THE ATTACK.

to respondence of the Baleigh Evening Visitor. WILNINGTON, April 17.

o an Vision R. This seems to be a day of pretena handag and unfertunately the hum of the be exertise to be for the direction of the established or der of the things: things that have been approved to the test of ages. There are certain great bulwarks of religion, civilization and liberty, finding their expression in the physician, minister of the rought lawyer and school teacher, against which the tank and humbugs of the day dash their winds. Society is especially interested in having these buiwarks properly supported. We may conordehonesty to a man, and at the same time condenin his reasoning, who, because he has run upon a small island, persists in his claims to have discovered a continent.

Vesterday, an advertising par shlet was thrown into my yard. It contained a hand-bill stating that Mrs. Joe Person's medicine was extraordimaily good. I concluded to buy some ; but looking a the pumphlet I discovered a tirade of abuse of tis Raleigh physicians. The effort seems to have be a made to force the Raleigh physicians to notice the patent medicine mentioned above. They properly refused to do so, and hence their names are spread abroad in this pamphlet as deceivers, and if what this villainous pamphlet says be true, scoundrels! Who believes that Haywood, Lines, McKce, Royster, McGee, and others are such men as this pamphiet makes them? and if not, what shall be said of such attacks as peor indeed : I determined not to buy the medichas, of course ; for I saw that there must be somepubling others down? Why force a great principle as inditatined by physicians for the good of so it ty to yield to the claims of a secret remedy even if it was discovered by a woman? If it is good in its if, push it properly. Good is a unit. It is not divided against itself. There is no necessity for force itself over the levees of civilization, and that would inundate society with free doctors, lynch law, free love, sans religion, sans virtue, sans every-

MAHONE'S TREACHERY.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, Republican, asked Gen. Mahone why he had decided to drop the name of Readjuster and adopt the name of the Republican Party of Virginia at the time he did, and quotes his reply as follows:

"Because the very time to make the change had arrived,' was the an-swer. 'For the last three years we have been drifting toward the goal. When the Liberal movement first
