THE SOUTHERN PRESS CONVEN-TION.

The annual meeting of the Southern Press Association which assembled in Atlanta, Ga., last Wednesday was, in many respects, the most important ever held in the history of that body: The Association is composed of forty-nine (49) of the leading newspapers of the South which subscribe to the Associated Press dis-

The business of this meeting will he far reaching in its results. It puts the Southern Press for the first time on its feet in regard to its telegraphic service. A canvass of the matter by a committee discloses the fact that the Southern newspapers are now paying news paraished by the Associated Press, and a knowledge of this fact went far towards putting the South ern newspapers on a different footing in its relation to the Associated Press, from what it has ever enjoyed before. Indeed, this very fact enabled the Convention to treat with the representatives of the Associated Press from a somewhat independent standpoint. Gen. Wm. Henry Smith, the agent of the Associated Press. and Mr. J. W. Summerville, the agent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, were present and both these dramizations, so to speak, were brought before the bar of criticism. A good deal of reform was promised, which we have no doubt will be carried out in good faith. The management of the Associated Press, which onjoys a franchise involving an income approximating a hundred thousand dollars per annum, now ap-

some other association, and as a pledge of its guarantee of good faith. it gives the newspapers the valuable franchise of ownership in the dispatches in the respective communities in which they are published. This is a right, fair and just. It

It takes both talent and capital, to It takes both talent and capital to which must be added pluck, energy and experience. A majority of the men who assembled in Convention at

CONGRESS YESTERDAY.

THE NAVAL BILL OCCUPIES THE SENATE.

The House Excited and in a Tumult all About the Public Buildings Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 10.-SENATE.-Cameron, of Wisconsin, moved that when the Senate adjourn to day, it be to Saturday next, to-morrow being Good Friday. On the suggestion of several Senators Cameron modified his motion so as to make it Monday a reconciliation with his divorced instead of Saturday. The motion was agreed to.

Hill introduced a bill to declare for feited lands granted to the New Or-leans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg Railroad Company. He requested that the bill lie on the table for a few days as he wished to make some remarks upon it before referring it to the committee.

A bill to authorize the Secretary of War to examine a claim of South Carolina for rent alleged to be due for rent for Charleston citidel was read the third time and passed.

A bill to authorize the same officer to adjust and settle accounts for arms between the State of South Carolina and the government of the United States was, after a slight debate, laid over until Monday.

The naval appropriation bill was again taken up and several of minor amendments of the committee were agreed to without debate. On reaching the amendment clause appropriating $400,000 to complete the ordnance outfit of their new cruisers and one dispatch boat, Beck moved to amend the amendment by making the amount $500,000. Beck's amendment and the committee's amendment were agreed to. On reaching the amendment of the committee that provides for the construction of new steel cruisers, the bill for the construction of which the Senate had passed some weeks ago, a debate began which consumed the remainder of the day's session and this amendment was pending without change of any kind, when the Senate went into executive session. Adjourned till Monday. House. - The House met at 11 o'clock in continuation of Wednesday's see

Eaton, of Connecticut, from the committee on Laws, relating to the election of President and Vice-President, reported back the Senate bill on that subject with an amendment in the nature of a substitute, and it was referred to the House calendar.

Ellis, of Louisiana, introduced a joint resolution directing the Postmaster General to investigate and apply the most effective means for the protection of the mails on postal cars from destruction by fire. Re-Mills, of Texas, from the committee on Ways and Means, reported a bill amending the statutes in reference to immediate transportation of dutiable goods. Placed on the House calendar. On motion of Talbott, of Maryland, the Senate bill was passed further to suspend the operation of Section 5.574. Revised Statute, in relation to the Guano Islands. Then the contest over public buildings measures was resumed Stockslager, of Indiana, again led the friends of public buildings bills, the Whole for consideration of these Owing to the early hour of meeting there was no quorum in the House, and that point was raised by Warner, of Ohio, whereupon Belford emphatically demanded a call of the House, and served notice upon Warner, that as the fight had begun it would be continued. During the progress of the rell call, which Belford declared would show whether there was a quorum of courageous men or cowards present, many members came in, and at its conclusion there were 222 Represen tatives answering to their names, and further proceedings under the call were dispensed with.

At a few minutes before 12 o'clock Warner moved to adjourn; but this being voted down the Legislative day of Wednesday was continued.

After a skirmish of a quarter of an hour, the motion of Stockslager was agreed to, and at 12:15 the House went into committee of the Whole.

Wellborn, of Texas, in the chair. As indicated, the first bill appropriating $50,000 for the erection of a public building at Greenville, S. C., was not opposed with the bitterness which has characterized the op-position to the other bills. After half an hour the bill was laid aside with a favorable recommendation.

The next bill was one appropriating 100,000 for a building at New Albany, Ind., and the opposition again became aggressive.

Thompson, of Kentucky, said the resolution under which the committee was acting, making public build ing bills a continuous order, was a scheme for public plunder. The bills could not be put through except by putting all the pork in one pot. Nearly every member speaking in the debate was attacked by some other member upon his record upon former occasions, and the sparring was not always good natured.

During a colloquy between Thompson, of Kentucky, and Hatch, of Missouri, the floor was a scene of great confusion, and it was with the utmost exertions that the Speakers could make their voices heard above

This was increased by shouts of laughter, when Aiken, of South Carolina, innocently suggested that this was an Indiana bill, and sarcastically inquired whether Holman could not find some objection to it. Holman's smiling reply that this was an unusually meritorious measure only served to redouble the meritorial and salled down was a birman's and called down was a large to the called down was a large to the called down was a large to the called the c ment, and called down upon him a lecture from Morey, of Wisconsin, who twitted the Cerberus of the freasury upon his sudden access of

The bill was finally laid aside for a favorable report. The bill for a public building at Uhattanooga, the cost not to exceed $100,000, was opposed by McCormes. of Maryland, and advocated by Dibrell and Young, of Tennessee, and was laid aside for a favorable report.

Throughout the day there was a great deal of noise upon the floor despite the numerous remonstrances of the Chairman accompanied by some vigorous rapping of the gave. Much time was expended in discussing points of order which were finally decided by the chair in such a clear manner as to call forth a public commanner as to can forth a public compliment from Wilson, of Iowa.

The members of the committee were in the best of humors and although the opposition at times made use of pretty severe language, there was no had blood exhibited until the bill for the erection of a building at Augusta, Maine, at an ultimate cost of $150,000 was reached, when Milliken, of Maine, and Storm, of Rennsylvania, indulged in a rather heated collogie, which continued until the debate closed by limitation. The bill was acted upon favorably, and then the committee rose, and the bills were reported to the House, which, without further action, adA Cure of Pneumonia.
