Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres Land. The owners of The Crowder's Mountain Iron Works beg to call the attention of capitalists from manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settle colonies, to their property, which offers inducements to the classes above named.

The property consists of Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres of land, located in the counties of Gaston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Carolina, at King's Mountain pepot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the Richmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an iron property, and has seen worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated reliow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic iron, and its softness and toughness. This vein of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the depth of 147 feet, showing at that depth a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 65 per cent. of metallic iron. This vein has not been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other veins have been worked, and within the past two years very large deposits of iron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level land. 2240 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, showing in one place about 23 feet of solid vei

Besides Crowder's Mountain the owners possess
King's Mountain, for about seven miles, whose pinnacle is the highest point of land from Richmond to Atlanta, except Mt. Airy, indeorgia, and they have reason to believe this mountain is full of ore also. In addition to iron ore the property has manganese, limestone clay for making fire-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

cellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportunities to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four thousand acres of level or only slightly rolling fand, which produces grass, grain and all kinds of farming products linely, and it is well supplied with water by unfailing springs and branches.

The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountain sides are productive of fine grass and herdage, and afford excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle. The climate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, oak, walnut, cedar, etc. The land is well suited to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, peas, oats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully, and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. It could be divided into small farms that would give to each farm variety of soil, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Piedmont belt, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from malaria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to railroad facilities, being stimated at from two to four miles from from malaria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to railroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its lines. The owners will sell this property to suff purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including mineral interests, for Sixty three Thousand Dollars, or will make favorable terms, reserving the mineral interest, or will sell one half the mineral interest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in one or two years.

A valuable water power, which has been used to run large rolling mills, lies adjacent to this property, and can be bought cheaply. The property is also in close proximity to the famous Ali Healing Mineral Springs, and to the widely-known Cleveland Springs.

Mineral Springs, and to the widely-known Cleveland Springs.

The town of King's Mountain is also adjacent, where are good hotels, a flourishing and excellent high school, and several new and handsome churches. The owners invite the attention of all interested to this property, and ask an examination of it. Any further information regarding it will be promptly furnished by addressing R. E. Cochrane, Manager Charlotte Real Estate Agency.

The Yellow Ridge Ore Bank has been recently sold to a Pittsburg, Pa., company, and a German colonization company has recently bought 2,500 acres adjoining this property.

THEIR GREAT RELIANCE. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the Blaine managers intend to make the coming campaign a red hot one, and that one of their main reliances will be the sectional issue. The organs which support the Chicago ticket have already begun upon this line, as an illustration of which we clip the following extract from an Cincinnati Commercial Gazette:

"A vote for the Democratic party in the Presidential contest that approaches will be a vote to make Northern States provinces of the Southern Confederacy. If the people of the North do not see the danger and meet the issue by the defeat of the party that is the servile instru-ment of the solid South, they deserve to be slaves, and their places will be duly assigned them as white niggers.'

This is a frantic appeal, but thousands such will be made as the campaign progresses, and they will be flanked and supplemented with manufactured accounts of Southern violence and oppression, located in some out of the way place, or some place which has no actual existence. The pen of the Republican campaign liar is prolific of outrages when they are needed to serve his cause. There has never been a Presidential campaign since the war in which this has not been done, and we may look for a repetition of the old programme. It will not prove quite as effective as it has proved in the past, for intelligent people have seen through it, but this will not prevent recourse to it for the influence it may have on the unintelligent and credulous multitude, who are still numerous enough to be an mportant factor in National politics.

Gen. Logan was nominated in pursuance of an understanding with Blaine's friends, and for the further reason that he was identified with the soldier element of the North and is intensely sectional. Pandering to this element, the convention adopted in its platform a resolution favoring a stupendous pension system, in pursuance of which Senator Ingalls introduced his amendment to the Mexican veteran pension bill, which would have added at least $250,000,000 to the pension account, and against which there were not more than half a dozen Republican votes, these, with the votes of the Democratic Senators, detenting it. Ingalls did not really want to carry his amendment, he simply wanted to put the Republican party on record as the friend of the Union soldier, and place the Democratic party in an attitude of opposition, and as the majority of Democratic Senators are from the South, make the point in the coming campaign that it was the hostility of the Southern Senators to pensioning the Union soldiers that defeated the measure. It was a political trick, and a clumsy one, but it shows the animus that inspires the men who make the Senator subordinate to the

A New York civil-engineer, speakng of the great Brooklyn bridge, says: "It is an original, true Yankee structure, not copied from anything on the face of the earth, but all on new principles, and I defy any man to take it down. They can blow it up with dynamite, but not take it down piecemeal. It is there, and will stand to eternity.

True things are sometimes said in campaign speeches. At the Blaine ratification meeting in Washington the other night Judge Shellabarger said the plumed knight "is the fittest person, all things considered, to Le the Republican nominee of any man in the party."

