down fown Mercaunt, Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Southing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child. she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child parsed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Refurning home the day following, the father fount the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from 'he room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying bables and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet talled to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists 25 cents a bottle.

Mr. J. H. Mills, the "orphan's friend," arrived in the city yesterday afternoon patient at the All Healing Springs for about two months and who experienced a wonderful cure. The lad is named Thos. Hartley and he is from Watauga county. Last summer he was afflicted with white swelling and it assumed such serious proportions that the doctors thought amputation of the little fellow's leg would be necessary, but he had been at the All Healing only a few days before he began to improve and eventually got entirely well. Mr. Mills put a tag around his neck yesterday evening and sent him on to Oxford to re-enter the asylum.

Night before last a band of professional burglars plied their trade in Wadesboro on a wholesale scale and with considerable success. They entered and ransacked several stores and a number of private residences, making a haul of valuables and money at each place they visited. We were unable to learn who were the individual losers, but a tele-gram from the mayor of Wadesboro to the mayor of Charlotte, described the robbery in the following significant language. ROUGH ON MR. BEST.

Some Serious Charges Preferred Against the Railroad Builder -- $17,-000 Alleged to Have Been Misappro-

Several years ago Mr. W. J. Best was a man of considerable note in this State, and some people believed that he was going to run a railroad through every county in North Carolina. When he went through Newbern and threw out silver half dollars by the hundreds to see the boys tumble and scramble along the railroad track picking them up, all doubts as to his ability to fulfill his promises were removed from the minds of his friends, and he was hailed as a veritable king. The history of Mr. Best's rise and descent in this State is still remembered by our readers, and it is no use for us to say anything about that now. What we want to do is to give something new. A few days ago we gave an inkling of some alleged crookedness on the part of Mr. Best as manager of his railroad enterprise in this State, and, as might have been expected, further details have now come out. The New York Times is authority for what follows: It is charged by William S. Denny, of Boston, treasurer of the Midland North Carolina Railway Company and he Midland Improvement and Construction Company, that William J. Best, of New York City, the president of both corporations, has mis-appropriated $17,000 belonging to the former company. Mr. Denny also asserts that, to conceal the alleged misappropriation, Mr. Best had the cash books. vouchers, etc., of the railway company sent to him from Newbern, N. C., and he hid them in his office at No. 15 Cortland street, New York. On September 29 Mr. Denny began a replevin suit against Mr. Best, and procured the seizure of the bcoks, etc., by the sheriff. The suit is based on a complaint in which Mr. Denny asserts that under the H. E. Weisiger, Richmond; W. A. Dabby-laws of the railway company he, as treasurer, is entitled to have the possession of its books, to sell its securities, etc., and to receive and disburse its money, all under the direction of the president and directors. In March last, he alleges, Joseph P. Caddagan, the manager of the Newbern office, who had been appointed by Mr. Best, refused to account to him, at his office in Boston, for the money received or paid out at Newbern. Thereafter, and prior to June I, Caddagan is alleged to have sent the books, papers, etc., to Best. Mr. Denny says he found them in a small wooden box in Mr. Best's office on September

Immediately after the sheriff had taken the books, etc., in the replevin suit. Mr. Best claimed them and offered an indemnity bond for their return to him. While the justification of the sureties on this bond was pending, Mr. Denny, through his counsel, William S. Mac-Farlane, applied to Judde Barrett, in C.; W. W. Watt, Baltimore; R. A. cers of the company to inspect the books. In the affidavits of Messrs Denny and Macfarlane in support of the application. it was averred that Mr. Best had sought to conceal the books for the purpose of concealing the misappropriation of money; that if he should recover possession of them he would mutilate them or take them out of the jurisidiction of -Subscribers to the DAILY OBSERVER | the court, and that it was necessary for the officers of the company to inspect be called on to day by the carriers for them to ascertain the obligations of

The Luther Celebration in Concord.

At the Luther celebration in Concord on the 10th of November, Dr. Paul Barringer, of this city, will deliver a speech in German. The celebration exercises will take place in the Presbyterian church and it will doubtless be the occasion of an immense gathering of protestants. Messrs. C. G. Montgomery, P. B. Fetzer and D. R. Hoover, print the following card: "Having been appointwith a little orphan boy who has been a ed a committee to arrange for the celebration of the 400th anniversary of Martin Luther, in Concord, and that all our citizens would wish to participate in the exercises, we have procured the consent of our business men to close their stores on Saturday, November 10th, until 4½ o'clock in the evening; and we hereby give notice that no business will be transacted in our town on that day before the hour above stated. Drug stores only will be open.

Gold Medal and Premiums.

The exhibit made at Raleigh by the Taylor Manufacturing Company, of this city, was the most creditable in the machinery hall. They made a most excellent display and one that attracted considerable attention. As a proof of the excellence of their exhibit they were awarded the gold medal for the "best display." They were also awarded prepremiums as follows: Moore county Grit portable corn mill, first premium; twenty horse power engine, first premium; eight horse power engine, first premium; six horse power engine, first premium.

The Rate Convention.

The rate convention of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association was held in Atlanta Thursday, with a full attendance. After reviewing the present rates and classifications the committee determined to make no change whatever in existing rates. Very few changes were made in the present classifications.

The executive committee passed a resolution inviting chambers of commerce to appoint two of their members to appear before the committee to state any causes of grievance or complaint as to rates, etc. A circular setting forth this action of the committee will be issued at once. On receipt of replies designating parties to serve for the various boards of trade or chambers of commerce a call for the meeting of the committee will be made. Notice of time and date will be given to the boards of trade desiring to present complaints or to ask readjustment of rates.

A Remarkable Railway.

The South Carolina Railway is said by the Railroad Record to be the most remarkable railway in the United States. "It is the first railway built in the South, if not in the United States; its mileage has never been added to or reduced since its completion; it has never passed out of the hands or management of its stockholders, and has always been successful and profitable. From Charleston, S. C., to Augusta, Ga., and from Charleston to Columbia are its lines -through a remarkably attractive and historically interesting country—and no tourist can be satisfied until he has visited the scenes reached by the South Carolina Railway. There occurred some of the most stirring events from the days of the revolution to the present time."

We have heard both Democrats and Republicans say that there is nothing better for a cough than Dr. Bull's cough syrup; this old reliable remedy never fails to cure a cough or cold at once, and may be obtained at any drug store for 25 cents a bottle.

A Court Martialed U. S. Officer Reported to Have Become Insane. Washington, Oct. 26. - The army surgeon on duty at Whipple barracks arsenal has reported to the war department that Lieut. Jno. F. Simpson, 3d cavalry, is in the hospital at that post and is considered to be insane. He has not yet been examined by the medical board and no action has been taken by the war department. Lieut. Simpson is the officer who a short time ago was court martialed for marrying his mistress and was sen-tenced to dismissal by the court, but the sentence was disapproved by the President. Lieut. Simpson has recently published a card in the newspapers defending the character of his wife and explaining his own actions and stating that he has resigned from the army in view of his reported condition. Grave doubts, however, are entertained as to his responsibility in making the statements. His resigna-tion has not been received at the war department. It appears that his first wife had been dead but a short time when the second marriage, which judged to be insane the authorities will take steps at once to have him properly cared for.

She was in this condition when a friend recommended Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs and advised her to try it. She accepted it as a last resort, and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better, and by persevering in its use a permanent cure was effected.
