16 The owners of The Crowder's Mountain Iron Works beg to call the attention of capitalists from manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settle colonies, to their property, which offers inducements to the classes above named. The property consists of Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres of land, located in the counties of Gaston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Carolina, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the Richmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an iron property, and has been worked at various points, but cheffy at the site of the celebrated Yellow Ridge ere Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic iron, and its softness and toughness. This vein of ere, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the depth of 147 feet, showing at that depth a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 66 per cent. of metallic iron, This vein has not been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other veins have been worked, and within the past two years very large deposits of iron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of fins mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level land, 2200 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, showing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the shall be pleased to see all my friends and the public generally at the old stand, where I shall keep a first-class stock in every respect. Special inducements will be offered for the next thirty days, many lines of goods being closed out for less than actual cost. you that there are bargains in store for the public.

mountain is simply inexhaustible and of good quality,
Besides Crowder's Mountain the owners possess
King's Mountain, for about seven miles, whose pinnacle is the highest point of land from Richmond to Atlanta, except Mt. Airy, in Georgia, and they have reason to believe this mountain is full of ore also. In addition to iron ore the property has manganese, limestone clay for making fire-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

orick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportunities to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four thousand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces grass, grain and all kinds of farming products finely, and it is well supplied with water by unfalling springs and branches

The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountain sides are productive of fine grass and herdage, and cattle. The elimate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, oak, walnut, cedar, etc. The land is well suited to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, peas, oats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. If could be divided into small farms that would give to each farm warlety of soft, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Piedmont beit, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from malaria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to raliroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its nines. DR. YORK ENDORSES. Dr. Tyre York was elected to Congress as an independent Democrat, and asserted in his speeches on the stump that he was a better Democrat than the men who were opposing and denouncing him. As a Representative in Congress he did not go into the Republican caucus, but on all party questions voted with the Republicans. By refusing to go into the Republican caucus he so far kept up his Democratic pretense; by voting with the Republicans he kept in with his Republican allies. He was nominated at Raleigh by the so called Liberal and Republican conventions as Liberal Democrat, taken from the Liberal Democrats and placed at the head of the Republican or Coalition ticket as a concession to the Liberals, whose co operation the Republican managers sought, and as an evidence of good faith that they meant the ticket to represent both the Republican and Liberal parties. His name was raised as a Democrat, and as a Democrat it was hoped he would carry Democratic votes. His letter of acceptance was for a long time delayed. He had plenty of time to reflect upon it, to ponder over it. And now this Liberal Democrat, whose nomination was made to catch Democratic votes, throws off the innounces that he "endorses the Chicago platform in full and the nomination of Blaine and Logan."

Who of Dr. York's supporters will now have the cheek to talk about his being a Democrat, or the impudence to ask a vote for him on that score? He places himself squarely and fully upon the Chicago platform, with all its inconsistencies and absurdities, with all its sectionalism, assaults upon the Southern people, bloody shirt and civil rights, goes as far as any dyed in-the-wool Republican could go, swallows it all, and throws up his hat for Blaine and Logan, the one the embodiment of official corruption, the other of partisan malice and sectional proscription. On his own choosing he gors before the people of North Carolina, with his Liberal disguise thrown off, as the standard bearer of the Republican party, its endorser and champion. We are not surprised at this, however, for it is as we expected. We have more than once asserted that it was only a question of time when Dr. York would flop over into the Republican camp, that there was no place else for him to land. "They all do it." And we are glad that Dr. York has seen fit to do it over his own signature, that he has ceased playing the double role of Democrat and Republican, and stands out before the people in his true colors and proper garb. It simplifies matters, eliminates the Liberal feature from the campaign, and makes it a straight out fight between the Democratic and Republican parties proper. The people and the men who voted for Dr. York as a Democrat two years ago, know just where to find him now, marching side by side with Dr. Mott, I. J. Young, and the other Republican bosses, under the banner of Blaine and Logan.

Congressman Hewitt has telegraphed to the New York Evening Post that Mr. John Kelly's talk against Gov. Cleveland is "bluster," and "resorted to for the purpose of influencing delegates to desert Cleveland, who will not not only be nominated but elected." Mr. Hewitt has been quoted as being opposed to Cleveland, but this dispatch diposes of that matter.

Hon. Carl Schurg announces his purpose to take the stump and make a number of speeches against Blaine in the ensuing campaign. Mr. Schurz is an eloquent speaker, and is credited with having great influence with the Republican element of the German population. He thinks Gov. Cleve-land could easily carry New York, but says "the independent Republicans will cheerfully support Cleveland, Bayard, or any other good man that the Democrats may nominate,".

$18.00 mark: "Could I have had my preference I would have preferred some other good man for the exalted posi tion," Some other good man" is good.
Before the campaign closes this "preference" will have developed into a most deep seated regret that the "conventions" didn't put up some other "good man" to be knocked down.

Notwithstanding the anti Mormon legislation, they still come. There were some five hundred recruits arrived the past week at New York, chiefly from Scandinavia, bound for Utah.

