Marder Near Laurinburg. From parties arriving in the city on the Carolina Central train we learn of the murder of a white man named Jackson, near Laurinburg, by a negro named Eli Gale. The murder was a shocking affair and was done in cold blood. The negro fied, but at last accounts a party of fally one hundred people were in search of him.

Au Amusing Chase and Capture.

A man named Dulin was riding a horse about the vicinity of College and Trade streets yesterday afternoon in a style calculated to show off both the animal and the rider. Policemen Jetton and Orr started to stop the circus, when Dulin put spurs to his steed and cantered off down Trade street. The officers were determined not to let him get away, so Jetton jumped on a horse and Orr got into a carriage and after him they went. The crowd cheered as pursued and pursuers raised the dust along their route. The chase was quite exciting, and lasted until Myers street was reached, at which point Dulin was overhauled. He got into the carriage with Policeman Orr, his steed was secured by Officer Jetton, and the procession took up a triumphal march guard housewards.

Judge Bynum's Card.

In another column this morning we print a card from Judge Bynum, in which he denies certain statements in the article a few days ago to the effect that he had stepped out from the Republican party and would vote for Scales. The report had been current here for some time and was first published in a Winston paper. But after all of Judge By-1 num's denial, he does not state that 2 he does not intend to vote for 3 Scales. He says that he is not a 4 Democrat, and at a certain time 5 mentioned in the article he had not 6 left the Republican party. Our in-7 formation is that Dr. Mott paid 8 Judge Bynum one or more visits, 9 and a telegram was sent Judge 10 Bynum asking him if he would 11 accept the nomination if tendered 12 to him, but Judge Bynum may, 13 not consider this the offer of a 14 nomination. After all, it may be 15 that all this only indicates that he 16 has simply retired from politics 17 and is not an active Republican. 18 We don't care, just so he votes 19 for Scales and we still hope that

Rev. Neander M. Woods, of the Second Presbyterian church in this city, will preach a sermon to the meeting at 11 o'clock a. m. The object of this society is to further the work of circulating the Bible among the needy people, and it has not only done a great deal of good work in the past, but gives promise of greater usefulness in the future. A full attendance of the members is requested at the anniversary meeting.

Hed that considerable attention is now being devoted to the question of the propriety of educating telephone subscribers; but it is most advisable that the contract should be awarded to the day schools or to the Sabbath schools. The opinion, however, is gradually gaining ground that a full and effect tive educational course must necessarily embrace both secular and religious instruction in order to meet all the peculiar requirements of the case. This phenomenon is supposed to be due to the reflection of the sonorous vibrations from the

of the sonorous vibrations from the organs of speech of careless, impatient and ignorant subscribers, and is certainly a strong argument in favor of a religious education. Surely, it is a matter for profound regret that the telephone should deteriorate into an approved medium for the circulation of extradictionary words, or, in short, slang; and the frequent transmission to the central office of such objectionable and illiterate phrases as "What are ye givin us?" "Oh, take your moustache out of your mouth, and I can hear you better, "etc., have no doubt given rise to the proposed plan of telephonic education.

Bee keeping in North Carolina has in the last few years, made rapid progress. The old style was for every farmer to have a few stands or colonies of black bees and raise enough honey for his family, but none for the market. His honey was also of an inferior quality. Now, however, almost every farmer has from two to a dozen colonies of Italian bees which (with improved hives), make enough honey for at least ten families to consume. Messrs. W. D. A CARD FROM JUDGE BYNUM.

Is He Going to Vote for Scales or York? ... A Card that Leaves the Reader in Doubt as to Whose Name the Judge's Ballot will Bear. to the Editor of THE OBSERVER.

My attention has been called to an editorial in your paper of the 27th, headed: "Judge Bynum Steps Out."

I beg that you will correct a few errors therein by giving this article an insertion in your paper:

1. The "nomination for Governor" was never tendered to me, and as I never sought, desired, or could have accepted it. I have no complaint against the party on that account.
2. No one of "York's managers" came to me at Charlotte or elsewhere upon the alleged or other political

3. No "interview" was ever bad with me to induce me to return to the Republican party, or any like purpose. I had not departed from it.

4. No such conversation with 'prominent" or other men, as is attributed to me in the editorial, ever took place, the solar of 5. I never told "one of these gentlemen" that I intended to vote for Gen. Scales. 6. I never told my "partner" that I intended to vote for Gen. Scales. I have expressed to him and others my high appreciation of the character and worth of Gen. Scales. 7. I never made the "first declara-tions" of my views to "my brother in Winston." I have no brother there. Winston." I have no brother there, and with the only brother I have, who resides in Stokes, I have not exchanged a word upon politics, that I remember, in ten years.

8. Last, but not least, I am not a "Democrat." There is a wide distinction between the disapproval of some of the nominees and methods of a party and the abandonment of its principles and organization.

Before concluding, allow me to say that I have not attended a political meeting in fifteen years, or taken any part in the deliberations and tactics of party, but contented myself with casting a silent vote as other private citizens. As I do not seek public influence, and am content with my political principles, I had hoped to be left undisturbed in my attentions to my very sick family. The obtrusion of my name upon the public was, therefore, both a surprise and a deep regret to me. Respectfully, W. P. BYNUM.

Mr. Don Shelton, of Winston, has on old violin which is much of a curiosity in the way of age. Pasted on the inside of the violin is a dingy slip of paper, on which is written: "Paola Albani, in Rotzan, 1691." The violin, it is said, was years ago owned by the Lester families in Virginia, and from them it got into the possession of the Shouses in this State, and was obtained by Mr. Shelton from Calvin Shouse of Forsyth. With the exception of its antiquated look, the violin resembles those of the present day.

At the practice of the Twin City Rifle Club on Monday afternoon, Dr. W. S. Battle made the best shots and now carries the badge.

Messrs. Allen & Allen, of Winston, have put up signs in that town with all the names of the streets on them. The signs are made of cast iron, the shape of a circular saw, and are placed at each street corner. On each sign, in raised letters, is the name of a street, after which comes the advertisement of this enterprising hardware firm. Sid Allen is hard to beat in getting up advertisements, and is a great believer in printer's ink, and the big sales that he makes in his line of wares shows how well it pays for one to advertise.

Mr. John Beard, of Winston, has been for some time gathering a collection of minerals and Indian relies for the State Exposition. Among his fine collection is to be seen an arrow head of crystalized quartz, that was found three or four miles from Salem. It is a fine specimen and is as clear as cryafal.

On Monday afternoon this section was visited by a very heavy rainfall. It was much needed as it was getting to be very dry.

CHARLOTTS. N. C., July 25, 1884.

The friends of Major J. M. Davis call on him through The Observer this week to say whether he is or is not a candidate for the office of sheriff of Mecklenburg county. In reply let it be said, that, while Major Davis has not announced his intentions to become a candidate, and has not urged any claims upon the voters of the county. his friends know him well enough to feel safe in saying that if he should be the choice of the nominating convention for that office he would respond to the call in the spirit of one who is willing to serve his county. And, let it be said, further, if elected, the clitzens of Mecklenburg will have a sheriff in whose hands the duties of the office will be faithfully and efficiently discharged. A man of vigorous health, untiring energy and considentious fidelity to any trust, he would fill the office to the satisfaction of all.
