VERY PROPER.

Hon. A. M. Scales, chairman of the House committee on Public Printing, is making an effort to reduce the bulk and cost of printing the House proceedings in the Congressional Record. The custom has been to print the speeches of the members in full regardless of whether the subject under discussion was one of general or only of local interest. In addition to this hundreds of speeches were printed as if delivered which were never delivered at all, the members simply asking permission to have them printed, which is always granted. It is a well known fact that many of these speeches are not written by the members supposed to have written them, but by newspaper reporters and other ready writers who get them up in their best style and furnish them at so much a piece, when the congressman who is either too indolent or ignorant to write his speech, turns it over to the Record and plants his reputation as an orator and debater upon it. If it strikes him that there is any meat for a future campaign in it, he has an extra number of them printed in the government printing shop and favorshis constituents with a liberal supply. To lighten the expense of these extra copies he arranges with some of his fellow members to take a certain number of them for distribution among their constituents, he in return doing the same favor for them when they desire to print a speech for home circulation. Gen. Scales proposes to lap off some of the printing in the Record by limiting the amount of the speech printed to one page, which in ninety speeches out of a hundred would be ample and even too much. There is really no practical benefit arising from the printing of these speeches, very few of which are read after being printed, by any considerable number of peo-There is an opportunity for retrenchment while Gen. Scales is on that line, in another matter-the printing of bills. There are to-day possibly 1500 bills, if not more, on the House calendar which will be ordered print. ed, and probably one-third of them will never see the light of discussion. Not unfrequently there are several bills upon the same subject introduced by different members, practically the same, differing only in some unimportant minutia or phraseology. Yet they will be all printed in fine style, on costly paper, carefully folded, numbered and the majority of them shoved into pigeon holes, never to see the light any more. As the number of members increases so, of course, does the number of bills and the consequent expense. No bills except those of general import ought to be printed and then not until acted upon in committee. Gen. Scales has inaugurated a good move. Let him persevere and he may save a good deal of money to the people. According to the statements of Dr. D. E. Salmon, veterinary surgeon of the Department of Agriculture, at Washington, pleuro-pneumonia is making serious progress among cattle in Maryland, Pennsylvania and New York,, where many herds are affected to a greater or less extent. It is hoped, however, by the steps that are being taken and the proposed legislation, to eventually extirpate the disease.

Of the $105,796,000 expended by the government on rivers and harbors since the establishment of the government, the States of New York, Michigan, Wisconsin, Delaware, Mas sachusetts, Ohio and Illinois together have got about one-third. North Carolina got $2,261,000, more than any other Southern State, Texas next with about $2,000,000.

THE RICE INDUSTRY.

The Savannah (Ga.) Rice. Association have prepared a memorial to Congress showing the necessity of a protective tariff on rice. In conclusion it says: The facts relating to the American rice industry for the past sixteen years go to prove that it is an example of where the taxation of a foreign product is sound policy if not the duty of the government: First, for the prevention of a monopoly in either the domestic or foreign product to the advantage of the domestic con sumer as well as of the domestic product. Second, for the encouragement and permanent establishment at home of an industry necessary to afford food hospital supplies in time of war, and so to promote national independence. Third, because protective taxation has been clearly educational to the domestic product, practically developing it from its infancy until it has reached the promise of such successful permanence as in reasonable time to become independent of protection.

Col. John Screven, of Savannah, the official representative of the rice industry of Georgia, has offered a memorial of which the following is a synopsis: It is now, he says, the commence-ment of the year, and the planters should commence operations for the new crop. The agitation of the tariff is giving them such concern that there is a general fear that their investments, going back in some instances, more than a hundred years, will have to be abandoned. Credit is seriously impaired, and some of the most liberal bankers and factors are calling in their loans, thus crippling many and ruining some of the planters. It is, therefore, important that it should be known as soon as possible what is intended to be done as to the duty on rice. There is great fear that some adverse measure may be sprung in the committee on Ways and Means, and the rice industry suffers there in the very outset. Col. Screven gives facts demonstrating the reasons for this anxiety and mistrust. He refers to the increased importation of Hawaiian rice Taking advantage of the American market duty free, the whole Hawaiian crop is sold in the United States at an enormous profit. The American rice industry under the ruling of the Treasury Department of last summer is now laboring under competition more severe tan it has ever encountered under the old tariff. and further reduction of the duty must bring absolute ruin. The only advantage that American rice now has over the foreign product is that the which is due chiefly to superior cleaning. There is no reason why our sys em of milling and cleaning should not be adopted abroad and foreign rice made quite equal in quality to American. This alone is an ample answer to the charge of excessive duty on rice. The duty as it stands barely saves American rice labor from starvation, and if this is not a proper subject for incidental

