boynton, President of the State Senate, arrived this morning and was sworn in as Governor by Chief Justice James Jackson. He immediately ordered an election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Gov. Stephens to take place on the 24th of April, and called the Legislature to meet May 9th to receive the returns.

The Democratic Executive Committee of the State has been called to meet next Thursday in Atlanta, to consider what action shall be taken. The remains of Governor Stephens will be carried to the capital at 3 o'clock to-day, to lie in state in the hall of the House of Representatives until Thursday next, when they will be interred at 3 P. M. in Oakland Cemetery.

Resigns for a Higher Salary. WASHINGTON, March 5 .- James Gilfillan, Treasurer United States, to-day tendered his resignation to take effect upon the 1st proximo. Gilfillan has accepted the position of treasurer and manager of the Mutual Trust Company of New York at a higher salary

CORN AND COTTON.

A number of cotton factors recently assembled in St. Louis discussed the question of cotton culture and issued an address to the merchants, farmers and tenants of the cotton belt, in which they say that the credit system now in vogue in the South is disastrous to the planters and tenants, forcing them to pay extravagant prices for supplies and causing their crops to be forced into market with such rapidity and in such quantities as to break prices almost invariably below cost of production. After having watched for years the effect of large crops, the St. Louis factors find that the overproduction of cotton is the root of the whole trouble. They therefore strongly advise the Southern farmers against planting a large cotton acreage this year, and to redouble their efforts to raise grain, cattle and hogs, making cotton a surplus crop. In this way, with the production of enough provisions on each farm to supply the necessaries of life, planters would soon be able, by holding their surplus cotton until they can sell it for what it is worth, to pay off their old debts and take a fresh start in the world. The merchants and planters in each State are invited to hold conventions so that this matter may be agitated in a practical manner. Perhaps the farmers get as much gratuitous advice as any calling on the American portion of terra firma, very daily played by the counsel in the Star | little of which they pay any heed to for the reason we suppose that they consider themselves competent to manage their own business. But one thing is certain, and that is that the planters of the South as a body cannot be successful while they depend as much on cotton as they do now and have done in years past. There is no calling that can so ill afford to do business on borrowed capital or to take chances, and the farmer who starts out in the beginning with a debt on his shoulders contracted for fertilizers, supplies, implements, &c, starts out with a weight upon him which he will find it burdensome if not impossible to carry successfully. Cotton is one of the products the price of which is largely controlled by speculation and the farmer never knows what it is going to be worth from one day to the his obligations become due, he has to throw it upon the market to meet his debts unless favored by his creditors. When the Southern farmer raises his own grain and meat he will be independent and in a way to make his farm ing operations pay with some degree of certainty, but not until then. The larger the crop of cotton the lower the price, the smaller the crop of grain the higher the price, so that while he is a producer of the one and not of the other he suffers in both ways.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS. States Not Collecting Agents for their Citizens.

WASHINGTON, March 5.-A decision was rendered by the Supreme Court o-day in the cases of the State of New Hampshire and the State of New York against the State of Louisiana and her executive offices. These were suits on the repudiated Louisiana bonds, which the individual bondholders of New Hampshire and New York transferred to their respective States in order that the States might bring these suits in this Court against the State of Louisiana to compel the latter to fulfill the obligations. This court holds that the suits are in effect not suits of the States of New Hampshire and New York, but suits of individual citizens of those States against another State, that the States of New Hampshire and New York are merely endeavoring to act as collecting agents for their citizens, and that this cannot be allowed. The judicial power of the United States does not extend to suits commenced and prosecuted. These in effect are by individuals against one of the States of the Union. The actions cannot be sustained, and the bills are dismissed. The opinion is by Chief Justice Waite. A decision was also rendered to day in the case of Andrew Antoni against Samuel C Greenhow, treasurer of the city of Richmond, Va, brought here by appeal from the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia. This was a suit to test the constitutionality of the act of the General Assembly of Virginia of January 14th, 1882, entitled an act "to prevent frauds," etc, popularly known as the "Riddleberger Bill," which forbade tax collectors to receive in payment of taxes any coupons of the State bonds of 1877 and 1879, until the genuineness of such coupons should have been established by judicial proceed-

This court holds that the obligations of a contract between the State and its bondholders has not been impaired by the law in controversy, which does nothing more than make a change in the nature of the remedy for its enforcement. The judgment of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia is affirmed. Opinion by Chief Justice Waite.

