WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.-SENATE .-The Senate was called to order at noon. After prayer by the chaplain and reading of the journal, several joint resolutions were presented to be referred to appropriate committees when appointed.

Among the bills introduced were the following:

By Jones, of Florida, to authorize the erection of a public building in Key West; it appropriates $100,000 for the purpose. Also to authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to setfor the Irish vote in the United States in the language the President uses in tle claims of the State of Florida for regard to pauper emigrants. By Frye, of Maine, to extend the duration of the court of Alabama claims; it continues the court till December 31, 1885, and empowers the President to continue it one year longer if necessary.

By Butler, of South Carolina, to repeal the internal revenue laws now in force, and to abolish the internal revenue bureau.

By George, of Mississippi, to relieve the Protestant Orphan Asylum of Natchez. Miss. Also to permit a statue of Garibaldi to be erected in Governor and soon thereafter his the public grounds of Vicksburg, message was received and read. A Miss

Jones, of Florida, offered a resolulution, which was agreed to, calling on the President for information as to whether the ninth article of the treaty of 1819 between the United States and Spain has been fully executed by the United States, if not, what impediments, whether of law or fact, interferes with such execution.

After a brief executive session, during which a number of nominations received to-day, mostly "recess appointments," were laid on the table to await the formation of a commit tee, the Senate adjourned until tomorrow House .- Tucker, of Virginia called up the resolution offered by him yesterday referring to the committee on elections the papers in the Virginia contested election case of Garrison vs

THE PREACHER'S PECULIARITIES .- A studious man. An industrious man. A gentlemanly man. A faithful man. An energetic man. An eloquent man. A man highly respected. Yet, in spite of all these, disease sometimes lays its hand on the preacher and commands him to stop his work. Like all other brain-workers, lawyer, editor, poet, and scribe, the preacher often exerts his brain too much and omits to give his stomach and liver a fair chance. These organs rebel, and the brain-toiler is in trouble. He thinks he has consumption, Bright's disease, and fifty other diseases. His indigestion puts him in a state of misery which is next door to a state of sin. Under such pressure many ministers are voted a trip to Europe, the expenses paid by the congregation. With many others this is impossible, and their peculiarity is that they have to stay at home. Dut no man need complain at having to stay at home, so long as he can procure a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, which can be had at any drug-store. O, how it tones up the debilitated preacher! It sets his liver to rights, and enables his stomach to digest the food he puts into it. It gives him new cheer and takes away the horrors. The Rev. W. H. Chapman, of Baltimore, was in ill-health and a state of debility. Brown's Iron Bitters helped him out of all that. The Rev. Mr. Barham, of Warrenton, N. C., found it "a complete restorative, tonic, and appetizer." So have many other ministers, and so will persons of every profession or perduasion who try this best of all tonics.

juestion which is looming up into importance, and to which congress will doubtless give earnest consideration.

His remarks on the complaints against the corporations controlling the freight and passenger traffic of the country, which means practically the railroad corporations, are substantially the same as those contained in his former message. He suggests nothing to overcome the evil; complained of, but hopes that congress may find some legal way to remedy the trouble, which congress will find considerable difficulty in doing, even if it were disposed to undertake so large and complicated a task.

While he thinks tariff reform good and desirable, he thinks that congress ought to move cautiously in the cutting down process until it is satisfactorily demonstrated how the revenues will be affected by the reductions under the acts of the last congress, which he says have not yet had time for a sufficient test. He continues to favor, however, the abolition of internal revenue, except, perhaps, on distilled spirits.

He takes a lively interest in the American navy, and urges congress to take measures to give the country such a navy as it ought to have, remarking that now is the auspicious time for this work, while the national finances are in such a satisfactory condition, and while there is such a large surplus in the treasury.

He plants himself flat-footed on the polygamy question, and to outroot that evil goes so far as to advise the complete overthrow of the terri torial system as applied to Utah, and its government by some other method, a commission or something of that sort, as suggested by Gov. Murray, of that territory. He is emphatic in the declaration that polygamy must go, whether the Mormons go or not.

He concludes his message by a reference to the civil rights question, which was quashed by the decision of the United States Supreme court, and trusts that congress will adopt some measures to secure to the colored people those rights guaranteed to them by the constitution of the United States. The brevity with which he dispatches this question would indicate that he does not take a very lively interest in it, throwing it in as a sort of a postscript to pla-cate that class of colored politicians who have taken exceptions to the decision of the Supreme court as an outrage upon the colored people.

It is stated that Hon. Samuel J. Tilden will make a gift of his Gramercy Park residence, library and collection of pictures to the city of New York for a public library, which he proposes to liberally endow. The
