College St., Charlotte. Orders solicited and promptly filled.

The Exposition building, as illustrated above, now in course of erection at Raleigh, covers more area than any building ever before built in North Carolina. It is 336 feet square with four open courts, each 100x100 feet. The building is really a combination of buildings, each 45 feet wide and 15 feet high, with pitch of roof 11 feet. It is well lighted and well ventilated, with windows 16 feet apart. The floors will be dressed, tongued and grooved. Four large doors are placed in the centre of each side, and two small doors open into each of the open courts. Two of the open courts will be filled with agricultural machinery and agricultural implements, while at a short distance back of the building the company have the clover fields where agricultural implements may be seen in actual use. The entire western section of the building will be filled with machinery, and the power will be fulled with saw mills, and the court of the building here shown there will be the Central Hall Grand Stand and such other engines, cotton gins, wood working machinery, &c. In addition to the building here shown there will be the Central Hall, Grand Stand, and such other buildings as may be necessary to accommodate exhibitors.

In connection with this subject, we are glad to learn from Secretary Fries that arrangements have been made by which all the machinery operated during the Exposition will be run from shafting, pulleys, hangers, &c., of North Carolina make, the Exposition authorities having accepted a proposition from Captain John Wilkes, of the Mecklenburg Iron Works, in Charlotte, to furnish all the necessary shafting, pulleys, hangers, &c. The funds of the Exposition Association being limited, an effort is being made to erect on the grounds, by private contribution, a building to be de voted exclusively to educational displays and ladies' work. The size of this building will depend upon the amount of voluntary contributions. A fair start has been made in this direction, a number of contributions having been sent in from citizens of this State and elsewhere. The idea is to erect this building from the contributions, large and small, that may be donated, and from articles which may be contributed by ladies as specimens of their handiwork to be sold and the proceeds devoted to this cause.

SALEM JOTTINGS. Cool Spell --- Another Confidence Game

SALEM, N. C., June 16 .- We had rain here every day during the past week, some of the showers being very heavy ones. There never was a better season for "setting out" tobacco plants, and the raisers of the weed have not neglected it. One old tobacco planter informed me that a larger crop will be put out this year than ever before.

Yesterday (Sunday) was an unusually chilly day for June. Early in the morning thermometers were down below 50 degrees; fires were resorted to to make one comfortable indoors, and those who had much business outdoors found winter clothing to be more comfortable than clothing adapted to the summer sea-

A man representing himself to be Dr. Geo. Jones and owning a valuable farm between Elkin and Wilkesboro. recently called on Mr. U. C. Lamb, living in Salem, and stated that he was hunting for some one to take charge of his farm and attend to it for him while he practiced medicine, His offers seemed so fair to Mr. Lamb that he told Dr. Geo. Jones that he would consider the matter and let him know in a few days. So eager was the Dr. for Lamb's services that he wanted him to pack up and go with him next day, offering to give employment to his whole family, the wages for which would amount to ninety dollars per month. Mr. Lamb told him that he could not go just then, but would let him know in a day or two.
