Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres Land. The owners of The Crowder's Mountain Iron orks beg to call the attention of capitalists iron anufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those the wish to settle colonies, to their property, which the transports consists of Six Thousand Three he property consists of Six Thousand Three ndred Acres of land, located in the counties of aston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Car lina, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta ad Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the olina, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the Richmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an incaproperty, and has been worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated yellow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic iron, and lits softness and toughness. This vein of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the depth of 147 feet, shewing at that depth a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 66 per cent. of metallic iron. This wein has not been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other veins have been worked, and within the past two years very large deposits of iron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacie of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level land, 2200 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, showing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the top of the mountain for over a mile, and this deposit alone would afford an almost inexhaustible supply of ore, easily worked, and above the water line. In addition to this four over a mile, and this deposit alone would afford an almost inexhaustible supply of ore, easily worked, and above the water line. In addition to this four other veins have been found on this mountain. The ore is a mottled gray ore, showing on analysis from 45 to 65 per cent, of metallic iron, with a small amount of ittanic acid, and without any sulphur or phosphorus. The quantity of ore in this mountain is simply inexhaustible and of good agailties.

mountain is simply inexhaustible and of good quality.

Besides Crowder's Mountain the owners possess King's Mountain, for about seven miles, whose planacie is the highest point of land from Richmond to Atlanta, except Mt. Airy, in Georgia, and they have reason to believe this mountain is full of ore also. In addition to iron ore the property has manganese, limestone clay for making fire-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

sellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportunities to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four thousand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces grass, grain and all kinds of farming products finely, and it is well supplied with water by unfailing springs and branches.

The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountain takes are productive of fine grass and herdage, and ulord excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle. The climate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a sine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, oak, wainut, cedar, etc. The land is well suited to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, peas, oats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully, and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. It could be divided into small farms that would give to each farm variety of soll, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Piedmont belt, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from mainta and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to rallroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its lines. The owners will sell this property to suit purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including minestial integers, for sixty three Thousand Dollars, by will make favorable fermis, reserving the mineral inferest, or will sell one half the mineral inferest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in the or two years.

chair interest, or will self one hair the mineral in-lerest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in-the or two years.

A valuable water power, which has been used to run large rolling mills, lies adjacent to this prop-sets, and can be bought cheaply. The property is also in close proximity to the famous All Heating litheral Springs, and to the widely known Cleve-and Springs.

Hiteral Springs, and withe widely known Cleveland Springs.

I The town of King's Mountain is also adjacent, where are good hotels, a flourishing and excellent high school, and several new and handsome churches. The owners invite the attention of all interested to this property, and ask an examination of it. Any further information regarding it will be promptly furnished by addressing R. E. Cochrane, damager Charlotte Real Estate Agency.

The Yellow Hidge Ore Bank has been recently sold to a Pittsburg, Pa., company, and a German colonization company has recently bought 2,500 scress adjoining this property.

MEASURING THE MAN. The nomination of James G. Blaine was procured at Chicago by adroit management. the free use of money, and in the uproar of excitement prearranged and brought about for that especial purpose. As the Chinese go into battle with the beating of gongs and other such infernal instruments trive, so the Blaine men went into that convention with brass bands, waving banners, the torsing of hats, and willing lungs, as a part, a conspicuous and essential part of their prearranged plan. It was perhaps the noisiest convention that ever assembled between the two oceans that bound this continent. It proved a powerful factor in achieving the result. But the noise of the convention has died out, the delegates that yelled themselves hoarse have gone to their homes, the banners have been furled, the horn blowers have put up their instruments, and the thinking, cold deliberate, discriminating thinking has begun, and the people who did not do the yelling are beginning to take the measure of the man that strategy, money and yelling nominated as the standard bearer of the Republican party, and candidafor the highest position in the gift of amining the record of his public life as he made it.

that he is now a man of princely wealth ranging up into millions. This fortune came to him not in the way of salaries carefully saved and judiciously invested, for while in public service he lived not only up to but beyond his salary, but yet he became the possessor of much money, and numerous stocks and bonds of railroads and other corporations which had favors to ask from Congress during the terms that he held a seat on the floor or presided as Speaker. This is not a charge of Democratic opponents, but a matter of record in some instances, often asserted and now reasserted by men of his own political household. During his first term in Congress he is charged with being a tool of the Pacific railroads, securing to them the financial backing of the government, which cost the people over $100,000,000 in cash. Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, afterward probed these transactions, and Blaine's connection with them was so disreputable that there was talk of moving for his expulsion from Con-

His correspondence afterwards with Mr. Fisher, of the Northern Pacific, in which he proposed to turn over to Fisher a lot of securities he held in that road for a big sum in cash is another of his sharp transactions.

His connection with the Little Rock & Fort Smith scheme, which became a matter of Congressional investiga tion, and the exposure of which he prevented by getting possession, by strategy or force, of the famous Mul ligan letters, is another. It is said, as a part of the bargain for the services he rendered, he received $32,000 first mortgage bonds and $130,000 in land grant bonds, without paying out

For his services to the Union Pacific he received $64,000 in cash and $75,000 in bonds.

When Thurman introduced his bill to investigate these railroad land grants, money subsidies and compel the roads to come up to their contract or forfeit the lands and pay the government the $100,000,000 or more in cash which they owed, Blaine was on the side of the roads and against the people and the government.

These are a few of the points that are found in the public record of a man who in all his congressional career was the mouthniece and cunningest and ablest champion of corporations that had favors to ask or jobs to run through Congress. This readily explains his rise from the condition of a poor man to that of a man of wealth, and why he is also shrewd and had less dash, he would be less dangerous as President of the United States, where with his lack of conscience and unscrupulous selfseeking propensities, he would be in position to do vastly more harm than as a ready, willing, mercenary,

> R. B. Hayes, of Ohio, who temporarily occupied the White House in Washington, says he is out of politics, and while Blaine was not his choice, still he will support him.