The Reduction of Internal Revenue Officers --- Was Chalmers Incligable? --- How the Nomination of Gen. Scales was Received --- Accident to Col. Green--- Douglas Before the Springer Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The legisla-

lative, judicial and executive appro-priation bill being under consideration in the Senate, debate arose yesterday on the appropriations committee's proposition to strike out the part of the measure as it came from the House providing for the reduction of internal revenue collectors. Several brief speeches were made-by Mr. Beck in favor of the motion because he thought there was not time to make the necessary changes before the fiscal year closed; by Mr. Allison and Mr. Morrill, in opposition to such changes on general ground, and by Gov. Vance against the motion be-cause two collectors can easily do the work of the present four in North Carolina. By 29 to 22 the Senate decided to strike out, and leave the Red Legged bosses unharmed to prey on the people. No Republican voted nay; Messrs. Bayard, Beck, Fair and Jones, of Florida, voted yea, The Senate added $100,000 to the corruption expenses for the pay of he cormorants. Presently was taken up the amendment of the appropriation committee to strike out the provision exempting small distilleries from the bonds of storekeepers and insert a povision the effect of which would be to stop all the grain distilleries in North Caro lina and several other States. This amendment was opposed not only by Senator Vance in the interest of the class of small distilleries, but by Senator Sherman, who said the proposed plan would work as a monopoly n his own State and the States of Illinois and Kentucky. Gov. Vance presented a strong array of figures from the official reports and facts of which he was personally cognisant He spoke at considerable length, closing the debate for the day. Gov. Vance ventilated the record of the internal revenue officials in North Carolina and the workings of the system. In reply to the sneering allusions of Allison in regard to the people of the State in the matter of fraud and collusion with the revenue Liberal disguise, and unequivocally gang, he showed conclusively that the Senator's own party was responole for what was wrong. The speed is too long to be summarized.

A gentleman who heard the debate in the Senate yesterday on the Thompson amendment reducing the number of internal revenue employes says that Gov. Vance made a profound impression upon him as a debater and man of affairs. Another admirable judge of good speaking remarked this morning that Gov. Vance's speech was very incisive and showed perfect familiarity with the

The action of the Senate this afternoon in striking out the material parts of the Thompson amendment is not a surprise. The House will probably insist to the bitter end, and the "upper House" will have to succomb of get no appropriation measure. The first important business of Wednesday in the House was the

an opening statement, showing that

Chalmers was elected. A number of other speeches followed-Mr. Elliott. of Pennsylvania, for, Mr. Davis, of Missouri against, Chalmers' right to a seat. The latter argued that the holding of a Federal office, that of Assistant District Attorney for Mississippi, made Chalmers ineligible. and that the election should be held over. But Judge Bennett, who presented the minority report, carried this contention further than anyone else. He spoke for one hour, and then secured an extension of his time from Mr. Lowery for twentyfive minutes. Between was sandwiched a short speech for Chalmers by Mr. Valentine, of Nebraska, Republican. Judge Bennett's was the best effort he has yet made in Congress, and was heard with close attention by the Democrats. Messrs. Valentine, Ramsey and Hart, his Republican colleagues of the election committee, did their best to parry the force of his argument, but without avail. Indeed, they were worsted in every interruption. The Judge is a quaint and original speaker. Besides the ingenuity and learning displayed in the strictly technical part of the discussion, he made a decided hit in reading in tragic accent and manner the correspondence between Chalmers and his friend Buchanan and the Republican authorities here with regard to "soap," etc., to be used in the election. His interpolaused in the election. His interpolations were lively and the Democrats showed their enjoyment of the whole performance bylaughter and applause. The latter part of the speech will make good campaign literature. In conclusion he asked if it were possible for Democratic members to seat this man who had turned his back on his kith and kin, and gone into the his kith and kin and gone into the service of his old enemies.

Upon the conclusion of the debate the vote was taken on the minority resolution declaring the election void resolution declaring the election void on the ground of fraud and asserting the ineligibility of Chalmers. The question was divided on demand of Judge Bennett, and the vote on the last resolution, which was taken first, resulted 36 ayes to 38 noes. Judge Bennett's demand for the year and nays was refused. The other resolutions declaring the election for ineligibility void, and remitting the matter to the people, were then defeated by a vote of 56 to 161. The North Carolina Democrats voted with the minerity. Col. Green was seen limping and using a stick this morning. On being questioned, he replied that on Tuesday night when the horses attached to the carriage of Gen. Hazen, of the weather bureau, ran away and injured the occupants, h (Col. Green) was descending the steps of his own carriage, in front of the Ebbitt House. the two carriages came in col-lision, and the left ankle of Col. Green was bruised. He paid little attention to it, especially as the parties in the other vehicle were badly hurt. But the next morning his ankle was inflamed and swollen and he was obliged to call in a physician. He is barely able to be in the House today expecting his fruit brandy bill to come up. It is not likely he will appear in his seat again for several days. Yesterday Robert M. Douglas, ex marshal, appeared as a witness before the Springer committee and made a long statement, the purport of which was to clear himself of all imputa-tions as to maladministration. Expert Brown was asked by him to state if there was anything beyond the charges against two deputies revealed in the course of his examination. Bowman replied that there was not. The matter was postponed until this morning at 10 o'clock. Nothing was done at the adjourned session, as no witnesses were present.
