PRESIDENTIAL TALK.

The President makers are beginning to be semewhat active and numerous names are being given to the public, the supporters of each dilating upon the strong points of their respective candidates. It is still some months before either of the conventions meet, and while all this talk in advance may be indicative or not of the strength of the gentlemen advocated it decides nothing, for the action of conventions is among the most uncertain things of this day and generation. Apparently the strongest man, whose name goes in with a loud uproar, is not infrequent ly laid out flat when the contest comes and the dark horse that no one seemed to think of comes on in the last hour to carry off the prize. The very strength of candidates often beats them.

Ever since the war the object of both parties has been not so much to | illegal. The Democrats had taken seek the best and the ablest man, but the man who could carry the most votes, carry the States which were classed among the doubtful and whose their shoulders. Every challenge gave electoral vote decides the contest. I rise to much abuse on the part of the Availability is the essential now to a Democrats. A line of wagons loaded nomination, and to this everything else is subordinated. This is being yelling drove up, bearing a banner else is subordinated. repeated now, and the question is not Democratic nominees, "the white asked, are the particular candidates mentioned good men, able men, patriotic men, but can they carry this or that doubtful State. It will be a good thing for this country when the presidency ceases to hinge upon the result in one or two States, for the great issues are lost sight of in the saulted on election day. On one oc effort to win the favor of the one or two States in question, and principles and sound policy are often ignored in the hunt for the men that these States will support. It is conceded as the parties now stand that the one that succeeds must carry the State of New York. When a full vote of the State of New York is cast and there is no division in the Democratic ranks of the cities of New York and Brooklyn, New York goes Democratic, so that in a close election where New York is the pivotal State, the result depends upon the cities of New York and Brooklyn which practically decide the question of the presidency. New York has controlled the Democratic because of the unwillingness of the nominations since the war, and if she did not insist upon a candidate from that State, dictated who that candi- prive the negroes of their votes. date should be. And it will be thus while New York with her large electoral vote remains a battle ground,

When the day comes that mere availability will not be so much considered, there will be more honest enthusiasm for candidates than there has been for years past.

Arrangements have been made for a meeting of the Southern Immigration association at Nashville, Tenn on the 11th, 12th and 13th of this month. It will be attended by some of the most prominent citizens North and South, who take an interest in the matter of Southern immigration.

Bayard on one side, and Blaine on the other, would make things lively and interesting in the coming presidential campaign.

Mr. Sherman Trots Out Another Well Drilled Performer --- Several Other Readjuster Witnesses on the Stand. WASHINGTON, March 5.-In the Danville investigation to-day J. C. Fowler, white, late of Bristol, Va., chairman of his county Readjuster committee, now clerk of the United called. He identified a circular which was current in his neighborhood previous to the election. It was an "Extra" of the Wytheville, Va., Enterprise, of Monday, Nov. 5th, 1883, the day before the election. The The headlines were as follows: bloody negro riot in Danville. immense mass meeting in Richmond held Sunday evening. Mahone res ponsible for the bloodshed. White The Senate confirmed several nominations yesmen of Virginia urged to be true to their own race in the race conflict which Mahone has brought about.' The body of the circular was a dispatch from Richmond embodying a series of resolutions adopted at "an enormous mass meeting of white citizens." setting forth that the conflict had been brought on at Danville for the purpose of creating a race issue. A telegram from Danville was appended to the circular as follows: "If you only knew our suffering here on account of negro rule you would vote different. We are standing in our doors with guns protecting our families. Post this up at the court house door." Signed P. N. Robertson. The witness said this was an effort on the part of the Democratic party to reduce the issue to the question, "are you negroes or are you white men." The witness had never seen such intensity of feeling since the firing on Fort Sumter as was created by the circulars and reports put out by the Democrats.

Vance protested against the admis sion of evidence of this character, the circulation of fly circulars and political reports. "Where," he asked, "is the end?" We are certainly en itled to reply and can go all over lirginia to pick up such matters." Sherman said his theory was first to prove a riot and then bring out such matters as had a bearing upon the subject of depriving a negro of his right to vote. The witness continuing said in answer to questions asked by Lapham, that the effect of the circulars and reports was to consolidate the negroes in support of the Readjusters. He was stationed at the polls during the day of election, and considered his life in danger. It was his duty to challenge votes which he considered possession of the windows through which the challenging must be done. The witness was forced to stand behind Democrats and challenge over with white Democrats shricking and made by Democrats, in which asser tions were made that Mahone had appealed to the negroes to stand together and avenge the shooting of their fellows, and that Mahone had stolen the polling books of one precinct. The witness was publicly insulted, and two or three times as-officials, who did their duty but had great difficulty in doing it. On cross examination by Senator Vance, the witness said that the Readjuster circulars were current in his neighborhood before the election. One was explanatory of Coalition rule in Danville, and was even denounciatory. The negroes were more generally a unit than the whites. There was no harm in an effort to con solidate the whites if only legitimate means were used. If the negroes were bonded together against the whites because, per se, they were whites, there would be no objection to a union of the whites against the negroes because they were negroes. As a matter of fact the negroes were banded together. whites to allow the negroes to vote. The poll tax law and the whipping post were measures calculated to de-

In a redirect examination Senator Lapham submitted for examination a copy of a Staunton, Va., Vindicater Extra, issued the day before the and that vote is necessary to party election, containing a statement of the riot, together with the Richmond resolutions.