Mrs. Logan stood with folded arms and radiant countenance, nodding approval, while the committee to notify her husband of his nomination read their composition and he spoke his piece in reply.

open revolt in the Republican party against the ticket nominated in Chi cago, there are many Republicans who protest against the nominations while in obedience to what they regard as party feality they will support them. Among the latter are U. S. Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, whose name was on the list of Presidential candidates at Chicago, who thus writes to a dissatisfied delegate to the Chicago convention:

"It is useless to disguise the fact that a great many good men are sor-rowful over the nomination. For myself I stand squarely by the party and the ticket. I can't imagine myself bolting. I was brought up an Ishmaelite, a free soiler, devoting my soul to the destruction of the old Whig and Democratic parties. I took pleasure in feeling that every man's hand was against me and mine against every man's. I am more troubled by some evasions in the platform than by the weakness of the candidates. But one must travel with the Mississippi. The great party has a wealth of tradition, an irresistable drift. It carries the ark of the covenant of the great Republic. On the stump I shall talk of only what I beeditorial in a recent number of the lieve in and not hesitate to speak."

Gen. Hawley will shut his eyes, forgetting as far as he can his disappointment, take refuge in the 'traditions" of the past, and swallow Blaine

Commencement at Erskine College. DUE WEST, S. C., June 24, 1884.

Editor of THE OBSERVER. The commencement proper does not take place till tomorrow, 25th, but was introduced by the Baccalaureate sermon upon Sabbath, 22nd. This was preached by the Rev. J. L. Chalmers, of Winnsboro, S. C. Mr. Chalmers is a native of Mecklenburg county, N. C., but now pastor of the A. R. P. church of Winnsboro, S. C. He is a young man, but well qualified to perform the duty devolved upon him, and perhaps no better sermon is often heard than that he preached on this occasion. His text was: "And ye are complete in him." His theme was very appropriate, and handled in a masterly style. Both want of abil ity and space prevents us from at tempting to give a just report of his sermon. It was well received, and reflected honor upon the preacher. Last night (Monday) the two literary societies held their annual celebration. We did not have the privilege of attending the Euphemean, but learned that it lacked nothing in interest and profit. It was our privi lege to attend the celebration of Philomathean, and a right royal treat it was. We were pleased to see Mr. Frank I. Osborne, of your city, as the presiding officer of the occasion. Nobly, as is his wont, did he acquit himself. His speech, upon taking the chair, was appropriate, tasty and well delivered. He will long be remembered by the good impression which he made upon the people. The programme consisted in a debate beween two members of the Junior class, and well did they acquit them-selves: Presentation of the society diplomas to members of the Senior class, after which the various prizes awarded by the society were delivered by Mr. Chas. A. Douglas, of Winnsboro, S. C. Mr. Douglas made a very happy speech and was con-gratulated for his fine effort by all who were privileged to hear him. Temorrow the exercises will consist in speeches by the graduating class, presentation of diplomas by the pres dent, and the anniversary oration by the Rev. A. Coke Smith. We are looking forward to a high treat. To day the rain has been pouring in

Tom Ochiltree's Hard Luck.

Tom Ochiltree, the red-headed Texas member, who shares the honor of being the biggest liar of the South with Joe Mulhatton, came into the House the other day with all the indications of a bad spree on his countenance. His associates greeted him and inquired, "what in the devil have you been doing, Tom? You look as though you had been on a lark." Tom answered that he had been up all night playing poker. "What luck?"

"Never had such luck in my lifecurse it. Why, I lost $6,000."
"Six thousand dollars!" echoed his friends in amazement. "Yes," said Tom, turning to his seat, and the worst of it is that ten dollars of it was in cash.

Chinese Regulars Attack the French. Paris, June 26.—Despatches from Hanoi state that four thousand

Though so greatly outnumbered they routed the Chinese. Among those lost by the French were two officers

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for apwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a f-male physician and norse, principally among children, who has especially a udied the consillution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as norse and physician, she has competinded a boothing syrup, for children teethinif. It operates like magic—giving rest and heath, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs. Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do the ap and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Yest quantities of the boothing Syrup are daily sold and osed here. We think Mrs. Win slow as immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by the their unit of the boothing syrup, it is the ly us, and that militions ret suborn will ahare its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. BURGLARIES IN TEXAS.

A Negro Arrested on Suspicion, Surrounded by 500 Men.

Dallas, Tex., A number of small burglaries and other outrages have been of nightly occurrence lately.

Toward daylight yesterday the residence of W. H. Flippen, banker, was entered by a negro the second story window. Mrs. Flippen awoke and discovered the negro going through the bureau drawers. Two small children were in bed with their mother, Mr. Flippen being in Europe. Mrs. Flippen screamed, when the negro grabbed her by the neck, choked her severely and otherwise maltreated her. He then made his escape. The city is intensely excited. At ten o'clock last night the detectives arrested a negro answering to the description given by the assault-ed lady. The evidence against him is strong. The officers are guarding is strong. The officers are guarding the negro in open air. Upwards of 500 armed men have surrounded the jail determined not to allow the negro to be locked up. He will be taken before Mrs. Flippen for identification. If he proves to be the right person he will be immediately hanged or burned at the stake. Mrs. Flippen is in a dangerous condition. Squads of in a dangerous condition.
