THE WHISKEY RING. The discussions that have been continued day after day for the past week in Congress on the bonded whiskey extension bill have demonstrated the fact that the ring is no small sized concern, and that it has a powerful backing in Congress. It is to be taken for granted that a body stake as they have would not be backward in pushing their case, nor scrupulous as to the means to be used to accomplish their purpose. What particular claim they have that favors should be extended to them which would be denied to other industries is not shown, the sole ground for the proposed three years indulgence b ing that a forced collection of the tax due would involve great loss to the holders of whiskey in bond, and would bankrupt some of them. This is all bosh. The holders of this whiskey are capitalists who have purchased from the distilleries and hold the whiskey for speculative purposes. They will not be compelled to throw the whiskey upon the market, as their advocates allege, if required to pay the tax when due, Latest Style SILK HATS, SILK, MOHAIR and for they can go into the market and but not so largely as it would have borrow money on the same security been had the weather been more GINGHAM UMBRELLAS, Gents' hand-made and which they propose to give to the of interest. ARTHUR MOURNED AS DEAD By the Chinese Minister at Washington

SALEM, N. C., March 27. - On Tues-A very good story on the Chinese minister is just now floating about, day night it looked as if we were going to be visited by a cyclone, but we were let off with a slight sprinkle of hail and a good deal of thunder and lightning, the latter lasting without intermission far into the night. The mail carrier on the route between Salem and Advance, in Davie county, who arrived here Wednesday, reports that there was a heavy fall of hail extending from Fulton, in Davie county, to Friedburg, in Forsyth, six miles from Salem. Israel Lindsay, colored, of "Happy Hill," was brought into town on Tuesday by officer Sheppard, accompanied by nearly the whole female portion of that darky village as wit nesses, and taken before T. B. Douthit, Esq., to answer to a charge brought against him for exercising his pugi-listic powers on his sable better half. The evidence brought forth was all dead against Israel; he was found very guilty, and Justice Douthit in passing sentence told him that paying twenty-five dollars and costs, or giving security for the same, was all that would keep him from going to jail. Israel hunted about until he get security, and as the whole fine and costs amount to some $43, he will not use his pugilistic powers on his frail better half any more, but will devote them to shoving a wood saw in order to extricate himself from the dilemma in which he now is.

On this (Thursday) evening, Mr. Joseph Moore will deliver a temperance lecture in the M. E. church in Miss Abigail Tesh, of Forsyth county, has been placed in the Western Insane Asylum, at Morganton.

A gentleman hunting the Salem depot, Monday, asked an old colored man whom he met where he could find it. The old darky told him to keep up one street, turn a corner, and when he came to the biggest mud hole he ever saw in his life, he would find the depot situated in the middle of it. And the old darkey's directions are about as explicit as any that can be given at this time. The members of the Baptist church and His Suite. Wash, Cor. Baltimore Sun

and as it is rather mirth-provoking, give it for what it is worth: Mr. Tsao Ju, the minister, is a most deliciously absurd old person and looks like a codfish. He knows about seven words of English, but has a spry young secretary who knows the whole English language, including the cuss words. One day not long since Mr. Ju, stepping out of his front door, saw a printed yellow slip which had been left by the gas man lying in the vestibule. Now, yellow paper in China signifies the death of a very distinguished person, so Mr. Tsao, in much agitation, sent for the interpreter. The interpreter had gone off to the Theatre Comique, and so the legation was left to wrestle with the gas bill alone. The whole suite was summoned, and was concluded that the president was defunct and this was the official notice. Mr.

and this was the official notice. Mr. Tsoa immediately retired to the drawing room with his suite, had every window shut up, and placing the gas bill upon an effigy of Confucius, he and his suite proceeded to hold a Chinese wake. They howled separately. The rus, and they howled separately. The minister howled for an hour in the blue petticoat he usually wears, and then changed it to a yellow petticoat and howled more vociferously than ever, while he beat his breast and tore at his queue. An African lady employed about the kitchen peeped through the door after hearing the hullabaloo, and seeing the gas bill and knowing the methods of the Washington Gas Company, retired, thinking it nothing remarkable that people should howl over the gas bills of the Washington Gas Company. A policeman, accompanied by a section of American youth, pounded at the back gate and demanded to know who was being murdered by Mr. Tsao Ju. The African lady explained that, "Tisn't nuffin but the gas bill, an' dat's 'nuff to make folks hol-The policeman, seeing the reasonableness of this, departed. After five hours of bawling, interspersed with tea, fire crackers and Chinese hymns, the interpreter returned and it was found instead of the Pres ident being dead the gas company merely demanded about $25 for burning $7 worth of gas.

The University Confederate Dead. RALEIGH, N. C., March 25, 1884. For four or five months past have been endeavoring at the request of the committee in charge of the building of the new hall or chapel, to perfect a roll of the University dea 1, who died in the Confederate service,

By printed circulars, by letters accompanied by lists of students from the locality, to the several counties in the State and by personal interrogatories, I have persisted in the work until now, when I think it is very nearly complete as to North Carolina students. As to those from other States I regret to say it is lamentably incomplete. The roll is intended not to be confined to graduates only, but to include all who were at any time students of the University, and so far as can now be seen will contain quite 200 names, and more than that number, it all be reported that ought to be upon it. The tablets, of purest white mar-ble, four in number, about ten feet in height and of suitable width, will be given very prominent places in the hall and be visible from every part of it. The names, one name on a line, with rank in service, will be placed upon the tablets according to the dates of entrance into the University, those of each year being placed alphabetically. In rank, the names run through all grades from private to lieutenant-general, and in date from 1821 to 1864.

Of course it is very desirable that the roll shall be absolutely accurate f possible, and my purpose in writing this note is to ask, as a means of completing and verifying the work, that lists of University dead may be sent me from this and other States by all persons having the information necessary to prepare them, and that the press will kindly give publicity to this request.

In conclusion, I beg leave to say that the information sought, to be available for the purpose intended, must be had at early day, as the work on the hall will be resumed and rapidly pushed as soon as the weather will permit, in order to its completion in time for the ensuing commencement. Very Respectfully, W. L. SAUNDERS.

Moral Reform in the Nation.

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.-The Na tional Reform Association continued its session to day Rev. Dr. Barr, chairman of the committee on resolutions, offered the following, which were adopted: Resolved, That the civil government is an ordinance of God, and as such is responsible to Him. Resolved. That in the Divine administration in this dispensation, all power in Heaven and earth being given to the Lord Jesus Christ, He is therefore the rightful ruler of nations, and they are bound to acknowledge Him as such. Resolved, That His will, revealed in the Bible, is the law of nations as well as of the individuals composing them, and this law must guide nations in all their acts and direct and control their moral character. Resolved. That nations must suitably acknowledge Him as their Governor and be subject to His will revealed to them as nations. Refusing or failing to do this provokes His righteous displeasure, and sooner or later they must perish by His right eous judgments. Resolved, That it is well that this acknowledgment be made in the acts or legislation of nations; but in order that it may be put beyond the caprice of an individual will or the changeaole enactment of national or State legislation, it should be made in the fundamental law or national consti-