A memorial of the representatives of the rice industry of Georgia will also be presented by Mr. Nicholls. It is signed by James H. Johnston, president of the Savannah Cotton Exchange, and other representatives' of the rice industry, praying the abrogation of the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty. The memoaialigives facts and figures showing the undue and unfair competition that the treaty guarantees to Hawaiian rice with the native product, and savs: 1 These facts destroy any proposition of sub-stantial public benefit now or hereafter derivable from the reciprocity treaty, and we hold that no class of American citizens should be injured especially through such an instru mentality, and for objects of national policy not wholly without objection, and not compelled by national ne cessity We hold it, too to be a great grievance that indirect boun-ties are thus given to foreign indus tries, and that we are forced by law into an unjust and unnecessary conflict with the Hawaiian producers, who, if Americans, are self-exiledforeigners of their own free will sharing none of the burthens of the American Government, and owing it no allegiance. With the same justice should reciprocity treaties be es tablished with other foreign powers, because their citizens have become citizens or residents of the United States. We submit the foregoing statements, assuring you that they are rendered only after careful investigation looking to the ascertainmeht of unquestioned facts: "We ask for them your most serious consideration, feeling that the welfare of many thousands of your constitu-protection, what can be?

ents depends upon your judgment These are the views of Southern planters and others interested in the rice industry, ninety per cent. of whom, it is reasonable to say, are Democrats, and Democrats from principle, but they believe in and insist upon protection to that industry which unrestricted competition with foreign producers, whose labor costs them but little or nothing, would destroy. The prosperity of Georgia depends much upon the prosperity of this industry and it would be a stupid policy that would destroy it, whether it be done under tariff reform or any other name.

Workings of the Treasury.

Wash, Cor Baltimore Sun Information has been laid before some of the members of the House of Representatives to the effect that committee on expenditures of the Treasury Department to the effect that an investigation into the workings of the treasury would open up mine of developments. Whether the committee will go into an investigation has not yet been considered, but the chairman of the committee says they cannot accom ment of a patent and he continues to plish much unless the House will furnish them with a clerk. It is alleged, among other things, that there has been favoritism and largely un-New, Assistant Secretary of the necessary expenditures in winding Treasury resigned, was because Sec- up the affairs of broken national banks; that the government has been retary Folger thought he was some put to useless expense in caring for what of a rival in the affections of its property at Harper's Ferry: that what of a rival in the affections of the President, and consequently made his position as uncomfortable for him as possible. of the church was transacted. On next Thursday night, 31st inst. the citizens of Salem and Winston will have an opportunity offered them to attend a grand Ballad concert, to be given by the Salem Philharmonic Society, in the chapel of Salem Academy. The programme, which is composed of eighteen choice selections, will be given under the direction of Sig. D'anna. The proceeds of the concert are to be used to enable the Society to attend the Musi-cal Convention, which meets in Peters-burg, Va., next May, and take part in said Convention, under the direction of Sig. The Duplin Phosphates. We go from good to better. Mr. Phillips suggested that the commer cial value of the of the rough county rock at Wilmington would be about $6.4" a ton, and he hoped for better results from othe rock to be discovered. And, now after a careful experi ment made by Dr. Dabney, it is found that other specimens of this rock vield still more valuable results. Crushed and treated with sulphuric acid, it is a good fertilizer worth $20.20 per ton or say a cent a pound. This is certainly a great boon and blessing to the people of that section. They have in their midst a cheap fertilizer heretofore unsuspected and millions to them and to the State. Now, then, let capitalists step in and utilize this product of by-gone ages, which nature has so lavishly bestowed upon our eastern section. A factory ought to be started at some convenient point at once-and the good work should begin. There is no estimating the beneficial results that may reasonbly be expected from this develop-whose competency and care are so well known and recognized that no words of ours can add to the value of his analysis. We quote: "Analysis of the acid phosphate made from phosphate rock of Mr. Levi Moore, of Duplin, which conained 44 per cent. of phosphate of

"Rock ground until it goes through seive with a mesh 40 to the inch, and treated in the laboratory with a sulphuric acid of specific gravity 1.5 in the proportions, 64 ounces (weighed) acid to 1 pound rock. After sanding a week in the working room the product was light, porous and quite dry, so that it crushes between the ingers to a fine powder The analysis give: Soluble phosphoric soid 11.18 per cent. no reverted, insoluble 2.83; water, uncombined, 5.27 per cent. At the present figures such an article would receive a commercial value of $20.20 per ton of $2,000 lbs.
