The property consists of Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres of land, located in the counties of Gaston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Carolina, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line rallway, now owned by the Richmond and Danville rallroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an iron property, and has been worked at various points, but chieffy at the site of the celebrated reliow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore insted for its richness in metallic iron, and its softness and toughness. This vein of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the depth of 147 feet, showing at that depth a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 66 per cent, of metallic iron. This vein has not been worked, and within the past eligible of the serious stocked, and within the past two past years are deposits of from ore have been discovered at other points. Wiffin the past eligible naturals, however, the gwners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level and, 2200 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, showing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. A MINORITY PARTY. Republican speakers and writers North and South harp much on the "voice of the majority," and try to convey the impression that if there were a fair and free ballot in the South, the South would be Republican, when the truth is the ballot is as fair and free in the South as it is in any part of this country, and much fairer and freer than it is in some portions of the Eastern States, where large corporations control large bodies of men who are compelled to vote as their employers desire or go idle as a consequence. As a matter of fact, ninety nine out of a hundred negroes in the South who work for others are employed by Democrats, and yet on election day they march to the polls and vote almost solidly against the party to which their employers belong, without any attempt at hinderance on the part of their employers. But while these Republican writers and talkers discourse about majority rule, their party never has been, since the day of its organization, a majority party. It has always been in the minority, came into power and has been continued in power by the divisions in the opposition. If at any election since Abraham Lincoln first appeared as a candidate the opposition vote had been centered upon one candidate, while it might have carried some States, never would have elected a President or gotten control of the National government. It does dying down, and the shake seemed not today and never did represent to come from the West, the majority of the American people. In the North there are arrayed against it the best of men and the purest of patriots, embracing not only Demograts, but thousands of men who for a time acted with it, while in the South it has practically no existence outside of the negro population, who, with a comparative handful of white allies, are led by the internal revenue agents and other Federal officers. These, and these only, are its supporters, and these, and these only,

Thus they hope to squeeze through, not by their own strength, but by the divisions among those opposed to them, and continue to hold the power they have held, still, as always, a minority party. Last Monday T. G. Robinson, negro postmaster at Bamberg, S. C., tele-graphed to Washington that he had been shot at, his life threatened if he did not resign his position as post-master, and that he had therefore closed the office and left the town. Investigation by a postoffice inspector shows that it was a put up job by several other Republicans to drive him out of town and get the office for another negro, Fred Nix, the leader of the faction opposed to Robinson.

EARTHQUAKE EXPERIENCE.

A Charlotte Boy Describes the Peculiar Sensations.

One of our Charlotte bosy, at pre-ent a resident of Hoboken, N. J., in writing to a friend, thus writes about the earthquake which rattled things along the Atlantic coast last Sunday "Now for the earthquake; for earthquake we most assuredly had this afternoon. We had just fairly started on our Sunday dessert of ice cream when the shock came. It was all over in a minute, and after about two minutes spent in looking around we were at the ice cream again. My own impressions were first that somebody was making a big noise in the parlor overhead, we being in the basement; then it seemed that a whole crowd of people must be charg-ing around in the parlor, and then things began to tremble and shake. I next thought it was one of the num erous beer trucks on a spree. A Hoboken beer truck is a ponderous affair-a heavy wagon, capable of carrying forty or fifty beer kegs, and usually drawn by four magnificent Percheron horses. And one of these trucks, loaded and on a fast trot over these block stone pavements, wakes things up with the rumble and jar. But the shaking increased and the noise died out. The chandeliers were swinging like pendulums. I, with all my 165 solid in a steady chair, was rocking and shaking about -everybody ditto-and all more or less frightened. Such a peculiar sensation I never felt before. I could not resist the shaking, and it seemed that my heart, lungs and liver were all in one grand mess and that I did not care. I did not feel at all frightened, but queer does not express the sensation. Mr. T. jumped to see about his baby on the third floor, and he says himself that he was so frightened he could hardly get up stairs. It kept up so long that I laid down my spoon and said I was going to see the fun, and started for the street. It ceased all at once, and when I reached the street every stoop was filled with people, coming out to see what was up. But no one knew. I saw it was not a runaway and concluded that it was an explosion of gas, dynamite, or something similar, and fearing my cream would get cold, went back, followed by the ladies. As soon as we finished our dessert we went out, aud everbody was in a hullabolloo. The shock came very distinctly through the ground. Every one said it was "earthquake." - The feeling was all on the earth, there being no report or concussion in the air. It was a rumble or roar like distant thunder, increasing and then people who were in the street say they noticed our whole block of houses tremble. People from all parts of Hoboken felt the same. Some say the noise sounded as if some one was hastily moving a piano over their heads. I was a few minutes past 2 p. m., and it certainly did make things lively. Some say it made the silver, crockery, &c., rat-tle. We did not notice that, but when Mr. T. went upstairs, after it was over, he found his looking glass swinging back and forth. It was the "curiousest" thing I ever felt. The basement floor was shaken and I saw the door vibrating like anything. It came and went in a hurry, but was long enough for us to exchange several questions and guesses and also to give us a new experience. am satisfied with mine, for the field, four in all, each one appeal believe that very little more quake ing to the people for their votes. LIEUT. GREELY'S REPORT.

