TO MY MECKLENBURG FRIENDS. But Especially to the Delegates to the Democratic County Convention

Up to the time of the primary conventions held in Charlotte, Friday night, 29th Aug., without any action on my part, my name was used by my friends, as a candidate for a seat in the House of Representatives of the next State Legislature. After those conventions I consented to be a candidate, but as I had made no canvass, way from the city to his suburban the information did not reach the conventions held in the county on Saturday August 30th in time for my friends to give that expression of preference, which I believe they would otherwise have done. This being so I am now satisfied that I could not be nominated in the county convention without such a scramble as I am unwilling to enter, and I there fore decline to be further regarded as in the race.

I am no office seeker, and I shall never hold any public office except as the free will offering of my fellow citizens. Twenty of the best years town. of my life have been given to the service of the Democratic party. In all that time I have asked nothing a its hands. Having never voted anything but a straight Democratic ticket, I am content to fall into line and fight as a private in the ranks, rather than contend for party honors in an unseemly scramble.

With many thanks for the kind regard of my many friends, I am, very truly, CHAS. R. JONES.

To the Editor of THE OBSERVER MATTHEWS STATION, Sept. 6 .- Th Hon. R. T. Bennett was introduced here to-day by J. Sol Reid in a short but able speech. When Bennet arose he was greeted with applause, and was listened to with marked at-tention for one hour and a quarter by a large and enthusiastic crowd of J. W. H.

DUST TO DUST.

The Last Tributes to the Dend Senator PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 6.—The funeral of Senator Anthony was solumnized from the First Congregational church at noon today, and was the occasion of a gathering of representatives of the Nation and State such as was probably never equalled in this city. Sunday quiet prevailed in the central part of the city, many of the largest business houses being closed during the hours of the funeral. The larger dry goods houses had closed during the hours of the funeral. The larger dry goods houses had their show windows draped in mourning, and emblems of sorrow were also displayed from many other shops in various parts of the city. The National colors hung at half mast upon the flagstaffs of the public buildings and from private residences. The city hall postoffice and custom house, board of trade, municipal, State and United States Courts, and several large manufactories and business establishment were closed at noon, and remained so during the ceremony at the church and burial at ceremony at the church and burial at Swanpoint cemetery. Arrangements were under the charge of W. P. Can-ady, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

The Last Move in the Blaine Libel Case Indianapolis, Sep. 6.—Another step was taken in the Federal court today in the Blaine scandal matter by filing the following: The defendants move the court for a rule against the place. the court for a rule against the plain tiff herein to answer the interroga-tories under oath as recited and filed with the answer of the defendant, and the court shall make such rule mable at such time as may be led by the court to be reasonable, deemed by the court to be reasonable, for the purpose of said action as by statute provided and required. Argument could not be heard on the motion today, and inasmuch as Judge Woods goes to Fort Wayne on Monday to hold court, the matter will probably not be ruled upon for ceveral days. The plaintiffs counsel have not refused to answer the interrogations.

CHICAGO, Sept. 6. - Wm. H. Dowie, a member of the Board of Trade, was found dead in the basement of his bouse on La Selle avenue last night, with a builet hole in the left temple. He was alone in the house at the time of the occurrence. The front part of of the occurrence. The front part of his face was powder burned and the hair scorched. It was at first sup-posed to be a case of suicide, but on closer examination the position and direction of the wound and the fact that no weapon could be found led to the conclusion that it was a case of murder. With his brother Charles he had frequent altercations in regard to an undivided estate left them by their mother; these troubles leading to their separation. Yesterday there was an unusually stormy scene, and Charles made an attempt to brain his brother with an axe. This, with the fact that Charles once shot at William, led to the suspicion that the present was a case fratricide; and the police arrested Charles on his