Preparing for the Funera .

ATLANTA, GA., March 5.-Preparations for Gov Stephens funeral continue to be made. Gov Boynton has published an invitation to all the citizens and officials of the State, members of the Legislature, judicial and county officers, civil, military and trade organizations and all classes and denominations, to attend the funeral services. Memorial services will be held on Thursday over the State by proclamation. A committee of the Legislature is acting with the citizens' committee, and the indications are that the funeral will be overwhelmingly the largest ever seen in Georgia. The city is heavily draped, and the flags are at half mast.

Rejected Nominations. WASHINGTON, March 5-Among the presidential nominations during the session just closed, which failed of confirmation by the Senate are the following: Thos B Keogh, US Marshal of the Western District of N C, Paul Steadback U S Marshal of the Southern and Middle district of Ala and Wm Youngblood, collector of the Internal Revenue 2nd district of Alabama.

Pilot Boat Sunk.

NEW YORK, March 5 .- The pilot boat Ariel was run into this morning at 5 o'clock by the steamer Commonwealth, off Seabright, N J, and sunk, carrying down with her her pilot, John Campbell, of Staten Island.

Weather. WASHINGTON, March 5 .- Middle Atlantic, fair weather, followed by increasing cloudiness and local rains, variable winds, shifting to southerly, lower pressure.

South Atlantic, fair weather, winds mostly easterly, stationary or higher temperature, generally lower pressure.

Twenty Years Ago. In 1863, Mr. Wilson, now of Lawrence. Mass, was in the Commissary Department in Washington. Somehow or other, he was taken with a violent soreness of the throat Several Army Surgeons examined his throat and decided that it was a case of diphtheria, and that it was hopeless. After they had given him up, he tried PERRY DAVIS'S PAIN KILUER. The next day the scales began to come off his throat, and in two or three days he was well.

Mr B B Carraway, Newbern, N. C, says: "I consider Brown's Iron Bitters the best fonic I have ever used."

What the Commissioner of Internal Revenue Says About it.

WASHINGTON, March 5th.—In reply to inquiries to-day the Commissioner of Internal Revenues said that the effect of the law reducing internal revenue taxation would be as follows: That taxes upon capital and deposit of banks and bankers and national banking associations, is repealed from this date, except such taxes as are now due and payable: that the reduction of the tax upon checks, drafts, etc., and upon matches, perfumery, medicinal preparations and other articles imposed by schedule A following section 3,459, revised statues to take effect July 1st, 1883; that after May 1st, 1883, the tax on manufactured tobacco and snuff will be eight cents per pound, on cigars and three dollars per thousand, on cigars, three dollars per thousand and on cigarettes 50 cents per thousand; snuff, cigars and cigaretts of the difference in the taxes recently imposed and the taxes as now amount to $10, these claims must be presented within 60 days from May 1st. Regulations upon this matter will be immediately issued and blanks will be furnished upon which claims can be made; that the law provides for a large reduction in special taxes upon dealers, commencing May 1st, 1883.

The commissioner also stated that immediate arrangements will be made for changing the form of special tax stamps and stamps for payment of taxes upon tobacco, snuff, cigars, etc, so as to supply collectors with these stamps in time to meet the requirements of the trade prior to May 1st.

The Foolish Farmer. And one day a man who was of smooth speech and canvassed for newspapers, came unto a rancher saying: For $8 I will send you a daily paper in which there is all that is good for men to know. Ladies

Do you want a pure, blooming Complexion! If so, a few applications of Hagan's MAGNOLIA BALM will gratify you to your heart's content. It does away with Sallowness, Redness, Pimples, Blotches, and all diseases and imperfections of the skin. It overcomes the flushed appearance of heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes a lady of THIRTY appear but TWEN-TY; and so natural, gradual, and perfect are its effects, that it is impossible to detect its application.
