NOT COMFORTING. Some of the witnesses who have recently testified in the Danville investigation have not offered much solid comfort to the Shermanites. Notably among these were General Wickham, who was on the stand a few days ago, and ex-Congressman Dezanoff, who described the peculiar methods of Mahone and the Coalitionists in his testimony Monday. Both of these gentlemen, being Republicans, were familiar with the situation and spoke from their own knowledge, and doubtless John Sherman wished them in the North Pole or somewhere else before they got through. While neither he nor Senator Lapham have been actuated by any particular sense of delicacy in the questions they asked, when Senator Vance was bringing Dezanoff to the point of telling how Federal patronage had been prostituted to aid Mahone to gain ascendancy in the State, they thought it was an indelicat question to thus bring into the investigation a coordinate branch of the government, and Senator Vance, rather than worry them too badly, good naturedly yielded the point and did not press the question. Mr. Sherman would doubtless close the investigation now, as it has proved a fizzle as a bloody shirt booster from the beginning, and now that the other side is having its say, he finds nothing cheerful in it.

WED WATSON. Notwithstanding the manner in which the Congressional caucus sat down on Mr. Watson, he is still through his paper playing the role of excommunicator, and insists on Democrats who refuse to accept his views upon the tariff question going over to the Republicans. Personally he admires Mr. Randall concerning whom he writes in the following style: "Mr. Randall is entirely stainless, unpurchasable, a man who cannot be bought with money, nor killed by mortal. But his seat in Congress depends upon his giving free trade, as the protectionists call it. On all other questions he is a Democrat. On this, to all intents and purposes, he is a Republican. Hence, ambition, not lucre, being his bribe, he votes with the Republicans whenever the tariff is up. So with his followers, "And then he asks: "Why should we care for him? He is required to take his place and his chance along with his political associates? Mr. Watson asks why he should be denounced for a king? Randall to withdraw from the Democratic party and go to the Republicans. Mr. Watson has no right to make any demand of the kind, he has no right to assume such imperious airs, play the role of a self-constituted dictator, and sit in judgment and condemn to political banishment, so to speak, a man who is in every sense of the word a better Democrat than he is, whose Democracy, through a public service of more than a quarter of a century, was never questioned till the gentleman from Kentucky, who was unknown to the public when Mr. Randall was a trusted and recognized leader, saw fit to question it and lay down a new test of Democracy. As Mr. Watson is the editor of a newspaper, he can continue from day to day his efforts to ostracize Mr. Randall and those who agree with him, but they won't be ostracized at Mr. Watson's dictation, and we may as well incidentally remark here that if they were it would be a right chilly day for the Democratic party, which is already struggling under such heavy weights as Mr. Watson's son. The trouble is with him that he nurses the idea that he is bigger than the Democratic party, and that it is living to-day under his shadow. He has voluntarily taken entirely too much upon himself in assuming to lead when there are an indefinite number of men possessed of incomparably more ability to do the leading. While he is a very clever editor, he lacks the qualities that make a leader, and appears ridiculous when he struts as dictator.

THE NEW YORK WORLD recently made a record of the desperate deeds of youngsters in that city and vicinity within a week. The list of offenders includes "six highwaymen, seventy-one burglars, fifteen thieves, two murderers, one would be murderer, one bigamist (seventeen years old), and one forger, all under eighteen years of age and averaging about thirteen." Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, was interviewed in Chicago a few days ago, and expressed the opinion that the National Democratic Convention, when it meets in July, will adopt the platform of St. Louis and Cincinnati, "with some explanations to prevent misconception." He believes the tariff ought to be the issue in the campaign. The Cincinnati people haven't entirely gotten over the unpleasantness of the late mob. A meeting of socialists a few nights ago passed resolutions demanding the disbanding of the militia as a menace to popular liberty. A Colorado paper tells a story of a Massachusetts man who painted himself, about 1850 and since then has been playing the role of a Puto chief. He has finally concluded to wash the paint off and return to civilization again. Savannah News: The march of genius was never more conspicuous than at this time. A North Carolina inventor has just completed a left-eyed shotgun for the use of one-eyed men. Carl Schurz could make his everlasting fortune now if he would travel around and show himself as the man who refused to let his friends make him a present of $100,000. Gen. Gordon is locked up in Kahrteum, and hasn't been heard from for two weeks. From present indications El Mahdi seems to have him on the hip. Delaware wife beaters seem to be an incorrigible order of beasts, for even the whipping post fails to reform them.

