CUT IT DOWN. Hon. W. D. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, has returned from Europe improved in health, and proposes to take a lively part in the business of the next congress. One of the pet hobbies of Mr. Kelley is the abolition of the internal revenue system, which he says ought to be, and must be, abolished. The revenue system has few admirers and few defenders, but still its abolition meets with considerable opposition, even in the South, where it is most odious and has been most oppressively and odiously managed. We favor tearing it out root and branch, not on account of the tax collected through it, but on account of the machinery through which this tax is collected. If a way can be devised of collecting the tax by means less objectionable, let it stand, but if not, then let the system and the machinery by which the system is managed both go. The people can and will stand the taxes better than they can or will stand the agencies for collecting them, and we believe while taxes must be levied they would prefer to see them levied on such articles as liquors and tobacco than on what they eat and wear. It costs about six millions of dollars a year to run the internal revenue machinery and keep up a gang of collectors, deputies, clerks, storekeepers, gaugers, and other hangers on like the sixty-day men who are called into service previous to elections to work for the party, secure votes for the Republican ticket, and draw five dollars a day from the government. The collectors are, as a general thing, the head centers of the party in their respective districts, and when so inclined, which they generally are, through the number of men they have in their employ and the patronage and money they control, they can run the machine. This needs no proof here in North Carolina, where we have had such abundant evidence of it. But a few days ago we published the summary dismissal of Deputy Collector Dudley at Newbern by Collector Young simply to placate a colored member of congress who sought vengeance on Dudley for opposing his election to congress. Here Boss Young exercised his arbitrary power in viowhose temporary influence he court- are: ed, and whom he was afraid to offend. This is only one instance of hundreds that have occurred of the despotic sway of the men who exercise author ity in this close corporation, and run it in defiance of the law when the law conflicts with their wishes or interests. The only way these abuses can be effectually remedied is by wiping out the present system, which has been run in the old ruts so long that it is utterly impossible to bring about a new departure. Get rid of the col-

It ought to be done, and by the next congress. Registration closed in New York city Saturday evening with a total of 182,144 voters. This is a decrease of about of 35,000 compared with the presdential year of 1880, and a de crease of 14,000 compared with 1882, when a Governor was elected. This is an "off year," however and the 000 over 1881, which was also an "off year.

Hon. W. S. Holman, of Indiana, says there is no presidential bee buzzing in his bonnet and while he appreciates the preference that some of the press have shown for him he is not a candidate in any sense. He soys "the indications are that if Tilden concludes to accept the nomination, Tilden and Hendricks will be the next candidates, and, if so, there is hardly a shadow of a doubt of their election.

The South, published in New York, speaking of Mr. John T. Patrick, general agent of immigration for North Carolina, pronounces him one of the most energetic men in the State, and says he is managing the immigration work so as to inspire confidence in the people that some-thing will be accomplished.

Georgia claims that she has a smaller proportion, to her population, of idiots and insane persons than any other State.

At the opening night of the new opera house in New York, last week, the wealth represented by families in the private hoxes aggregated $450, 000,000.

In Ohio we think that thanksgiving day will be chiefly observed by Democrats this year. A Brazilian physician claims to have discovered the cause of yellow fever and that it can be prevented by inoculation.

Dooly county, Ga., has a citizen 76 years old who has never in his life spent one night from under the roof of the house in which he was born Dooly county is good enough for

Dr. McLean, of St. Louis, was not only a patent medicine man but he was also the inventor of other life exterminators, cannons, to which he gave such expressive pet names as exterminator, annihilator, etc.

The building of the Kimball House in Atlanta seems to hang fire. It was announced some time ago that the work would go right on, but now it seems that $20,000 more must be subscribed before the work will begin.

Some of the anti-civil-rights decision Republicans concluded they would start a little Harlan boom for the presidency. But Judge Harlan quashed it in its infancy by coolly informing them that he didn't want to be "embarrassed by politics." We suggest that they now turn to Bob Ingersoll.

There are 900 tons of coined silver stowed away in the Treasury vaults at Washington. Secretary Folger took the English Chief Justice Coleridge through and showed it to him. He wanted to know what the government was going to do with it. Why, keep it locked up, of course, until the Republican party gets out of power.

The Atlanta Constitution says that Atlanta consumes 2,500 pounds of butter per day at a cost of $750 in hard cash, at least $500 of which goes out of the State. And yet Georgia is a good grass growing State where the dairy business cap be conducted without difficulty. Replies from a dozen or so of the Atlanta grocers show that they sell nearly all Northern and but very little Georgia made butter.

Frank Harper, who inherited two of the greatest race horses this country ever saw, said the other day: 'Longfellow is now sixteen years old and Ten Broeck twelve. I always keep a guard over them, both night and day. I have been offered $50,000 for Longfellow, but I wouldn't sell him for $100,000, nor would I sell Ten keep them as long as they live, or until I die."

The Ohio Election. Cincinnati News-Journal.

