Two New Engines Wrecked.

The Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad Company purchased two new engines and put them on the road last week. Friday evening they made their tirst trip, and a disastrous one it was, too. Nobody was hurt, but the two engines were seriously broken and battered up. Bad luck, for the C. F., & Y. V. R R., but it may prove a good lesson to the company

THE DANVILLE RIOT.

Nine Negroes Dead, the Wounded Improving and All Quiet--- Latest Reports from the Scene of the Disturb. ances.

The riot that occurred in Danville last Saturday afternoon, mention of which was made in Sunday morning's OB-SEEVER, was even more serious than at first reported. Three negroes were shot dead in the street, and it was known that several others were mortally wounded, but it was not until Sunday morning that the real loss of life was known. Six dead negroes were found in various parts of the city, making the total killed nine. Twenty-eight were wounded. Mr. Walters Holland, the young white man who received the first bullet fired, is the son of Mr. C. G. Holland, one of the werlthiest men in Dan ville. He was shot in the head and though his condition is still critical, he was yesterday reported to be slightly improved. All Saturday night the Danville Grays guarded the city, and men were to be found at every street corner with guns in their hands. The negroes had made threats of burning the town, and great uneasiness prevailed, some of the citizens even fearing a massacre of the whites It was a very grave situa-tion, but the people acted coolly and with great determination. All the stores were locked up and the citizens armed themselves and prepared to defend their homes. Danville's escape from the torch that night was entirely due to the determined preparations of the citizens for defending the city. The negroes all withdrew from the streets, and not a single one was to be seen the balance of the night. It was ascertained the next morning that all through the night the negroes remained banded together. and were several times on the point of making war upon the city with knife and torch, but their courage, fortunately for them, was not strong enough to bear them out in the undertaking. On the train that arrived at Danville from Richmond Saturday night were the Governor's Horse Guards, of Atlanta, on their return home from the Richmond fair, and the captain of the company offered their services to the city, but the offer was thankfully declined, as it was not thought that they would be needed.

INCIDENTS OF THE SKIRMISH.

When the negro shot Mr. Holland the Democrats who were holding a meeting in the theatre heard there was a conflict on the streets and came rushing down where the parties had gathered in a crowd near one of the stores. The negroes to the number of two hundred and fifty, it being Saturday evening, formed in a crowd near by. What followed we give on the authority of the Richmond Dispatch: Pistols were drawn by some on both sides, and some of the negroes, approaching the whites, called out: "Shoot, damn you: We had as well settle this now as any other time.' menced on both sides, and the streets were quickly cleared, the negroes run-ning off in several directions and some firing as they retired. The negro who shot Walters Holland ran off and escaped in the confusion that ensued, and no arrests were made. All the stores were immediately closed and the people were going about with weapons in their hands. The alarm bell was rung, the Grays mustered under arms, and their Sergeant (Wood) commanded the people in the name of the Commonwealth to capitation tax erroneously listed against him in Crab Orchard Township 18-3. Grays and some accepted volunteers. The Grays, under orders of Mayor John ston, are on duty on the streets, and a number of volunteers with them, some mounted. The negroes in Danville held big meetings several times recently, and have been addressed by several of their orators. An address was made there to them Friday night by Col. Sims, which the whites understood to be very denunciatory. The South Boston affair has also made some impression there. It was plain Saturday morning that trouble was near by, and prudent men were apprehensive.

Passengers who arrived on the train yesterday afternoon report all quiet in Donville, but the citizens are still on guard. The election occurs there to-day, but ne more trouble is anticipated.
