Some eight years ago I became the victim of a fearful blood poison, communicated by a nurse to my infant, and thence through the breast, and suf

DR. YORK QUITS THE CAMPAIGN A special dispatch to the OBSERVER from Salisbury last night announces d cause being ill health. Dr. may be ill, and this may possibly be the cause of his withdrawal, but it is more than probable that the poor prospect of election before him had quite as much or more to do with that action than ill health. In his joint discussion with Gen. Scales in the west, the meetings were largely attended, as the Democrats turned out in large numbers to hear their candidate for Governor, but when the joint discussions ceased at Raleigh and Dr. York struck out for himself his audiences dwindled down to insignificant numbers and these almost altogether of colored men, the white men of the east paying no attention whatever to him. While he made a pretense of believing that he was going to be elected Governor while can vassing the west subsequent developments have forced the conviction upon him that he was leading a forlorn hope and that he was doomed to inevitable defeat, and realizing this de cided to abandon the campaign. He was aware of the fact that the Republican leaders sometime ago abandoned the hope of electing him and that they were merely keeping up the fight in the interest of Blaine. and that they consequently declined to give him that support in money and active co-operation that he was led to, and had a right to expect. He has done well to retire from the conflict, and the struggle to achieve an

His name will of course remain upon the ticket, as it is too late in the day to take it down and put another in its place, and it now remains for Democrats to rally in solid phalanx and on the 4th of November next not, only defeat what there is left of the Republican party, but to bury it for all time.

The last we heard of Ben Butler he got on a big jamboree at Elmira, N. Y., and was helped off the cars on his arrival in New York city. Ben had better suspend operations, or consolidate with the Blaine 'circus to save expenses. As a side show his affair has about "busted."

The county of Forsyth received the prize offered by the N. C. Exposition company for the finest exhibit made by any county at the Expositionsomething of which Forsyth may well be proud. The prize was $100, and after its receipt it was yoted unanimously to the Oxford Orphan Asylum.

The South ain't very solid for Mulligan Blaine, and that's what makes Blaine mad, and North Carolina lacks a -- sight of being solid for York, and that's what makes him retire to Wilkes and let Mott and the other boys run the machine their

Blaine wasn't half as sick when the wrote that last batch of letters to Warren Fisher as he was when he got the subsequent returns from Ohio. He has been raving ever

We congratulate Dr. York on retiring from the campaign, saving himself much useless labor, and trust that he is not seriously sick and that he may yet be happy, though he can never be Governor.

Blaine thinks it is all O K. for the negroes of the South to be solid for him, but bad, very bad, altogether that for the white men of the South to be solid for Cleveland.

dal to THE OBSERVER SALISBURY, N. C., Oct. 25, 1884. Dr. York passed through this city last night on his return to his home in Wilkes county, having quit the campaign. The chestnuts are falling in Wilkes. Sickness is assigned as the cause of his withdrawal, and it is reported that the Doctor is suffering from a serious attack of

When Mr. Blaine and John A. Logan, the standard bearers of the Republican party, flaunt the bloody shirt and cry war against the South, what can Southern white men do but stand solid? Blaine has lost his senses.

The Prussian Council. Berlin, Oct. 25.-The Prussian council of State met today under the presidency of the Crown, Prince Frederick William, Prince Bismarck, Count Von Moltke and about 100 other members were present. The Probable Cause of It.

Paris, Oct. 25.-There have been wo more deaths from cholera at Yport. Physicians discredit the alle ations that the disease was brought to Yport by sailors. COSTA RICAN REVOLUTIONISTS.

Two Seizures of a British Vessel. PANAMA, Oct. 25 .- General Benjamin Ruiz has for some time been in possession of Tarfon and Pamphano with a considerable force. Early on the morning of the 14th, with a party of associates, he boarded the English steamer, the Merro. The officers were obliged to get out of bed, get up steam and head for the inner bay where the Costa Rican steamer, Alojuela, was at anchor. That vesse was taken possession of by the Rev-olutionists, and the Captain of the Merro was compelled to take her in tow and move her out into the bay opposite the Revolutionary camp at Pamphano. The Merro was then reeased and allowed to return. After repairing the engines of the Alajuela, she was hauled up alongside a coal launch of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and the Revolutionists helped themselves to a supply of coal. The Colombian colors were run up and the vessel proceeded toward Panama, but turned and went to sea hound down the beautiful She hed 200 bound down the bay. She had 200 men on board, and a greater number are said to have been left at Pamphaphano and Tarfon. The government authorities took possession of the Merro, repeating the outrage of the night before, and although there was neither Captain nor first officer on board, put out of port in pursuit of the Alajuela. Various reports are given of the results of the expedi tion. The Alajuela was overhauled, and three distinct combats are reported, but the Alajuela escaped.