THE CHRISTIAN UNION figures it out that the liquor consumed in this country annually costs more than the bread and meat combined. Over one hundred murders were committed last year in Chicago, and not one of the murderers has been hanged. A Ship Building Enterprise in the South. A new enterprise just organized in the South by New Englanders is the Virginia Iron Shipbuilding Company, which, with a capital of million dollars, will build iron and steel ships at Alexandria. The company is composed of wealthy and energetic business men from Boston and Maine, among whom are Capt. J. B. Thomas, of Boston, Capt. Goss, of Bath, Me., Mr. C. E. Moody, of Boston, and other men of like character and prominence. They have purchased a large area of property having a frontage of a thousand feet on the Potomac, with a depth of thirty feet at the shore. Here they will obtain by comparatively moderate investment of money the finest iron shipyard in the United States. These capitalists have carefully considered this matter and acted advisedly in selecting Alexandria as the place to establish this great enterprise. They believe it to be the most favorable point to which to bring iron and coal to the tide water for shipbuilding purposes. They expect to bring their entire force of working men from elsewhere, as there was no available skilled mechanics such as they desire in Alexandria. Two prominent Boston gentlemen will sail for Scotland to secure a force of workingmen from the Clyde establishments, where ship building is now very dull. The main advantage possessed by the locality selected for the work is that the work will be begun on a 2,000-ton iron vessel during the present season.

DICTA OF SUPREME COURT DECISIONS. Raleigh News and Observer. Roulhac vs. Miller. 1. A judgment by default final for want of an answer in a suit upon a bail bond cannot be sustained if it should have been interlocutory and the damages required by the jury. 2. That the measure of damages for a breach of contract in the work will be begun on a 2,000-ton iron vessel during the present season. A Fair Offer. The Voltaic Belt Co., Marshall, Mich., offer to send Dr. Dye's Voltaic Belt and Appliances on trial for thirty days, to men, young or old, afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality, and kindred troubles. See advertisement in this paper. "Rough on Coughs." Knefel's cough or cold medicine. For children and adults. Treason, etc. Beware of imitations.

Contract Let. Raleigh News and Observer. We understand that the contract for building the proposed railroad from Hamlet to Cheraw has been let, and that the survey has been completed beyond that point. While this gives an assurance of the work being pressed there, it is understood that the line from Richmond to Ridgeway is being built with dispatch. And so we expect that sooner or later these connections will be made and Raleigh will be on a through line connecting the South with Washington by rail. This result will be very important for our State, leading to give additional importance to the capital of the State, and we hope largely promoting our trade and prosperity. Once on a great through line and range of our location as a pleasant resort will become apparent to those who may seek a healthful and mild climate at the South in the early fall and late spring. We will indeed be greatly disappointed if many benefits do not accrue to us from being on a great short through line.

Practice and the Post. This is a story of Geo. D. Prentice which I never saw in print, and which is a better illustration of his ready wit than anything else I could think of. The old journal office used to be the stamping ground of many Southern men, more or less known, who liked to hear the veteran journalist tell a story or warren on a presumptuous young man for lunch. Among those who frequented the Journal office was Will S. Hayes, the son writer. Coming into Mr. Prentice's office one day in the free and easy way of his, he sat down in one chair, with his feet on another, and jamming his hat on the back of his head, said, without consulting Mr. Prentice's leisure, "See my last song, George!" Mr. Prentice ceased writing, sighed heavily, and looking up sadly and reproachfully at the young man, said: "I hope so, Billy."

A Mormon Engagement. Philadelphia Call. "My dear," said a Mormon wife to her husband, "I should think that you would be ashamed of yourself flirting with Miss B. as you did in church to-day." "Flirting with her?" he replied in astonishment, "why, we have been engaged for more than three months. It all over town." "Oh, I beg your pardon," said his wife, indifferently. "If you are engaged to her I suppose it is all right. When does the happy event occur?" "Lithograph Works Gained. St. Louis, April 7.—Gardner's lithographic works, with valuable machinery and many partially executed orders, were burned last night. Loss, $150,000.