How He Tried to Reform Private

Henry, and Why His Execution WASHINGTON, N. C., August 14.— The following is Lt. Greely's official report of the execution of Private Henry, at Camp Clay, near Cape

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 11. Adjutant General U. S. Army; Sir,-I have the honor to report that on June 6th, 1884, at Camp Clay, Cape Sabin, Grinnell land, it became necessary for me to order the military execution of private Charles B. Henry, of the 5th cavalry, for coninued thieving. The order was given n writing on my undivided responsibility, being deemed absolutely essential for the surviving members of the expedition. Ten had already died of starvation and two more lay at the point of death. The facts induc ing my action were as follows:

Provisions had been stolen on No vember 18th, 1883, and Henry's complicity therein was more than sus pected. On the 24th of March, 1884 the party nearly perished from asphyxia. While several men were unconscious and efforts were being made to restore them, Private Henry stole about two pounds of bacon from the mess stores. He was not only seen by the Esquimau, Jean Edwards, but his stomach being overloaded he threw up the undigested bacon. An investigation was held and every member of the party declared him guilty of this and other thefts. A claimor for his life was raised, but was suppressed by me. I put him under surveillance until our wan-ing strength rendered his physi-cal services indispensable. Later he was one day intoxicated, having stolen the liquor on hand for general issue. A second time his life was demanded, but I again spared him. On June 5th thefts of provisions on his part having been reported to me, disaffection among the Democrats to I had a conversation with him, in which I appealed to his practical sense, pointing out that union was The Blaine campaign was becoming necessary to our preservation. He promised entire reformation, but distrusting him. I issued a written order that he should be shot if deteoted stealing. On June 6th he not only stole part of the shrimps for our breakfast, but visited unauthorized our winter camp and stole certain seal skins reserved for food. I then ordered him shot. On his person was found a silver chronograph abandoned by me at Fort Conger and stolen by him. In his bag was found a large quantity of seal skin and a pair of seal skin boots, stolen a few days before from the hunter. I ordered his execution by three of the most reliable men. After his death the order was read to the entire party and was concur-red in by every member as being not ty. To avoid public scandal I ordered that no man should speak of this matter until an official report was made of the facts. I have the honor to request that a a court of inquiry be ordered or court martial convened, should the honorable secretary of war deem either advisable in this case. I have thought it best not to ask for written state. ments of the surviving members of the party for appendices to this report, lest I might seem to be tam-pering with them. I have not asked, since our rescue June 22nd, whether their opinions concurring in my action have changed or not, leaving such questions to your action if deem-ed requisite I necessarily regret that circumstances imposed such a terrible responsibility upon me, but I am conscious that I should have failed in my duty to the rest of my party had I not acted promptly and summarily. I am respectfully, (Signed.) A. W. GREELY, First Lt. 5th Cav., U. S. A., and Com. of S. F. B. Ex.

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female physician and nurse, principally among children, the has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, cheating the affecting pent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing syrup, for children teefhind. It operates like magic—giving rest and heath, and is moreover sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, firs, winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the boothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs win slow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its bruely use, and that militons yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering luttle one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs. Winslow's Solthing Syrup; Try it, mothers—try it now—Ladles' Visitor New York City. A Remarkable Cure of Scrofula. William S. Baker, of Lewis, Vego county, Ind... writes as follows: "My son was taken with Szrofula in the hip when only two years old. We tried several physicians, but the boy got no relief from their treatment. Notining your Scovill's Sarsaparilla and Stillingia, or Blood and Liver Syrup, recommmended so highly. I bought some of you in 1862, and continued taking it till the sores finally healed up. He is now 21 years of age, and, being satisfied that your medicine did him so much good when he used if, we want to try it again in another case, and write to you to get some more,"

The glory of man is his strength. Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia. It is scientifically settled that rheumatism, gout and neuralgia cannot be cured by rubbing with oils cintments, liniments, lotions, etc.; for the reason that these diseases are caused by uric acid in the blood. The only preparation which uniformly expels this acid is Furner's Tonic. Subdues pain at Once. Try it.

So Dry and Brittle. "What no you suppose makes my hair so dry and brittle?" We suppose the glands which supply moisture to it need a stimulous.
