LOST ITS VITALITY. The so-called Liberal "mass meeting" at Raleigh, sitting under the shadow of the Republican convention...

Jim Keene, who went under on Wall street, began his speculating career on the Pacific, which he left several years ago with about $3,000...

Five large religious assemblies will meet in Baltimore during the current month of May, and several of them will be in session at the same time.

The illustrious P. H. Winston, who didn't want to be Governor but does want to go to Congress, appeared in the late convention as "the friend of Gen. Grant."

Digest of Supreme Court Decisions. From the Raleigh News & Observer. Penniman vs. Daniel.

1. An affidavit for an attachment stating that the defendant is a non-resident, owning property in this, or has removed, or about to remove some of his property from this State with intent to defraud creditors, is sufficient.

2. Where the motion is made before the clerk prior to the sitting of the court to which the summons is made returnable, a further order of publication may be obtained upon affidavit to the court, without discharging the attachment.

Young vs. Barden. A suit against a corporation (here a town) must be brought in its corporate name, and not against its officers or agents.

Medley vs. Dunlap. Personal property in this State belonging to a deceased citizen of another State, is distributed and disposed of according to the laws of the latter State; hence a widow of such person is not entitled to have year's allowance set apart here, though she became a citizen of this State since the death of her husband.

McMillan vs. commissioners. The statute does not provide for an appeal from the refusal of the commissioners to allow credits claimed by a sheriff in a settlement with the county. His remedy to test the validity of his claim is by a civil action.

Council vs. Everett. A summary judgment may be awarded against the sureties to an undertaking in a proceeding of claim and delivery.

3. Where the parties compromise the matter by agreeing upon a judgment for the value, dispensing with the judgment for restitution, the plaintiff consenting to pay a certain sum and costs, such judgment is binding on the sureties to the plaintiff's undertaking.

State vs. Edwards. An indictment charging a misdemeanor as a felony does not raise the grade of the offense; calling it a felony does not make it one.

Carroll vs. McCormac. In action upon a promissory note, it is not necessary for the plaintiff to allege and prove a consideration. The note imports prima facie a consideration. But the defendant introduces evidence to rebut this presumption, then the burden is thrown on the plaintiff to satisfy the jury by a preponderance of evidence that there was a consideration.

1. Where a pleading is verified, every subsequent pleading except a demurrer must be verified also; hence, if the plaintiff verify his complaint, and the defendant fail to verify his

The manufacturers of Atlanta, Ga., are arranging to make a grand exhibit at the New Orleans Exposition.

"Anything to beat the Democrats" is the song that the Republican managers and their auxiliaries of this State now sing.

We don't like York a d—n bit, say the "fire-tried" straightouts, but they swallow him, because its our only hope to beat the Democrats.

One of the straightout Repubs. in the late convention at Raleigh said that when York was elected he was a Liberal, but after that became a faithful Republican.

Notwithstanding the opposition to the nomination of York, the bosses in the convention succeeded in whipping in the anti-Yorkers, and they all finally yelled for York.

A resolution in the late Republican convention to instruct the delegation to the National convention to cast the vote of this State for Grant and Lincoln was received with outbursts of applause, but was finally tabled by the Arthur men.

The Republican convention at Raleigh was bad enough the first day, but the second it was a perfect pandemonium. Bad temper and bad whiskey seemed to get away with it, and gave Logan Harris, who presided as chairman, about all he could attend to.

Jim Keene, who went under on Wall street, began his speculating career on the Pacific, which he left several years ago with about $3,000 to take a hand with the Wall street boys.

Huntly vs. Mathias. In a suit for damages against the principal for the tort of an agent, the plaintiff alleged and testified that he hired a horse to the agent who was traveling about the country with steam engines in the interest of the principal and that by misuse and overdriving the horse was injured.

The defendant admitted the agency, but asked the court to instruct the jury that there was no evidence that the agent had authority from the principal to hire horses, which was refused; He is no error. Such an agency includes the incidental powers necessary to carry out its purpose, and the evidence tended to show that the agent hired the horse in the course of his business for the benefit of his principal.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate. As a Appetizer. Dr. Morris Gibbs, Howard City, Mich., says: "I am greatly pleased with it as a tonic; it is an agreeable and a good appetizer."
