Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres Land. The owners of The Crowder's Mountain from Works beg to call the attention of capitalists from manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settle edionles, to their property which offers inducements to the classes above named. The property consists of Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres of land, located in the counties of Gaston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Carolina, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line rallway, now owned by the meanmond and Danville halmond company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an iron property, and has seen worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated reliow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic iron, and reliow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic fron, and its softness and toughness. This vein of ore, which extends for two inlies in length, has been worked to the dept 1 147 feet, showing at that depth a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 65 per cent. of metallic fron. This vein has not been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other veins have been worked, and within the past two fears very large deposits of fron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of fron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most desirable fron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level and, 2500 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore land, 228) feet above the sea leve!, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, show-ing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This ing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the top of the mountain for over a mile, and this deposit alone would afford an almost inexhaustible supply of ore, easily worked, and above the water line. In addition to this four other veins have been found on this mountain. The ore is a mottled gray ore, showing on analysis from 49 to 50 per cent. of metallic from with a small amount of titanic acid, and without any sulpaur or phosphorus. The quantity of ore in this meantain is simply inexhaustible and of good quality.

cuality, besides Crowder's Mountain the owners possess king's Mountain, for about seven miles, whose pinnacle is the highest point of land from Richmond to Athanta, except left. Alry, in Georgia, and they have reason to believe this mountain is full of ore also. In addition to Iron ore the property has manganese, ilmestone clay for making fre-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent burytese has just been found in large quantity.

callent barylese has just been found in large quantity.

As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportunities to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four incusand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces are as a stock and all kinds of farming products anely, and it is well supplied with water by unfulling springs and branches.

The other 4.00 acres embraced in the mountain slees are productive of fine grass and herdage, and afford excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle. The climate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory. oak, wainut, cedar, etc. The land is well suited to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, peas, oats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. It could be divided into small farms that would give to each farm variety of soil, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Pledmont belt, which is noted for the sainbrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from malaria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to railroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its lines. The owners will sell this property to suit purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including unlineral interests, for sixty three Thousand Dollars, or will make favorable terms, reserving the mineral interest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in one or two-ty.

A valuable water power, which has been used to run large routing minis, iles adjacent to this prop-erty, and can be bought cheaply. The property is also in close proximity to the famous All Healing Mineral Springs, and to the widely-known Cleve-land Springs.

Mineral Springs, and to the widely-known Cieve-land Springs.

The town of King's Mountain is also adjacent, where are good hotels, a flourishing and excellent high school, and several new and handsome churches. The owners invite the attention of all interested to this property, and ask an examination of it. Any further information regarding it will be promptly furnished by addressing R. k. Cochrane, Manager Charlotte Real Estate Agency.

The Yellow Ridge Ore Bank has been recently sold to a Pittsburg, Pa., company, and a German colonization company has recently bought 2,500 cres adjoining this property.

BLAINE'S DYING STRUGGLES.

There never was a more disappoint ed man than James G. Blaine, in the failure to reach the goal of his ambition through the ballots of his countrymen. For years the presidency has been the cherished nurseling of his dreams. It became to him the engrossing thought of hisflife, and since the wires were set to working to secure his nomination he has giv en his time and attention to little else. Disappointed twice before he succeeded by his peculiar methods in securing the nomination of his party at Chicago, then he began to feel as if the dream of years was about to be realized. He did not anticipate the opposition that he would have to encounter within his own party, and did not realize how formidable that opposition would become. He was prepared for some dissatisfaction but not for revolt, for he thought that party pride and party discipline would eventually bring the dissatisfied elements together as it had done in the Garfield campaign. When he realized his error in this respect, he threw himself, heart and soul, into the campaign, and fought with a determination and desperation which was never before witnessed on the part of any presidential candidate. He forgot how he censured and ridiculed Mr. Sey- and the West, leaving New York to mour for making a few speeches in take care of herself. Stephe thought 1868 when he was a candidate, and went out on the hustings and person- | New York. ally appealed to the populace to rescue him from defeat. It was a desperate case with him, and he faced it with a desperate resolve. Propriety and dignity were both ignored as of no weight when thrown in the balance with votes; and it was votes he No man ever started out in such a contest with such a heavy load upon his shoulders. His spotted record faced him everywhere. Every damaging fact of his public life went into print, glared in blazing type from the thousands of papers daily issued, and were scattered by the thousand in every city, town, village and rural precinct throughout the land, and yet he faced it all with a nerve that was as admirable as it was audacious power and honors, real and imaginary, which had been his day dream character as a public man and as a election, an endorsement by the people would have been taken as an as sertion of disbelief in the charges made, and as a popular vindication. Hence the extraordinary efforts he personally made, and hence the keenness and the bitterness of the disappointment, and hence the last tricky resorts to subvert the result, and by sharp practice and fraud to turn the figures in his favor. He is at the bottom of all these "subsequent proceedings" of which we have read since the result in New York was announced; he is at the bottom of all these false figures which were heralded on the wires of the Western Union telegraph; he is at the bottom of all the B. F. Jones proclamations claiming his election, and he is at the bottom of all the cries of fraud that have been sent broadcast throughout the country. It is his last resort, his last hope of realizing his life dream, and of securing the "vindication" for which he strug gled. If successful, which it will not be, it would not be much of a vindication, but it would be more comforting to him than the condemnation as it now stands and is now registered. It would at least give him an excuse to say that he had been vindicated and that the American people did not believe him tattooed as he was represented to be. His dying struggles are hard, as he looks out and realizes how close the prize for which he had struggled so desperately was to him and yet how far away. James G. The fire in Palatka, Florida, Friday night, which destroyed the town was the work of an incendiary.

Some of the Republican papers of New York Saturday claimed to be in possession of "some startling facts." The most startling fact to them that they were in possession of was the defeat of J. G. Blaine, of Maine.

It is somewhat remarkakable that in all their talk about fraud in the past election the Blaine managers, past election the Blaine managers, who are trying to steal the vote of New York, have made no charges of fraud anywhere in the South. The number of ballots printed, of course, is tremend ously larger than the amount voted In St. Louis, for instance, the Démocrats had 600,000 and other parties in all 700,000, making for this one town a total of 1,300,000. It is generally admitted, however, that the vote o St. Louis will not, at the outside, make more than 50,000. Here, then, is a surplus of 26 ballots for each one cast. This makes the total of ballots offered to the people throughout America at this election 200,000,000 It would require 85 freight cars to move this load of paper, whose weight is 1,716,000 pounds. The white paper and printing of the mass has cost $234,000. Pasted end to end there would be paper enough to go entirely around the globe, leaving 19,000 miles to spare for a gigantic double bow knot, which would cover the greater part of the two Americas, or, if one preferred to keep the string in the United States, there would be miles enough to wrap the streamer 36 times around the State of Missouri, and still leave enough over to reach from

Here are facts and figures, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, not usually appended to election returns. The istory of past elections teaches that this vote ot the nation advances from President to President by steps measured in numbers by 10 per cent. The total vote of 1868 was 5,724,654; of 1872, was 6.465,805; of 1876, was 8,412,733; of 1880, was 9,210,970. Add 10 per cent. to this last total, and the estimate for the vote of Tuesday's election will be 10,312,067, an approximate borne out by other calculations and which will not be found far out of the result. A ballot is a piece of paper averaging four inches wide and 101 long. One hundred and fifty ballots will weigh about a pound. Two hundred and fifty ballots laid on each other will maesure about an inch. To prepare these ballots at a reasonable profit costs ninety cents a thousand. If the ballots cast Tuesday were and his night dream so long.
