CLOSE UP THE RANKS. There are but two questions preented in the platform adopted by the last State Democratic convention at Raleigh on which there is any difference of opinion among Democrats, and in touching upon these the convention acted wisely in taking the conciliatory middle course. The men who drafted that platform and the men who adopted it recognized the fact that there was a difference of opinion on these subjects, and wisely resolved to let these differences for the present rest in abeyance, trusting to time, the good sense of the people and the wisdom of our law-makers in time to adjust the inequalities and correct the wrong, This journal has pinions on the tariff question, and also upon the county government question, which are not in accord with the opinions held by some other journals, and many other Democrats within the Democratic ranks, and it has never failed when occasion demanded in giving free and fu" utterance to these opinions, thus somet mes subjecting itself to severe criticism and to hostile attack. But when it sees DUTY, when the prosperity of our whole country, and the prosperity, glory and honor of North Carolina are at stake it has but one line of march, and that is the line that leads of whose glorious history is a treasure and every spot of whose soil is dear to us, by contending for minor issues while great issues are at stake. To day there are but two parties in North Carolina, the Democratic party, under whose wise and able adminis tration the State has moved on in the path of progress grandly and with marvelous strides, and the Republican which comes to the front again under leadership that has controlled it for a number of years, seeking to recover possession of the State, not that they may promote her prosperity, but for the spoils of office. What care they for any particular form of county government? Nothing. Their leigned German birth or descent hold the balance of power between the repub opposition to the present system afford, and we will not venture, to jeopardize Democratic success and arises out of the hope that thereby they may secure votes in the western counties, and if these votes could be secured by turning a summerset on this question, the summerset would be turned with the agility of a reg 1larly trained circus man.

Dr. York was nominated as a Lit eral. Now where is Dr. York the representative Liberal? He has thrown off his Libere' disguise and comes out squarely and unequivocally for Blaine and Logan, and endorses from A to Z the Chicago platform, civil rights and all, thus wiping out the last vestige of Liberalism, socalled, and going over body and soul to the Republicans. There is no longer any Liberal party, and there is no middle ground for any one to stand upon. The voter must either must vote the Republican ticket. It is to be the same square out fight between the Democratic party and its old time foe. And this being so, who among the sons of North Carolina, who have ever acted with the Democratic party, can have any doubt as to his duty, and where he should be found in the fight? With that same love of State which has character aed them in the past, they will be found struggling for her prosperity and glory as they have done in so many campeigns, willing to let individual opinions and preferences sink for the public good, and resolved that the Democratic flag shall at I float over North Carolina on a happy, united and prosperous people. Judge Finletter, of Philadelphia, don't believe in pistol sportiveness. He has just sentenced a young man to three months imprisonment for playfully presenting a pistol at another young man. The sentenced man said the pistol was not loaded, but the Judge remembered that it is the "unloaded" pistol that does the

The Staats Zeitung on the Bosses, The New York Staats Zeitung is the most influential political journal printed in the German language in the Northeastern States, and its circirculation extends through all the United States. In New York city alone it speaks daily to more than a quarter of a million inhabitants of German birth or descent, and its great prosperity bears witness that it is a faithful exponent of the sentiments prevailing among them. In its leading editorial of Friday, the Staats Zeitung plainly serves notice on the Democratic party of the Uni-ted States that there is a contingency in which the support of this great constituency in New York, and of voters of German birth or descent who cherish kindred sentiments in other States, can wantonly be forfeited, and names particularly among these other States Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Jersey in the East, and Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and tinger cy is, if the Democratic National Convention im.nolates Governor Cleveland by the demand of the "New York and Brooklyn corrup-tionists" Boss Kelly and Boss Mcposses have always been only a dead weight for the Democracy," and their enmity to Governor Cleveland springs from "a feeling much akin to esperation," because they know by experience with him as Governor that he "would promptly rebuke them were they to come forward with their demand for a share of the spoils" in the event of his presidency. But with Governor Cleveland for the Democratic Presidential candidate, declares the Staats Zeitung, this State would be "absolutely sure" for the ticket, and it believes the same of every other State where voters of

Romant c Story About Ges. Logan

A we!!-known Federal officer, who is a prominent Republican, said to me today: "You have seen the story in a North Carolina paper about the wonderful performance of General Logan at Ra eigh the day the news of Lincoln's assassination was received there." I replied I had not. "Well," said he, "it is stated the soldiers were about to burn the town and commit other outrages when General Logan, with drawn sword. them. This is a romance, I know, said he, "for I was there on General Schofield's staff. The fact is," said had all the soldiers then in town im-mediately sent to their camps outside. Sentinels were doubled, and strict orders given that no soldiers should soldiers, the news of the President's assassination was quietly communicated to the troops. There was no demonstration made against Raleigh or its citizens, for if there had been I would have known it, as I was at headquarters." This officer is not at all unfriendly to General Logan, and evidently intended only to correct a

Mr. Geo. Wm. Curtis in res onse to inquiries from a Republican riend states distinctly that he 'does not think that a delegate who takes part think that a delegate who takes part in the deliberations of a convention to the end is honorably bound to support its action if in his judgment it ought not to be supported. Referring to Mr. Blaine, Mr. Curtis says; "The writer of the letters to Mr. Fisher, dated June 29, July 2, 1889, and the two letters of October 4, 1869, cannot be accepted by me until those letters are satisfactorily explained as a fitting representative of Republican principles or methods, however principles or methods, however warmly he may approve the platform or profess the desire to purify the political methods."