In the name of the Whig-Republican party of Georgia, Gen. Longstreet congratulated Blaine upon his nomination. We suppose this is the white man's Repi ican party that Long-street has be rengineering.

Cooper, of Pennsylvania, the orignal Blaine man, is red-headed. Belford, the unique Congressman from Colorado, another Blaine man, is also red-headed, but it does not follow from this that all the red-headed men are for Blaine.

The Philadelphia Press remarks that "James G. Blaine, the Republican candidate for the Presidency, needs no introduction to the country. of sound as their genius could con- No, for a fact. James G. is known, quite well known. If anything, too well known.

The Philadelphia Press asks: "Has any one seen Carl Schurz? He was last noticed in the vicinity of the Blaine boom just before the explosion occurred." When the campaign opens Carl will be on the stump making speeches at $200 a piece for Blaine.

Before the Chicago convention nobody was talked about for the nomination for the Vice Presidency, except Bob Lincoln, and at the convention nobody talked about him. This shows what a little well directed wire pulling and bargaining will do to burst a boom.

Judge Noah Swayne, late Associate Justice of the Supreme court, was a native of Culpeper county, Va., of Quaker descent, born in 1804. He removed to Ohio in 1829, where he became prominent in the profession the American people. Tne New York Herald says: "A prominent Republican politician, who is excellent authority upon the subject, said that neither Gen. Grant nor Mr. Conkling would do anything to support Blaine in the coming election. He said that General Grant wanted Logan nominated for the Presidency. and had made up his mind not to oppose Blaine, but to remain neutral. Mr. Conkling, he said, had accomplished his only desire by defeating Arthur, and would not assist Blaine by word or act. 'Both Conkling and Grant,' he said, 'regard Blaine's defeat as certain.' He said that the independent Republicans who bolted the ticket would probably support Tilden, if nominated, and if not, Flower.'

MANAGEMENT AND MONEY. In addition to fine leadership and able management the Blaine men had plenty of money at Chicago and used it freely. Blaine owes his nomination to clever management and money. The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, speaking on information gathered after the convention, says:

There probably was never before a more complete and more thorough organization in the interest of any man. The Blaine vigilance committee, of which brief mention was made in one of the earlier special dispatches from Chicago to the Sun, was really a compact legion of spies "shadowing" day by day and hour by hour every moment, public and private, of each of the delegations, and reporting two or three times a day to the chief managers at the Blaine headquarters. These spies were, with two or three exceptions, members of the respective delegations over whom they exercised surveillance, and naturally had splendid opportunities in the fact that their associates were totally unsuspicious of their character and operations. Through them particulars of every important movement or consultation of the opposition was promptly communicated and steps as promptly taken by the Blaine managers to embarrass any plan which might prove prejudicial to their in-crests. It will readily be perceived what an immedse advantage this was to the Blaine cause, and it was, of course, entirely legitimate and hon-orable, as everything is in politics. As to money that most potent lever, it is easily susceptible of proof that large sums were used not only to tickle and fascinate the senses in the pomp and display of banners, badges and music, and the constant parade of organized bodies of men through the streets and in the spacious hotel lobbies; shouting for Blaine and bearing down with irresistible physical force contrary movements, but also as actual consideration for votes deknown as the "tatooed" candidate.
Nobody doubts his shrewdness, his ability and his dash, by which he has the status and equally true.

It is quite true that Mr. Blaine had no communication with any of his lieutenants in Chicago from first to last, and equally true. profited much and the people have that he personally has not given a lost much. If he were less able, less this was only the better for him, and shows the innate shrewdness of the man; for while he cannot be charged with the responsibility for anything that was done, he knew full well that

PEPPERING BLAINE.

A Few More Comments on the Plumed Roight.

Boston T anscript, (Rep.) We only chronicle what is a patent fact to every discerning person that the Democrats can win thousands of Republican votes for their Presidential candidates in mass, provided they select their strongest man. Springfield Republican, (Ind.)

These nominations are revolution ary. They are such as the Republican party has never before presented and will carry dismay as d alar.n to thousands of men who ha regarded this as the party of safety, of integrity, of principle and of high moral ends. They portend dese ved disaster and defeat to the Republican party and a revolution in the national administration. Chicago Times, (ind.)

The Presidential candidacy of Mr. James G. Blaine is a menace of evil to the republic. Of all the citizens that were proposed to the assembly of partisan electors Monday and of all whose names have been mentioned in connection with that office, Mr. Blaine is the least fit. the least trustworthy. He is, perhaps, the most intense partisan in America. Moreover his partyism is not the partyism of a statesman who is guided by sin-cere convictions founded on broad knowledge and understanding. It is the partyism of a mere passion for loadership actuating a man of intense prejudices, of ugly temper, and of defective understanding, whose highest happiness is in playing the ringleader in a disturbance.

Boston He ald, (Ind.)

It is perhaps well, as we suggested a few days ago, when the nomination of Mr. Biaine began to seem inevita ble, that the party should ask the judgment of the pole under the leadership of a candii to who emembodies more completely than any other man the real spirit of Republicanism. Believing that Blaine would be a bad and dangerous President, we hope to see him defeated. Be lieving him to be a weak candidate, we expect to see him defeated. His zealots say he can be elected without the State of New York. They will have a chance to prove it. Perhaps they think he can be elected without the help of Massachusetts. It is not improbable that they may have a chance to test this also. If the Democrats rise to the occasion, nominate Governor Cleveland and give him an honest support in his own State, we believe they will ca y the election.