It took two whole weeks to get them, but the official returns of the Ohio election are all in at last, and the Democrats, at least, will feel that they are well worth all the work lation of law at the bidding of a man and all the waiting for. Here they

In 1880 the total vote was 724,967, and Garfield's plurality 34,227. In 1881 the total vote was 624,226, and Foster's plurality 24,309. In 1882 the total vote was 632,189, of which Newman, Democrat, had 316,874; Townsend, Republican, 297,759; Shumacher, Prohibition, 12,202, and scattering, 5,354. Hoadly gets 15,000 less votes than Garfield got, but he received 8,000 more than were cast for Hancock. On the other hand Foraker falls 28,000 behind Garfield and runs only 6,000 ahead of Hancock. To our mind this indicates a substantial Democratic growth, and indicates that Ohio is a Democratic State that her people have repudiated Republicanism, alias Dorseyism, alias Fosterism, alias Shermanism, alias Unconstitutionalism. This is what the figures appear to us to mean, and it further appears to us that it was the figures that did it. But we confess that we are not good at making registration shows an increase of 12,- figures lie, so we turn them over to our esteemed Republican and mathematical contemporaries, with full permission to juggle all the consola-

London Truth: The pleasing notion that there is no such thing as slavery in England is rudely shaken by an extraordinary story which was told the other day in the Police court. A lodging-house keeper applied for a summons against one of the lodgers for systematically ill-treating a little negro boy, whose screams she had often heard through the door. The boy, it appeared, had been purchased in Africa as a servent and when the ledy removers. vant, and when the lady remonstrated with her lodger for his cruelty, he replied: "Oh! he is only a colored child; and besides, he belongs to my brother." The landlady's intererence seems to have been visited on the little boy, who had his wrists tied together, and was hung up to a hook on the wall of the room. The magistrates "expressed much astonishment," and promised to grant a summons if the lodger could be found; but this worthy who was described as a law dismond more bent described as a Jew diamond merchant had unfortunately already decamped.

Dancing Bears ys. Republican Orators. BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 .- A special to the Sun from Eastern Talbot county, says: A large Republican mass meeting was held here yesterday. All the colored people of the county took holiday and came to town. Mr. Holton, Republican candidate for Government Capacial Adam R. King and ernor, General Adam E. King, and others, addressed the meeting and were attentively listened to. Other speakers followed, and when the meeting was at its height a fellow with three trained bears appeared upon the scene, and the negroes all left the meeting to see the bears dance and climb trees. The speaking was nearly stopped. It is charged that the Democrats employed the man with the bears to break up the meet-

Bedy Snatchers Arrested. RICHMOND, October 30.—Charles Baker and Wm. Burrett, professional resurrectionists, were arrested this morning while moving the body of a dead pauper through the streets on a wheel barrow. The body had been stolen from the Morgue, at the city alms house. David Parker, keeper of the morgue, was arrested on a charge of complicity, but has been bailed. Baker and Burrett were sent to jail.

The Raleigh Muddle.

RALEIGH, Oct. 29.—The Supreme court to-day decided in the municipal muddle cases that the place of night watchman in a government building is not such a place of trust under the State constitution as to make the incumbent ineligible to election as alderman. The decision is favorable to the Republicans.

A Closed Out Printing House.

CHICAGO, Oct 29.—The stationery and printing house of Curry, Page, Hayne & Co., one of the oldest in this city, closed its doors this morning. In answer to inquiries it was stated that the business had been closed out to John Morris.

Fatal Fire Damp Explesion.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct 29 .- An explosion of fire damp has just been re ported in the Pennsylvania Central company's shaft No. 7, three miles from Pittstone. At the time of the explosion there were 30 men in the mine, 5 of whom are known to have been badly burned and one of whom is dead. The fate of the others is not yet known.

Two Kentucky Cyclones.

CINCINNATI, October 30.—A special from Paris, Ky., says two very destructive cyclones occurred here in the last eighteen hours. The first demolished a house killing four negroes, the second sweeping from west to east at 2 o'clock this morning caused much destruction of property but no loss of life.

From No Such Noble Sires Sprung. To the Editor of the Observer:

MARION, N. C., Oct. 29, 1883. I have seen an egregious error go-ing the rounds of the press, first pub-lished in the New Orleans Times Democrat, last in your issue of last Friday, 26th inst., anent the putative Mrs. Sharon, of Nevada or San Fran cisco. You state that "she is a descendant of Robert Brevard, who signed the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence." She may be (although I doubt it) a descendant of one Robert Brevard, but no Robert Brevard signed the Mecklenburg Declartion, a fact which is patent to all who are familiar with that historic document. Only one Brevard signed it and that was its immortal and gifted author Dr. Ephraim Brevard. Senator Sharon may not thus take pulican Court" of America.

Respectfully Yours, BREVARD D. SINCLAIR.

Prohibition in Ohio. Every county in Ohio gave a majority for the second, or prohibition, jority for the second, or prohibition, amendment except five, viz: Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Lucas and Montgomery. These counties contain the cities of Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland, Toledo and Dayton, and kept the State from adopting the amendment. As to the actual vote cast on this question the prohibition vote is far ahead, but the enemies of prohibition owe their escape to the requirement that an affirmative vote in constitutional amendments shall include a majority of all the votes cast at the same election. Rheumatism; and similar diseases, caused by a low state of the system, are cured by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
