Those who noticed the crowd at the opera house Wednesday night, think they will question "Where is my boy to-night?" should have been reminded of "Where is my pa and grandpa?" The boys were in a hopeless minority while gray heads and bald patches bobbed up serenely all over the house. There were fewer young men there than was ever known to be the case at any previous show in our opera house.

Death of a Visitor to the City. Mr. John Sampson, of Georgetown, S. C., a brother to Mrs. L. Baruch, of this city, died last evening about six o'clock, at Mrs. Baruch's residence. The deceased was here with his wife and child on a visit and had not been well for some time, but on Tuesday he was taken violently ill and declined rapidly until his death last night. The body will be sent off on the 1 o'clock train this afternoon for Georgetown, where it will be interred. Mr. Sampson was about 30 years old and had made many fast friends in Charlotte.

President Grant's Gold Mine. It is not generally known that there is a gold mine in Bladen county owned by the late President Jas. A. Garfield. The mine is known as the Flat-town mine and was bought by the President shortly before he was assassinated. President Garfield not only bought the mine, but established at the mine a post-office called Flat-town. The mine has been lying idle, but the man in charge of the property has received a letter from Mrs. Garfield stating that she intends to visit the mine in person next summer and make arrangements to have it properly worked.

Little Boy and Plenty to Sell. The number of country people thronging the streets nowadays is almost unprecedented. It is a fact, too, that they come to do but little buying, in nearly every instance bringing loads of butter, chickens and country produce to sell. It has been many years since they have possessed of such a feeling of independence as they are this fall. They have had good crops, and have raised plenty of meat and enough of chickens to sell to provide for their money wants. So far the weather, too, has favored them, making it comfortable to wear summer clothes and enabling them to laugh at the clothing dealers to scorn. The result of these statements was patent yesterday when the merchants were complaining of dull trade, and at the same time the streets were crowded with country wagons, and the sidewalks were thronged with people. It is a good sign, and a harbinger of the happy time coming, when our country friends will be able to get rid of their surplus goods instead of carrying them to market.

Death from Lockjaw. Mr. J. E. F. Garrett, the young man who was reported to be taken with lockjaw, died at noon yesterday. The case is a particularly sad one and has aroused the sympathy of the whole community. Mr. Garrett was about 25 years old, and about eight months ago was married to a young lady in this city. He was an excellent mechanic, and was employed at Liddell's machine shop. About a week ago he mended his finger, and on Monday last lockjaw resulted from the injury. All that the physicians could do was to give him morphine, and he suffered for the hour of his death were intense. At the moment of his death his temperature was 107 degrees.

The deceased was a son of Jesse Garrett, Sr., who is now in the government printing office in Washington, but who was once connected with Mrs. Richard Holton in the publication of the "Whig in Charlotte, and so far as was known, he was a faithful boy. Sober industrious and possessed of affable manners, he made his friends of every body and was justly regarded as a foundation for a successful career through life.

RICHMOND AND DANVILLE AFFAIRS.

Additional Details of President Burford's Report—What is Promised Charlotte as a General Site of the Inside Workings of the Company.

Below we give fuller and more complete details of the report of President A. S. Burford, of the Richmond and Danville Railroad, at a meeting held in Richmond, Wednesday, than that contained in our telegraphic columns yesterday. President Burford said that during the year, the railway has been improved by the addition of steel rails, and adds that the insufficiency of passenger accommodations at Charlotte will receive the early attention of the management, and a suitable building provided. The adoption of coal in the place of wood for the main lines has required continued expenditure in the erection of coal chutes and side tracks for their conveyance.

In the motive power department some additions have been made to the machinery and buildings at Manchester, point empty effective in the ordinary repairs and additions to the company's equipment. Two first-class freight locomotives built in the company's shops have been put into service during the year, and two others of the same class are under construction. Twenty-five cars have been built to replace others of different classes worn out or destroyed during the year, and eight conductor's cars built and added to the equipment.

The amount charged to betterments of the various branches of the Richmond and Danville system, the President reports, is $1,000,000. He is permanent additions and improvements of specific roads, over and above a full expenditure for ordinary repairs charged to maintenance in the general accounts. The indebtedness of the company at the close of the fiscal year, September 30, 1883, was as follows: Capital bonds $1,000,000; general mortgage bonds $3,000,000; debenture bonds $3,000,000; total $7,000,000.