W. S. Gravely, white, a Readjust-er of Martinsville, Henry county, 42 miles from Danville, was called. He saw the Danville circular on Coalition ten days before the election. The effect of the circular was shown by the remarks of white men, who before that time had been Readjusters. They said the debt question had been settled, and the party was now occurrenne. It was the only subject of conversation on election day. W. O. Austin, a white Republican of Pulaski county, Va., 170 miles from Danville, first saw the Danville circular the Wednesday evening before the election in Carroll county, Va. He learned when he reached home that large packages of the circulars had been received in Pulaski county and were being distributed there. The effect was to drive a considerable number of white voters from the Coalition to the Democratic It also caused a number of Coalition voters to stay at home. In the witness' own precinct thirteen voters had been other party by this circular. The witness heard of the Danyille riot on Sunday morning, November 4th. Reports of the riot had the effect to drive ocratic party. E. W. Barksdale, white, a deputy marshal of Martinsville, Henry county, Va , 40 miles from Danville, was called. He had lived in Danville off and on for ten years. The last canvass was the most exciting and violent he ever saw. The witness was in Danville about the 1st of October, and was told by a Democratic acquaintance, a Mr. Church, that it was time to change his politics, there was going to be the biggest row in the world, and it was going to start right arters, the "custom house. Col. Wm. E. Sims, the next witness on the stand, does not hear perfectly, and for these reasons it was determined not to examine him orrally. Interrogations will be proposed to be answered by the witness at 11 o'clock to-morrow, to withess to be examined until the House acts upon the resolution mak-

YELLOW STONE PARK AND OTH-ER MATTERS IN THE SENATE. The House Disposes of Other Questions

Naval Appropriation Bill.

and Turns Its Attention Again to the WASHINGTON, March 5 .- SENATE .-The chair laid before the Senate a bill States Court at Abington, Va., was extending the limits of Yellow Stone Park, and after debate, which was participated in by Vest, Ingalls, Dawes, McMillan and Harrison, the bill was passed. It fixes the boundaries of the Park by lines which, as Vest explained, add some 2,000 square miles to 3,300 square miles of the Park as heretofore established by law. The bill places the Park under general jurisdiction of the Territory of Montana so far as not inconsistent with the provisions of the bill. It provides for the protection of game, the care of the Park, its survey, building roads and bridges, leasing sites for houses of entertainment, &c.

The Senate then with but slight debate, passed the bill authorizing the Postmaster General to lease buildings for the postoffices of first, second and third classes at reasonable rates for terms not to exceed ten years.

The Senate then took up as unfinished business the bill reported from the committee on Foreign Relations, providing for the exercise of juris-diction conferred upon the United States in places outside of their dominion.

While this bill was under discussion, Pendleton speaking at the time, Sherman asked and obtained unanimous consent to have read a message which had just been received from the House announcing the agreement of the House to the Senate joint resolution appropriating $10,000 for the Senate contingent fund. On the reading of the message it was found that concurrence of the House had been given, coupled with a proviso that the money should be used for no investigation other than such as had already been ordered. Butler and others on hearing this condition at once objected to the present consideration of the subject and it went over. Butler said that the condition was one which the House had no right to The interrupted debate was resumed and consumed the remainder of the session until an executive | East Tennessee | Fort Wayne .... session was ordered. Adjourned.

House.-On motion of Blanchard. of Louisiana, a bill was passed making an appropriation of $8,100 to supply the deficiency in the amount required for expenditures to June 20th, 1884, for examinations and surveys required by the act of March 3rd, 1875. and June 19th, 1878, to ascertain the depth of the water and the width of the channel at the south pass of the Mississippi river, and to gauge the waters of the Mississippi river and its tributaries.

Speeches were ed back the Senate joint resolution for an additional $10,000 to the con tingent fund of the Senate, with an amendment providing that the sum should only be available for the expenses of investigations heretofore ordered. The amendment was adopted and the joint resolution passed. Ellis, of Louisiana, from the same committee, reported adversely bills casion he was rescued by Democratic for the relief of sufferers by the overflow in the lower Mississippi Valley and by the cyclone in North Carolina. and they were laid upon the table; also, favorably, a resolution request ing the Secretary of War to furnish the House from time to time with information of the progress of the floods in the Valley of the Mississippi and report at any time in his judgment if there exists such suffering as to justify measures of relief on the part of Congress. Adopted. Robinson, of New York, from the committee on Elections, reported a resolution unseating T. Luna as a delegate from New Mexico and seating in his place F. A. Manzanares. Adopted. Manzanares then appeared Manzan tres then appeared at the bar of the House and took the

The committee on Public Lands reported a bill to repeal Section 22 of the act, incorporating the Texas Pacific Railroad Company and to de-clare a forfeiture of the land grant therein made. The land grant forfeited by this bill is that to the New Orleans, Baton Rouge & Vicksburg Railroad Company. Placed on the House calendar. The House then went into committee of the whole, on the Naval appropriation bill, the pending amend-ment being that offered by McMillen, of Tennessee, reducing the number of captains to 30 and the number of commanders to 50 and providing that no more promotions shall be made to those grades until the number is reduced below the numbes mentioned.

The amendment was lost. Calkins moved to strike out the provision prohibiting promotion in various grades in the line and staff of the Navy until such grades shall be reduced to the number fixed by the Naval act of 1882, and the amendment adopted yesterday reducing the staff corps. Agreed to-88 to 65.

No other amendments were adopted. The committee rose, and without completing the consideration of the bill, adjourned.
